Coed Housing Plan Revised

Many To Live Off Campus

Heating for NDSU coeds is being completely revised for next year. Many women students will have to go “house-hunting” for living quarters.

Dean Hall will be the freshman dormitory in 1961-62, and Ceres Hall was named the sophomore and transfer dormitory for that period. It will also accommodate as many juniors as possible.

On Apr. 5-6, freshmen who are residents of Ceres Hall this year may make reservations for that year indicating the room and choice of dormitories desired.

Sophomores off campus and juniors may sign a preferential room reservation list for Ceres Hall during April 10-11-12. Accommodations will be made for as many juniors as possible. All other juniors must secure rooms off campus.

All junior girls who will be sophomores in 1961-62 may have apartments, and are required to find their own roommates. All rooms and apartments occupied by women students must be approved by the Office of the Dean of Women.

Before May 15, every junior and senior girl should have had a conference with the Dean and a plan for housing for the school year of 1961-62.

All applications for room reservations must be made in the proper form and signed in the Office of the Dean of Women. All Room assignments are made for the three quarters of the school year. To have a room held, the $10 dormitory deposit must be left on deposit. No refund will be made unless a letter cancelling reservations is postmarked on or before Aug. 1.

In preceding terms cancellation must be made at least 10 days before the end of the quarter or there will be no refund of the $10 deposit. No refund will be made during any quarter except when a girl does not move in because of illness or for some reason which warrants a refund.

Senate Approves Commissions;
Votes to Give AWS $60 Now

by Myrna Erickson

Commissioners were appointed and approved at the student senate meeting on Tuesday night.
The newly appointed commissioners are:

Campus affairs—Kirby Erickson; music and public programs—Kaye Hulsek; athletics—Dave Foley; finances—Mike Saba; and Student Union—Jon D. Johnson.

Commissioners of Inter-Campus affairs and Radio will be announced at a later date.

Marlys Dietrich, two year sentor, presented a committee report on the functions and purpose of Associated Women Students.
Tracy Robson, also in the committee, made a recommendations that student senate give AWS $60. After a discussion on the subject a motion was made to approve the motion. This motion was amended to state that AWS be given $60 this year.

Noted for Service to State

Dr. Hultz Resigns; NDSU President

To Dr. Hultz, the greatest satisfaction has been the direction of the growth and development of NDSU.

He has seen the student body more than double in size and he has seen the continual addition of better trained instructors.

One aspect on increased quality of faculty members, he said, is that there are now more than 80 doctors on the staff while there were only 13 when he became president.

He said he has spent much time in selection of dean for administra­tive duties “because administration of an institution such as this is not a one-man show.”

He also cited the addition of equipment, buildings, paving, and beautification of the campus.

NDSU now has a graduate college qualified to give doctorates.

Owens to Speak at Banquet

Bob Owens, manager of KVOX radio in Moorhead, will be the featured speaker at the annual Board of Publications banquet at the Rex Cafe on Saturday, Mar.
25.

Owens is a 1949 graduate of NDSU. During his years at SU, he founded the Rahlah Club and served as president of Blue Key.

Guests at the banquet will be the present and future staffs of the Bison annual and the Spectrum and the Student News Bureau.

In addition, there will be members of the past and future Board of Publications, publication staff members of Fargo-Moorhead high schools, student senators represented on the Board of Publica­tions and publications faculty adsors.

Each of the three publications will award a scholarship to one of their staff members. The scholar­ships are based on past staff work performed by the student and promise for the future.
Faculty Circulates Petitions

Planners Asked To Move Dorms

by Frank Vyzralek

The present controversy over the location of NDSU's two new dormitories has recently resolved itself into some concrete action. A petition opposing the building of the two residence halls, Burnum Hall and Reed Hall, in the planned location has been placed on the campus planning committee's formation, George A. Severson, chairman of the Campus Planning Committee.

The petition contains 67 faculty signatures. In addition, there are several other copies still in circulation on campus. The total is expected to be around 100 signatures.

The petition states:

HOW TO PICK A PRESIDENT, Faculty Unit Suggested

by Frank Vyzralek

Although the resignation of Dr. Fred S. Haner as president of NDSU came only a week ago, there is already a considerable amount of speculation as to the manner of selection of his successor.

For informational purposes the SPECTRUM presents below a summary of the steps taken when a new president was selected for the University of North Dakota in 1952. This procedure is related from pages 446-446 of "L. G. Geiger's "University of the Northern Plains," published in 1958.

The resignation of President West caused a considerable amount of speculation owing to numerous rumors about several local candidates, some said to be expected to be the presidential candidates.

The Board of Higher Education indicated no intention of considering the faculty in its search for a president. It had never established the practice in similar situations in the other state colleges.

However, the final chapter of the AAUP moved to gain faculty representation on the committee that would select the new president. Arrangement proved advantageous, particularily in evaluating the applicants. The nominees were narrowed down steadily until two and a half months after the faculty committee's formation, George A. Severson was elected to be the new president.

The method of selection described above proved to be an excellent and intelligent means of selecting a University president. It might very well be used as a model in future.

Mildred Hawkins Professor, Textiles & Clothing Classroom attire should be of a sort that contributes to student's poise and self-confidence. That implies that it would be becoming, comfortable, and practical. It should be either tailored or casual and by all sport coats, ties, bikinis, berets, and sandals

No blue jeans without belt loops, no short or no printy boots, no shirts with sleeves but slacks, sis sashes, caps, or caps, no attractive.

That implies that it should be of a sort that contributes to student's poise and self-confidence.

The code of criteria was met with favorable approval when aired by the press and the Board agreed to accept it and a faculty advisory committee.

The arrangement proved to be harmonious. As to the Board's or the faculty's, the test states, "(it was) largely a result of inexperience of most of the members being relatively new to their jobs.

The Board's complete files of applications were turned over to the faculty committee for screening. Additional candidates were suggested by the faculty and other precedents. Arrangement proved advantageous, particularly in evaluating the applicants. The nominees were narrowed down steadily until four and a half months after the faculty committee's formation, George A. Severson was elected to be the new president.

The method of selection described above proved to be an excellent and intelligent means of selecting a University president. It might very well be used as a model in future.

"That the projected location of these dormitories is not compatible with the long-term needs of our institution.

FURTHERMORE, it should be a supplement to the process of the institution change. Plans for the future should be a continuous process of improvement.

We shall view the future with a realization of this petition and action taken on it with great interest.

Head of Dairy Dept. in India to Speak at SU

James Warner, traveling for the National Student Christian Federation, Commission on World Mission, will speak at the United Campus Christian Fellowship, 1130 College St., on Mar. 26 at 6 p.m.

Warner is head of the Department of Dairy Technology at the Allahabad Agricultural Institute, Allahabad, India. In this capacity he assists other church and/or mission groups in their programs of animal husbandry and dairying.

Warner is especially interested in working with staff and student leaders on the local campus in concern for mission and unity in the university community. He will be available for interviews with any students concerned about the mission of the Church in today's world.

Meetings have also been scheduled with members of the Dairy Husbandry department for Saturday, Mar. 25 at 10 a.m. and the Council of Religious Staff on Monday, Mar. 27 at 10 a.m. Individual interviews with Warner may be arranged by contacting the Rev. Robert Siberry at AD 2-6661.

The AWS "Next to New Sale" will be held May 11 in the Ivers Hotel. Women students are again urged to save clothing for this sale. Men's clothing will also be accepted.

THE STRAUSS Co.

Decidedly not. In fact most executive jobs are on the ground. Of course, all officers may apply for pilot and navigator training if they meet the eligibility requirements. There will always be a need for piloted aircraft. And it is foreseeable that in your working lifetime, there will be piloted spacecraft—piloted and navigated by Air Force officers.

But right now, there is also a big future for college-trained Air Force officers on the ground. New and exciting technical jobs are opening up. Important administrative positions must be filled as World War II officers move into retirement.

How can you—a college student—become an Air Force officer? First, there's Air Force ROTC. Then for college graduates, men and women in certain fields, there is Officer Training School. The graduate of its three-month course wins a commission as a second lieutenant. Other ways are the Navigator Training program, and the Air Force Academy.

Some benefits that go with being an Air Force officer. Starting salary plus allowances compare with the average in equivalent civilian jobs. Then there's free medical and dental care, thirty-day vacation, the chance to win graduate degrees at Air Force expense, and liberal retirement provisions.

No, Air Force officers do not need wings to move up. There's plenty doing on the ground. Perhaps you could be one of these young executives in blue. Ask your local Air Force Recruiter or write, Officer Career Information, Dept. SC13, Box 7608, Washington 4, D.C., if you want further information about the navigator training or Officer Training School programs.

Seniors Turn Teachers!

Students to Practice Teach This Spring

There will be 31 NDSU seniors student teaching this quarter in the Fargo-Moorhead area and others throughout North Dakota. Student teachers in home economics for spring quarter are: Karen Evert and Janice Barb at Dickinson. Linda Johnson and Margie Lewis at Casselton and Marjorie Hendrickson in Page. Jan Lockman is at Elgin. Barb Wolfer and Karen Grunhood are in Jamestown. They will end six weeks student teaching. Darlene Dietrich at Fargo CHS, Ul Brackelsberg and Glen Holte are in Dickinson. Kenneth Stone will teach music at Moorhead North JHS and the remainder of the quarter will be given by Rev. Al Anderson.

Installation of new council will be held at LSA at the Sunday morning services at 11:45 a.m. Following supper, program on "Other Religions" will be given by Rev. Al Anderson.

TAKING PART IN A ROUND TABLE DISCUSSION are five representatives of midwest chapters of Alpha Gamma Rho fraternity who attended a midwest province training program for fraternity officers Mar. 18-19 at NDSU. Pictured are John Head, U. of Neb.; Carl Carlson, U. of Minn.; Merle Brackelsberg, NDSU; Dick Meyer, Iowa State U.; H. R. McCulloch, grand-st vice president, Pennsylvania State College. About 45 representatives attended the meeting. The University of Arkansas will host next year's training program.

GINSBACH ELECTED

Ronald Ginsbach, Ag Jr., was elected Regional Vice President of the North Dakota Young Democratic Clubs at the organization state convention in Valley City last week-end.

 Speakers at the convention were Governor William Guy, U. S. Senator Quentin Burdick, former Governor of South Dakota, Ralph Herseth, and State Senator John Has aas, chairman of the North Dakota Democratic Party.

are you in the mood for palm trees waving in the pacific breeze, cool green-blue waves washing up on coral sand beaches? That's the mood of South Pacific which will be presented here this spring as part of Sharivar.

ARE YOU IN THE MOOD FOR PALM TREES WAV...
Intramural dead at NDSU? That's what they tell me.

It seems that if a team is not occupying the top rung of the ladder in the Intramural leagues, or not in contention for the top spot, the enthusiasm begins to diminish in the home stretch. In fact, enthusiasm begins to diminish to such an extent that forfeitures become more plentiful than Planters' peanut skeds.

If this be the case, then the intramural program itself is not at fault, it is the participants that should take a bow.

Remember a program such as this is only as strong as those taking part want it to be.

Perhaps a way of creating more spirit and making the Intramural program more competitive, would be to instigate a playoff in which the winners of the respective leagues at NDSU compete against the champions from UND.

"Cut Throat"

I don't know how many people have attended an intramural meeting here at NDSU, but if not let me explain.

As far as administrative purposes are concerned they do as good a job as expected, and I am not concerned with the proper order and rules of conducting a meeting.

I am concerned with the manner in which they deal with individual matters.

At times you would think they were supporting a "hate" campaign and different individuals were campaigning for president.

If one organization introduces an idea and some other group has personal feelings towards this organization that is introducing the idea, then the proposal hasn't a chance.

The proposal isn't even considered, but the personal feelings are.

What did you say about cut throat?

Perhaps a league commissioner should be elected or appointed to act in the same capacity that any commissioner of organized baseball or football acts.

It is nice to be on the outside looking in.

The NIC tourney is sponsored by Sports Editor Sherry Bassin of the Student Union throughout contest play-offs.

The NDSU teams ranked low out of a field of 6000 entrants in the national regionals. The top four teams are now eligible for the league play-off in the national inter-collegiate bowling finals at Detroit, Mich., Sunday, Mar. 26, and Monday, Mar. 27, in order to qualify for the meet, Baranyk finished ninth out of a field of 6000 entrants in the national regional play-offs.

Women's Recreation Association Bowling League ended with an upset Wednesday, Mar. 14, when the fourth place Kappa Delta team defeated the first place favorites, Independent No. 1, moving them to second place.

The third place team, Dinan Hall, took three games from the Gamma Phi's and moved to first place. The second place favorites, WRA, won one and lost two which dropped them to third.

Karen Loberg, H E Fr, had the high average with 152. Marsha Bergman, AAS Jr., had the high line of 193 and Dixie Gifford, AAS soph, had high series with 258.

Teams Eligible

The top four teams are now eligible for the league play-off in two weeks. Members of the teams are: Dinan Hall-Joe Kjos, Diane Myer, Nancy Carlson, Verona Wergly, Independent No. 1 - Karen Loberg, Karen Stemple, Janice Scour, Nancy Tuskind; WRA - Marsha Bergman, Marjanne Teshen, Phyillis Christman, Myrna Erickson, Kappa Delta-Collette Buhr, Barbara Limke, Jan Workman, Marrian Walla.

NIC Results

Results of the National Inter-collegiate Bowling Tournament that took place Feb. 11 and 18 have been returned to Gordon Teigen, assistant director of Memorial Union.

The NDSU teams ranked low among the 39 teams entered; however, in doubles, Collette Buhr and Marsha Bergman placed 15th out of the 116 entries.

The NIC tournament is sponsored annually by the Association of College Unions for the top twelve bowlers of the organized campus leagues.

One of the questions which was discussed, was that of how many players should constitute a team. It was decided that the maximum number of players should remain at ten, and the minimum number without forfeiting the game should be seven.

Other rules that were agreed upon: once a player is removed from a game, he can not return; after a complete inning, if a team is ahead by ten runs, that team wins automatically.
Kuppich Awarded Wings; Parkhouse Commissioned

Army ROTC Cadet Joseph Kuppich, AAS '87, has been awarded the wings of ROTC Cadet Pilot by Lt. Col. Joseph Mitchell Jr., professor of military science.

Kuppich participated in the Army's ROTC Flight Training program which is conducted at Fargo at Hector Airport. The program consists of 36 hours of ground school and 360 hours of flight instruction, and is open to physically qualified senior Army ROTC Cadets.

In addition to his cadet wings, Kuppich was awarded his private pilot's certificate by the Federal Aviation Authority. Kuppich is the first of nine cadets enrolled this year to complete his flight training.

Lieutenant Parkhouse completes the requirements for his B.S. degree at the end of the quarter at NDSU.

Lieutenant Parkhouse seeks Port Benning, Ga., to begin his six-month tour of active duty.
