SU President Hultz Dies of Heart Ailment

Dr. Fred S. Hultz, president of North Dakota State University of Agriculture and Applied Science died quietly in St. Luke's Hospital in Fargo Monday afternoon, April 17, between 4:30 and 5:00 p.m. due to a heart condition.

Dr. Hultz entered the hospital on March 16 following announcement of his resignation as president of NDSU. He had been president of the university since August 24, 1948 following twenty-five years as a professor of animal husbandry at the University of Wyoming and a long record of service to agriculture.

Assuming the presidency of NDSU brought new challenges to Dr. Hultz. New buildings for the campus were sorely needed, the streets were unpaved, academic departments cried for new equipment. Dr. Hultz was to tell the state legislature early in 1949 that he did not know of a Land-Grant college whose facilities were more "rudimentary" than NDSU.

Meeting the new challenge, Dr. Hultz became the first president of NDSU to address the House Committee on Appropriations in February, 1949. In March NDSU received its largest appropriation thus far and out of it came a new engineering building, a beef and hog barn, library equipment, funds for remodeling and a maintenance building.

Dr. Hultz had in mind a ten-year plan of improvement for the campus.

By 1959 many of his hopes had been fulfilled. Legislative appropriations paid for paving campus streets and brought a new home economics building and library. In 1959 the legislature appropriated funds for the new pharmacy building and agriculture science building now under construction.

This was the years' second year with NDSU. They originated last year as a result of a contest sponsored by Central Committee in cooperation with the Architecture department.

The twins were designed by Richard Moomaw, an architecture student, and also appear on Sharivar pamphlets and folders distributed throughout the state.

A new feature this year is the college information program on Saturday morning in Festival Hall. Student body president Wayne Hamann will welcome the high school students and parents and Howard Blackstead, activities chairman, will MC the program.

On hand to give information to the students will be Dean F. C. Mirgain who will talk on the opportunities for grants, scholarships, and work at NDSU and Burton Brandt will talk on procedures for admission. Dean Russell will also speak on the increasing importance of a college education.

At the close of the meeting there will be four leaders to take students and their parents to any department on campus where they may confer with faculty members.

Behind the scenes on Saturday afternoon will be interviews for Sharivar scholarships. Scholarships with an average value of $60 will be awarded to six high ranking high school students from a group of 18 tomorrow night at South Pacific according to Howard Blackstead. Sororities and fraternities and various campus organizations have contributed toward the scholarships.

In addition to hundreds of displays, special demonstrations and a bowling tournament are scheduled at set times.

"The North Dakota State University Foundation will administer the 'Dr. Fred S. Hultz Memorial Fund' according to Dr. Dean Hasen, acting vice president of North Dakota State University of Agriculture and Applied Science.

Dean Hasen said the North Dakota State University Foundation, was formed in 1959 with an initial gift of $5,000 from the First National Bank and Trust Company of Fargo. Dr. Hultz served as one of the twelve trustees on the Board of Directors for this Foundation, and was intensely interested in its objectives and work.

"The 'Dr. Fred S. Hultz Memorial Fund' will be maintained and utilized for a specific purpose in memory of Dr. Hultz," according to Dean Hasen.

Realizing President Hultz's deep personal interest in public events on our campus, I know he would have wanted the Sharivar Committee to carry out plans for this weekend. With this in mind, all events scheduled for Sharivar will be held.

Twelve Foot Collegians Are Set To Greet 1961 Sharivar Visitors

Welcoming visitors to Sharivar are 4,000 students and staff but besides these warm well wishes are the two 12 foot columns known as Sharon and Sharky.

Anticipating a tremendous weekend these two have been ready to greet the campus visitors. Dan Duerre whose job it has been to get Sharon Sharky in shape for this year's Sharivar has been working faithfully on the weekends when he had progressed, as remarked "The more I do the bigger headaches." It seems the two have been rather reluctant to undergo any changes. Their internal organs, for example, are all "wound up," according to Dan.

Nevertheless, the two convey no signs of their problems and with their new outfits and brightening smiles are ready to greet NDSU guests.

State, City Officials To Dedicate U Drive

State and city officials will be on hand at the President's Luncheon at noon Apr. 22 to honor all who worked on Sharivar. Following the luncheon, the group will proceed to the dedication of U Drive which is to be about 1:45-2:00 p.m. Dean Hazen, acting vice president of U Drive, will officiate.

Welcoming the guests will be Ben Lock, state secretary of state; John Duck, state treasurer; Math Stender, state commissioner of agriculture; Steve Gorman, junior vice president of the Fargo Chamber of Commerce; C. Warner Litten, vice president of the Fargo Chamber of Commerce; Vick DeForest, executive vice president of Fargo Chamber of Commerce; Eddie Stern, chairman of Chamber of Commerce, retail division; Dean Long, Chamber of Commerce advisor, Sharkivar central committee; Mayor Herschel Lambkworth, Fargo City Commissioners, president of Alumni, executive secretary of Alumni, and radio and television personnel will also be present. Fela Ota will be master of ceremonies.

The college had developed academically. In 1960, 79 master's degrees were granted under the fast-growing graduate school. Just five of the five years had been granted in 1948 when he came. Bachelor's degrees numbered 557 compared with 293 in 1948.

By 1960 there were 80 doctors at the staff compared with only 13 in 1948 and staff salaries have increased more than 100 per cent.

In the fall of 1960, NDSU, by a vote of the people of North Dakota became North Dakota State University of Agriculture and Applied Science.

Dr. Hultz deepfelt hopes was fulfilled. Her service to North Dakota and education has been broad. He was a member of the executive committee of the Association of Land-Grant Colleges and Universities from 1953-1955 and chairman of the Council of Presidents in 1955. In 1954 he was elected president of the Council of North Dakota College and University Presidents, and was named to the controlling board of the National Communications Center.

The Spectrum Honors
A Great North Dakotan

The Spectrum Staff joins the University community and all North Dakotans in mourning the death of Robert Franklin "Bud" Klosterman, chairman of Agricultural Biochemistry, representing Russell, Dean of the College of Higher Education to present their said about the dorms. The arguments on the dormitory issue, appeared before the Board of cerning the subject of the dormi- tion, appeared before the Board of action on the dormitory situation the committee stated that they change, the achievements for which President Hultz will gain most press. The student petitions op student delegation read these articles carefully and critiqued. The conclusion, questionnaire will be distributed to all students at an hour to be selected when the greatest number of people would be able to attend this University. Another questionnaire will be dis- tributed to all teaching faculty members so that their opinions may also be obtained. This supported student faculty expression of opinion, the Calendar Committee hopes to be able to prepare recommendations to the University Council and the University Administration will enable NDSU to provide maximum educational and re- search services to the people of North Dakota in the most economical manner.

Should NDSU Adopt A Full Year School Schedule?

by Dr. John Callenbach, Calendar Committee Chair

This article and a succeeding one will print for perusal of students and faculty in order that they may assist the University in developing a University calendar plan that will meet the various needs and responsibilities of our University.

The University calendar must first of all provide the most satisfactory environment for students, both those now attending and those to whom we wish to at- tend the University in future years. Second, the program must be designed to meet the various needs and responsibilities of students and faculty alike in arriving at a calendar that most effec- tively serves the majority and that at the same time does not rob the opportunity to anyone to attend this University. Each year will be made to keep the discussion objective and point out both the pros and cons of the various alternatives and ob- jectives.

It is sincerely requested that both students and faculty read these articles carefully and critiqued. At their conclusion, questionnaire will be distributed to all students at an hour to be selected when the greatest number of people would be able to attend this University. Another questionnaire will be dis- tributed to all teaching faculty members so that their opinions may also be obtained. This supported student faculty expression of opinion, the Calendar Committee hopes to be able to prepare recommendations to the University Council and the University Administration will enable NDSU to provide maximum educational and re- search services to the people of North Dakota in the most economical manner.

Help Build A Fraternity
Sigma Nu Plans Rush

During the time of the building of the Roman Empire prosperous farmers were served by the knowledgeable Greeks. Through their wise individuals of that present civilization assumed leadership and lived side by side with the proud Romans, making a prosperous society inevitable. For far greater reasons than the college fraternity system a Greek system is applied. But it is a fact that the Greek system of the seventh and twenty-first century is a servant of the college group. Today wise men still lead only in a secure and prosperous society.

Those of you who are interested in building a fraternity are asked to get in touch with the men who are chartering one. The men of Sigma Nu's spring rush are chosen by sororities and by competition will begin at 12:30 p.m. Saturday, Apr. 22 at Frazer Dormitory. The awards for the winning teams will be presented at 4:30 p.m. Drill Team Competes

Another activity scheduled for SHARIVAR weekend will be a ROTC drill team competition. Meet on Saturday, Apr. 23 at Fraser Drill Hall; 12:30 p.m. Stockbridge Hall; 12:30 p.m. Sherwood Olson, Room 213; Cheyenne Hall; Jim Sheeley, 802 Kennedy Court; Brian Tucker; Rev. You're a natural wonder in POST-GRAD SLACKS

Any guy after the real goods (no jest, no creen, no gismo) gets the original, authentic natural look in HHS Post-Grad slacks. Lean and tipped to a face-chee-well, there are the slacks other slacks try to look like—but seldom do. Smooth, pleatless front; pre-cuffed bottoms. It's your favorite campus store; in a wide and wonderful selection of washable all-weather fabrics and automatic wash-and-wear Dacron polyester blends . . . $4.97 to $4.99.

Students Urged To Attend Movies

The controversial film "Operation Abolition" will be shown in Festival Hall, Thursday, Apr. 27, at 8 p.m. All NDSU students and faculty are invited to see the film and join in a discussion afterwards.

"Operation Abolition" has been the object of sharp criticism as a slanted comment on communism by colleges, and it has been praised by those who regard its content on truth. Rev. Bob O'Brady and Bob Farrill will lead a discussion of the film's merits following the showing.

A BOBE BY ANY OTHER NAME

As Commencement Day draws near, the question on everyone's lips is: "How did the different disciplines come to be marked by academic robes with hues of different colors?" Everybody—but everybody—is asking it. I mean I haven't been able to walk ten feet on any campus in America without somebody grabbing my elbow and saying, "Hey, Bob, did the different disciplines come to be marked by academic robes with hues of different colors, why?"

This, I must say, is not the usual question asked by colonials who grab my elbow. Usually they say, "Hey, Shorty, got a Marlboro?" And this is right and proper. After all, are they not colonials, and, therefore, the nation's leaders in intelligence and discrimination do demand the tallest in tobacco flavor and smoking pleasure? And does Mastro Stambos deliver a flavor that is uniquely mellow, a selected filter that is easy drawing, a pack that is soft, a box that is hard? You know it!

But I digress. Back to the colored hoods of academic robes. A doctor of philosophy wears blue, a doctor of medicine wears green, a master of arts wears white, a doctor of humanities wears crimson, a master of library science wears lemon yellow. Why? Why, for example, should a master of library science wear lemon yellow?

Well sir, to answer this vexing question, we must go back to March 29, 1844. On that date the first public library in the United States was established by Uriel Sigafoos. All of Mr. Sigafoos's neophytes were of course wildly grateful—all that, except Wrex Toddther.

Mr. Toddther had hated Mr. Sigafoos since 1822 when both men had wooed the beautiful Melanie Zitt and Melanie had chosen Mr. Sigafoos because she was mad for dancing and Mr. Toddther knew all the latest steps, like the Missouri Compromise Mambo, the Shay's Rebellion Schottische, and the James K. Polk Polka, while Mr. Sigafoos, alas, could not dance at all owing to a wound he had received at the Battle of New Orleans. (He was struck by a falling pipeline.)

Consumed with jealousy at the success of Mr. Sigafoos's library, Mr. Toddther resolved to open a competing library. This he did, but he honored not a single patron away from Mr. Sigafoos. "What has Mr. Sigafoos got that I haven't got?" Mr. Toddther kept asking himself; and finally the answer came to him: books.

So Mr. Toddther stocked his library with lots of dandy books and soon he was doing more business than his hated rival. But Mr. Sigafoos struck back. To regain his clientele, he began serving tea free of charge at his library every afternoon. Thereupon, Mr. Toddther, not to be outdone, began serving tea with sugar and cream. Thereupon, Mr. Sigafoos began serving tea with sugar and cream and lemon.

This, of course, clinched the victory for Mr. Toddther because he had the only lemon tree in town—in fact, in the entire state of North Dakota—and since that day lemon yellow has of course been the color on the academic robes of library science.

(Incidentally, the defeated Mr. Sigafoos packed up his library and moved to California where, alas, he failed once more. There were, to be sure, plenty of lemons to serve with the tea as well, alas, there was no cream because the cow was not introduced to California until 1921 by John Wayne.)

Crew Behind The Scenes of ‘South Pacific’

South Pacific is finally on the stage!

After many weeks of rehearsals, the production is now being viewed by the public.

With a show as large as this comes a lot of work. Many NDSU students who have not had their names in headlines for playing leading roles have spent many hours working on South Pacific. No one can realize this until they have been backstage and looked at some of the props; watched students hurry and scurry to keep the play moving smoothly.

“They have a big job back there,” South Pacific Manager Don Bischof says.

The SPECTRUM attempts to show just some of the many problems and jobs that have to be done before the cast of such a production can receive curtain calls.

WHAT ARE THE MANY PROBLEMS running through Don Bischof’s head? No one will really ever know.

ENGINEERING STUDENTS make use of their talents as backstage help when it becomes necessary to repair wires.

Working behind the scenes isn’t the easiest job in the world, Bischof says. It has meant responsibility and work for many students. Several talents are required for the different jobs that have to be done. But it’s fun, too, according to Bischof.

IT’S A LONG WAY UP but lights just have to be adjusted. One isn’t going to find many people in this predicament.

People behind the scenes are busy constantly placing the right props in the right and sometimes the wrong places. The work proves to be most interesting according to some of the crew.

"MUST GET THIS ARRANGED QUICKLY. I sure wish we had more time back here. There is so much to be done."

"NOT EVERYONE CAN CARRY A TREE! Props have to be carried on and off several times during a performance."

Are you a UNITARIAN without knowing it?

Do you believe that religious truth cannot be contrary to truth from any other source?
Do you believe man is capable of self-improvement and is not condemned by "original sin"?
Do you believe that striving to live a wholesome life is more important than accepting religious creeds?
Do you believe in the practical application of universal brotherhood?

Then you are professing Unitarian beliefs.

Many Tasks Needed to be Completed

Students and staff both worked on South Pacific. Many had a job and sometimes the crew wished there had been more people to carry out some of the tasks.

Costumes for the members of the cast had to be made.

Putting the big production into shape was the job of director Bryan Gackle and choreographer Marilyn Ness. They weren't excluded from some of the many problems and headaches that went into the show.

It's what's up front that counts

Up front is FILTER-BLEND and only Winston has it! Rich, golden tobaccos specially selected and specially processed for full flavor in filter smoking.

Music for the production has not been forgotten. Warming up prior to a rehearsal is Bill Ballin.

When the curtain closes for the final time, the success of the production will be determined not only by the part members of the cast played but each and every member of the crew who worked on this show — South Pacific.

Lucky Strike Presents:

Dear Dr. Frood:

Dr. Frood's Thought for the Day: A little learning can be a dangerous thing — especially in a multiple-choice exam.

Dear Dr. Frood: I have been training our college mascot, a goat. He has learned how to open a pack of Luckies, take out a cigarette, light up and smoke. Do you think I can get him on a TV show?

Animal Husbandry Major

Dear Animal: I'm afraid not. To make TV nowadays, you've got to have an act that's really different. After all, there are millions of Lucky smokers.

Dear Dr. Frood: I am a full professor — and yet I stay awake nights worrying about my ability to teach today's bright young college students. They ask questions I can't answer. They write essays I don't understand. They use complicated words that I've never heard before. How can I possibly hope to win the respect of students who are more learned than I am?

Professor

Dear Professor: I always maintain that nothing impresses a troublesome student like the sharp slap of a ruler across his outstretched palm.

Dear Dr. Frood: Could you give a word of advice to a poor girl who, after four years at college, has failed to get herself invited on a single date?

Miss Miserable

Dear Miss: Lack of what?
Once A Blue Key Dream

"South Pacific" Becomes A Reality

In all started last fall when the Blue Key paid the royal for "South Pacific" and took the responsibilities of what was to the biggest production Date history. Many had their Can they do it? This was the big question. Many bridges had to be crossed before this vision could be answered.

The first problem was getting enough people to try out for 30 parts. Did NDSU have enough qualified singers, dancers, and players to fill the bill? There was no need when the tally was announced. The 30 piece, 30 voice ensemble was full, and the select few who were cut were merely a Blue Key dream. Many long hours had been spent making that dream a reality. Last night, tonight and tomorrow night, that dream is coming true. The ending of the dream will come when we help them cross the last bridge and determine: Is "South Pacific" or isn't it a success.

See you there,

Job Interviews

WEDNESDAY, Apr. 25
J. C. PENNEY COMPANY will be represented on campus by the following local store manager, S. J. Moran. The store is seeking contact with students interested in retailing. The company has several training openings in North Dakota and surrounding states. This is an excellent training opportunity with a solid policy of promotion from within the organization. Any interested students should contact the Placement Office and arrange for an appointment with Moran.

THURSDAY, May 11
AGRICULTURE MARKETING SERVICE will again seek a number of graduates to fill openings in the marketing field. Salary will begin at $4,945 and increase after one year of service.

NORTH DAKOTA STATE HIGHWAY DEPARTMENT will not schedule a recruiting visit to our campus this spring. Chief Engineer Charles Shaw has invited students interested in permanent or summer employment opportunities to contact the department to make contact by mail. Applications forms are available in the Placement Office.

MILWAUKEE CITY SERVICE COMMISSION is currently announcing openings for architectural designers, engineers and mechanical engineers. Candidates must pass a medical examination before appointments are final. Interested students should contact the Placement Office for additional information.

A number of students are needed to supervise youth crews ranging in age from 14 to 17 years of age doing agricultural work in Cass County. Applicants should be available to work from June 1 to Aug. 1 and possess an automobile. Supervisors should be able to instruct them approximately $12 per day for their work. Contact the Placement Office for more information.

LCT Presents Comedy "Pygmalion";
Play Lampsos Morailies

"Pygmalion" a comedy by George Bernard Shaw, will be presented Apr. 26-29 at the Little Country Theater, according to T. Chichester, director.

Shaw had a passion for language reforms, among them the phonetic spelling of English. Higgins, played by John Ginaske, takes the flower girl Eliza, played by Lynda Olson, from the gutter and helps her to speak like a lady.

Higgins and Pickering, played by Don Nelson, have a bet going that Higgins can't turn a "squashed cabbage leaf" the flower girl, and pass her off as a Dutchess in six months. Higgins is determined he can.

Eliza's father portrayed by John Nelson, claims himself as one of the underserving poor. His actions epitomize middle class morality.

The overall point of the play, according to Chichester, is the value of language. Speech is a hallmark in present day America. We are in an age of speech. "Pygmalion" is not a treatise on phonetics. The distinction of the comedy lies in the subtle co-operation of intelligent and emotional mind and heart which together with the dialect portray an observation of life and people.

The Broadway hit, "My Fair Lady," was taken from "Pygmalion" and has the same spirit.

"This is a play which I think the campus and community will thoroughly enjoy," Chichester said.

Dietetic Internships Awarded To Home Economic Students

Five NDSU senior food and nutrition majors were awarded internships Apr. 17.

Students receiving their one-year appointments for dietetic internships were: Sharon Albert, Veterans Administration Hospital, Los Angeles; Wilda Bridgewater, St. Mary's, Rochester; Minn. Laverne Holbach, Colorado State Hospital, Pueblo, Col.; Jacqueline Ruth, University of Oregon Medical School, Portland, Ore.; Alice Sorenson, Heinz Veterans Administration Hospital, Chicago, Ill.

The awards were presented at a Dietetic Internship Appointment Tea in the Founders' Room of the Home Economics Building. This day was designated for the senior food and nutrition majors in colleges throughout the United States to receive their appointments.

There are sixty-one hospitals and other institutions in the United States accredited to train dietitians.

Cushman to be At JC Meet

Chairmen of committees working on the Bison-Jaycee track meet have been announced.

The meet, sponsored jointly by the Fargo Junior Chamber of Commerce and the North Dakota State University Athletic Department, will be held May 6, at Dakota Field.

Last year, more than 600 athletes competed in the meet, with one team traveling 1400 miles to enter. A larger turn-out is predicted for this year.

Cliff Cushman, former Grand Forks athlete, who was on the U.S. Olympic team last season, will be an honored guest at the meet, and will conduct several clinics and present a demonstration at the evening session.

General chairman of the meet for the Fargo Jaycees is Curt Peterson, who is employed at Northwestern Bell Telephone Co. Tom Neuberger, NDSU track coach, is manager of the meet.

Viewing Intramurals

Softball play has been virtually at a standstill press over by the weather. This year, the team has indeed been considering the idea of rainy weather. In the past, the sport has indeed been considered as a potential for beginners.

The following is a list of NDSU individual placements in the meet. Neal Jacobson entered six events; Mike Anderson entered five and Helgesen entered three. Helgesen set a record of 9:37 for the two-mile run.

NDSU Student Presents
Music Composition Recital

Ken Stone, AAS sr, will present a music composition recital at 2:30 p.m. in the Student Center Ballroom. The program will include five piano pieces by Gerold Furaus, Carol Lee, Bonnie Nordling, Glenn Schauer and Ken Stone. The five piano pieces will be played by Gerald Furaus, Carol Lee, Bonnie Nordling, Glenn Schauer and Ken Stone. The composition for which Ken will not play all the compositions is "I am not a mediocre pianist and can't play my own compositions as I wish them to be played."

Those playing in the saxophone quartet will be Glen Bowen, Mary Jane Fuhlinger, James Franks and Clinton Munch. The Gold Star Band has planned an arrangement of a dance suite for orchestra which was written by Ken.

At present Ken is finishing an operetta and a musical comedy. He is also rewriting an opera which is his primary concern. Ken is majoring in music and English. He plans to teach after graduation this spring.

Therapists To Sponsor Stuttering Symposium

NDSU Student Speech Therapists' Association will sponsor a stuttering symposium in Festival Hall Apr. 28-29, according to Desmond Bennett, speech instructor. Featured speaker for the two-day symposium will be Drs. James Allen, Robert West, Dean Williams and Joseph Sheehan. All four men are among the top authorities on stuttering.

The symposium will be focused on matters of interest to parents, classroom teachers and speech therapists. The entire program will be of appeal to students interested in gaining a general knowledge about stuttering and should be of special interest to students in the fields of education and psychology.

The newly formed Student Association says that there is a need in this area for a greater understanding of the problem of stuttering.

Dr. Robert West, the first president of the American Speech and Hearing Association and author of several outstanding text books in speech correction, is currently the director of the speech and hearing center at Brooklyn College.

Dr. Allen, living at San Jose, Calif., is the director of the Clinical and Research Program in Stuttering at San Jose State College.

Mr. Sheehan, director of the speech clinic at the University of California, Los Angeles, is a diplomate in Clinical Psychology and a well-known author in the area of stuttering therapy.

Dr. Williams is a member of the American Speech and Hearing Association and is in charge of the Clinical and Research Program in Stuttering at the State University of Iowa.

A registration fee of three dollars covers the cost of either one or both day's attendance. Reservations and program information for the symposium, which is open to the public, may be obtained at the NDSU Speech Clinic in Festival Hall.

President of Wesley College
To Speak at YMCA Meeting

Dr. Philips Moulton, president of Wesley College, Grand Forks, will be the annual meeting speaker for the NDSU YMCA. The meeting is set for Tuesday, Apr. 25, at 6:30 p.m. in the main dining room in Ceres Hall. He will speak on: "The Third Level of Life," Student charges for the banquet are $1.50, non-students $2.00. Reservations may be made through the YMCA office.

In addition to Dr. Moulton's address, two former Y members will be honored. They are: Clarence Wolsted, graduate, NDSU '16 and Dean Memhendahl, graduate, NDSU '19. Both these men have given life long service to the YMCA movement and the things for which the Y stands. Special acknowledgment will be given to outstanding seniors. The program will conclude with the installation of next year officers.
Murray Speaks at "Y" Luncheon

"Shoot for the sky when you choose a new university president," suggested Professor Stanley Murray at the "Y" luncheon Apr. 13.

Some of the points Professor Murray brought up concerning the qualifications of a university president were:

- He should be the best single person who could attract and keep the best faculty possible.
- He should be skillful in the field of public relations.
- He should appreciate the traditions of the university.
- He should understand the problems of research carried on at the university.

WESLEY

Wesley Foundation will meet at 5:30 this Sunday. Installation of officers will be held.

"MAGIC OF FIRE"

The Fargo Safety Council will sponsor a demonstration, the "Magic of Fire," at the Civic Auditorium at 8 p.m. on Monday, Apr. 24. Admission is free. This demonstration will show the characteristics of petroleum products with respect to fire and explosion. The demonstration will be conducted by Alexander Schrader, safety expert with the United States Bureau of Mines.

ISA

Dr. Leo Hertel, chairman of modern languages, will discuss scholarship opportunities available to ISU students. There will be a meeting of the Independent Students Association, Monday, Apr. 24, at 4 p.m. in the Meinecke Lounge of the Memorial Union Building.

Junior students planning to do graduate study are especially invited to attend. Dr. Hertel will emphasize graduate study abroad under the Fulbright program. He is the 1961 campus chairman for Fulbright scholarships.

Dr. Hertel will speak following the ISA business meeting, scheduled for 7:30 p.m.
