North Dakota State University, Fargo, North Dakota

PREPARING PLANS for "Fantasy and Future," NDSU's homecoming theme are Roman Klein and Betty Dahm, co-chairmen.

Students Receive 3M Scholarships

Four North Dakota State University students in the College of Engineering and Architecture were awarded Minnesota Mining and Manufacturing Company scholarships for the coming school year, according to Frank C. Mirgain, Dean of Engineering and NDSU Scholarships Chairman.

A $1,000 scholarship grant from 3M was received by NDSU this summer for undergraduate engineering students as part of the company's program of interest and aid to higher education.

The four recipients receiving the $250 scholarships for the 1962-63 academic year are: Robye Lahlym, EE sr; Harley Horsager, EE sr; William Bakken, ME sr; and David Peach, EE soph.

Lahlum was elected top ranking student in his freshman year, receiving the Tau Beta Pi award. He also won the Phi Kappa Phi scholarship award at NDSU.

Horsager was recently elected president of Tau Beta Pi, honorary engineering society for high ranking students.

Bakken is a member of Pi Tau Sigma, mechanical engineering honorary, as well as Tau Beta Pi.

Peach is a sophomore in electrical engineering who served in the U.S. Navy.

Registration Fees Cause Student Query

Many students have inquired about the high registration fee this quarter. It was brought about in a revision by the Board of Higher Education which went into effect July 1, 1962.

The new system charges residents a flat rate of $80 and non-resident students $130, according to Burton Brandrud, director of records and admissions.

Students may have noticed that instructors are not asking for lab or breakage cards. The new system has all special student fees, except excess hours and music lessons incorporated into a $40 student service fee for undergraduate students and $20 for graduate students, said Brandrud.

He said this could hardly be called a raise in the registration fee, because students do not have to pay special fees. For some students, it may cost more and for some, less, depending on the number of labs the student is taking and the college he is enrolled in.

There is, however, a raise in the non-resident tuition from $50 to $90.

Also in the changes, said Brandrud, is a policy for students dropping out of school the first two weeks to get back 80% of their student service fee.

Graduating seniors will notice a raise in the diploma fee from $7.50 to $10. This change was made by the University.

"Fantasy and Future" Theme of Homecoming

"Fantasy and Future" is the theme for the NDSU Homecoming, October 10-13, according to Roman Klein and Betty Dahm, co-chairmen.

The 1962 events will start with a concert by the Limelights, a folk singing trio, in the Field house at 8:15, Wednesday night. Tickets may be obtained by presenting activity cards at the ticket table in the Union a week in advance.

The Queen's coronation will be held Thursday, October 11, with a Pep Convocation Friday morning and a "Beanie Burning Bonfire" and Snake Dance Friday night.

The football game between the NDSU Bison and Augustana Vikings will be held Saturday, October 13, at 1:30 p.m. on Dacotah field following the Parade in the morning. The Homecoming Dance will be held Saturday night in the Fieldhouse.

The regular Alumni Smorgasbord will be held Friday night in the Elks Club and the Class of '37 reunion luncheon will be held in the Student Union Saturday noon with the Queen and Homecoming dignitaries as guests.

Homecoming visitors can also attend the Saddle and Sirloin's Bar-B-Que in Shepard Arena, Saturday from 11:30 until 1:30 p.m.

Campus Will Play Host To French Trade Team

A French Trade Team, headed by Monsieur Jean Racine, President du Gyndicat General De Fabricants de Semoule De France, will tour the North Dakota State University campus Monday, September 24.

While on the campus they will tour the Grain Products building and the Cereal Technology facilities in particular.

The NDSU Tour will be part of one week tour of the North Dakota Durum Wheat Industry. Other points of interest they will visit will be: the State Mill and Elevator at Grand Forks, the Langdon Experiment Station, the Irrigation Farm at Carrington, and the state Capitol. They will also visit farms and local elevators along the route.

The group tour is being sponsored by the North Dakota Wheat Commission in cooperation with Great Plains Wheat, Inc. and the Foreign Agricultural Service of the USDA.

Tour manager for the group will be Merlind Lannoye, Assistant Administrator of the North Dakota Wheat Commission.

PRESENTING $600 to Dr. H. R. Albrecht to be placed in the United Student Aid Funds, is Oral A. Holm, president of the Fargo Kiwanis Club. The interest from the money will be used for student loans. Watching the presentation is H. Dean Stallings, Kiwanis Scholarship Chairman, and Robert Siberry, Chairman of the Youth Activities.

Local Kiwanis Club Donates $600 To Student Aid Funds

Fargo's Kiwanis Club is the first local organization to join North Dakota State University's efforts to increase loan funds available for students at the university.

Oral A. Holm, President of the Fargo Kiwanis Club, made a formal presentation of $600 to Dr. H. R. Albrecht this week which will be placed with the NDSU student loan funds in the United Student Air Funds Inc.

The club transferred the money from their $1,000 short term loan fund to be used with other NDSU funds by the USA Funds.

The money deposited is invested so each $1,000 is worth $12,500 on deposit as a reserve for loans made by local banks to needy college students.

The USA Funds is a private, non-profit service corporation which endorses low-cost, long-term loans by the local banks. The corporation serves as an intermediary between the student's hometown bank and the university by underwriting loans with funds deposited in the USA Funds reserve.

Lola Hopkins, Pharm. grad, was the first to qualify at NDSU for a student loan under the new USA Funds. Miss Hopkins is working on her Ph.D. degree in pharmaceutical chemistry. The degree will be the first doctorate given by the School of Pharmacy.

Any student is eligible for such a loan from the bank after his freshman year. Students may borrow up to $1,000 a year with a total of $3,000 for each undergraduate or graduate student. Repayments do not begin until four months after graduation and may take up to three years to repay. Parents assume no responsibility in event of default or death, the eight per cent reserve takes care of that.

Holm said the local Kiwanis Club encourages students to apply for loans through their local banks but the remainder of their funds were still available for short-term or emergency loans.

Present with Holm for the presentation of the $600 to Dr. Albrecht were H. Dean Stallings, Kiwanis Scholarship Chairman and Robert Siberry, Youth Activities Chairman.

2 New Dorms Planned; Loan Funds Pending

Plans are underway for construction of two new dormitories. Foundation footings may begin in October if the federal loan is made available, otherwise they will be built next fall, stated Edith Toring, NDSU business manager.

Miss Toring and Joe Lightower, from the architect firm Johnson and Lightower, recently returned from Chicago where they were unsuccessful in speeding up the plan. This would mean construction would have begun immediately.

Plans for new dormitories are the same as Burgum and Reed Halls. Location of new men's residence would be south of Reed Hall adjoining Reed Hall lounge.

Women's residence and dining facilities would be located south and east of the new men's residences.

Total cost of both dormitories and dining facilities is $1,400,000.

Future plans are to use the dining facilities for contract student feeding.

Theta Chi fraternities with what for this the Alpha pie eating blueberry pie had blueberries for the contest that a way happened to used to class they got into the class punching only minor freshmen digtails any nores fel on!

Now that the sororities have met their quota for new pledges, and the fraternities are busy doing the same, it can be said school has officially opened.

With rushing practically over, this writer can fulfill his mission as a social editor without anyone yelling, "dirty rushing."

While on the topic of illegal rushing, we wonder under what category the ATO's feeding program falls. It seems that their cook has disappeared, taken sick or else just got lost this past week. However, the men of ATO are suffering through it with the aid of the Gamma Phis who have taken over cooking duties. Not a bad idea for rush, although this writer is very happy he isn't a rushee having to eat their cooking. Nevertheless, maybe the entertainment the girls could provide would make up for it. Have a bottle of bicarbonate of soda on us, Tau's.

It has been an exciting summer for a lot of men and women of NDSU. The KAT Sorority lost six activities through marriage during the summer months. They and their spouses are Lenora Peipkorn and Bill Weinerth, Patty Baker and Harold Halvorson, Irene Swanson and J. P. Erickson, and former SAE Sweethear Lynn Sher- yak and Dan Anderson.

Three girls left the Alpha Gamma Delta Sorority house to make their home elsewhere. They were Audrey Anderson who said yet to Pete Otte, Sue Knox who married Tom Van Osdel, and Pat Sloan who was wed to Al De LaPointe.

Future marriages are being planned by Bob Haase, TKE, and Andrea Norum; Dwayne King, Sigma Chi, and Mary Kasson, Theta; and Barb Flohr and James Hatlelid from Williston.

New pinnings are: Kathy Cullen, KAT, to Leslie Nesvig, Co-op, and Kathy Hutter, KD, received Mike Farrell's AGR pin.

Hallucination of A Trosh

Diary, September After spending a week of hanging around the Bison Room, hiding my beanie, wearing my most becoming clothes, and looking the guys over, I can form an opinion of what my campus life is going to be like.

First, I am going to join as many activities as I can. That might take a lot of my time, but I want to have fun. I may even have to cut a few classes, but I don't think the prof will miss me. After all, I can always get my roommate's notes and maybe even her homework. (I don't understand Math 120 A anyhow.)

Second, I am going to go home often. I can hardly wait to see all my friends and tell them all about the fun I'm having.

My ultimate goal is to land great dates, especially on those boring week nights. I saw the surpiest guy over at the Union yesterday. (I watched him so long, was late for my English class.) It is so much fun goofing off at the Union. There is nothing I rate more than those goeey people who spend their free time at the Library.

Yesterday in Spanish, I passed notes with the funniest boy. He was telling me all about his pet xolotl that he taught how to go fetch. Isn't that a scream!? I gave him my phone number and hope he uses it soon.

Diary, May
ean's Notes:
I flunked out.

Also at the seemingly honey-moon bound Kappa Delta house, Sally Jo Kaspari accepted Larry Brash's pin, Betty Oveson became engaged to Darrel Pring, TKE, and Kirby Erickson brought Jeanette Bring his ATO pin.

Up in the North-East section of the country, Mike Fair, Sigma Chi, gave his pin to Sandy Wilson from Loring, Maine.

The names of the sorority pledges will not appear in this column due to lack of space, and besides, they will all get their picture in later anyway. Reminds us of an old saying, "A picture is worth a thousand words."

Campus Pranks -- Always In Season

Many of our fraternities and sororities take pride in the great number of trophies they have collected over the years. It seems to be a favorite prank for other groups to swipe them, not just on this campus, but as a nationwide hobby. ACP reports that on a warm day several years ago, a collection of trophies disappeared from a fraternity house at Ohio State University.

Several months later the house received a letter from a Catholic bishop in charge of missions in a Latin-American country, thanking the fraternity for its donation.

"Following your instructions," wrote the bishop, "I have had the trophies melted down, stamped into religious medals and distributed to natives in the hinterlands."

Only then did the brothers realize that they had been taken.

The stimulating art of the party raid dates back to 1899, when 400 pajama-clad University of Wisconsin mailes broke into Ladies Hall and gayly snatched some 200 unmentionables as coeds screamed in girlish delight.

Bowling - Riflery Planned By W R A

Marilyn Ostrem, Women's Recreation Association president, announced the start of riflery and bowling for all women students on campus.

Any four women students may form a team for bowling. Organization meeting for the league will be held at the Student Union, 4:00, Wednesday, September 26. Bring your team and join the league.

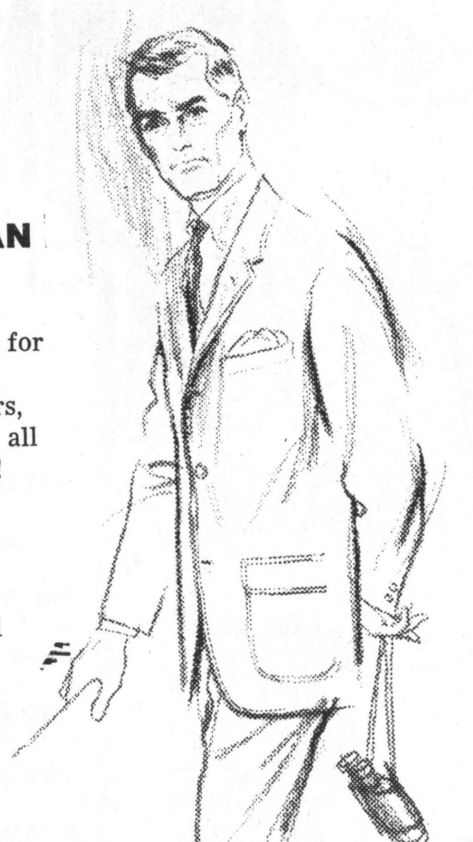

The first meeting for riflery will be held at the Physical Education Building, 4:00, Thursday, September 27. Riflery is open to beginners as well as advanced shooters. Come and learn to shoot.

California Institutet of Technology is undisputed champion in the field of technological warfare. Just ask the Cal Tech senior who found a completely assembled Ford in his bedroom. He had to remove the auto piece by piece. Or the freshman who found every square inch of his room occupied by a giant weather balloon full of water.

Or the millions who viewed the 1959 Rose Bowl via the living room picture tube and saw the University of California card tricks at halftime. The opening stunt was scheduled to be a spectacular CALIFORNIA GOLDEN BEARS. But through a "mysterious twist of fate" it came out a spectacular CAL TECH.

Rebelling against the let's-have-a-queen-for-everything-under-t h e sun craze, several students nominated a nanny goat for prom queen back in the early 1940's.

Horrified campus politicians claimed that the goat was not a girl and, therefore, ineligible. But the goat's supporters produced a veterinarian to attest to her femininity.

ANOTHER YEAR, ANOTHER DOLLAR

With today's entry I begin my ninth year of writing columns in your school newspaper for the makers of Marlboro Cigarettes.

Nine years, I believe you will agree, is a long time. In fact, it took only a little longer than nine years to dig the Suez Canal, and you know what a gigantic undertaking that was! To be sure, the work would have gone more rapidly had the shovel been invented at that time, but, as we all know, the shovel was not invented until 1946 by Walter R. Shovel of Cleveland, Ohio. Before Mr. Shovel's discovery in 1946, all digging was done with sugar tongs—a method unquestionably dainty but hardly what one would call rapid. There were, naturally, many efforts made to speed up digging before Mr. Shovel's breakthrough—notably an attempt in 1912 by the immortal Thomas Alva Edison to dig with the phonograph, but the only thing that happened was that he got his horn full of sand. This so depressed Mr. Edison that he fell into a fit of melancholy from which he did not emerge until two years later when his friend William Wordsworth, the eminent nature poet, cheered him up by imitating a duck for four and a half hours.

But I digress. For nine years, I say, I have been writing this column for the makers of Marlboro Cigarettes, and for nine years they have been paying me money. You are shocked. You think that anyone who has tasted Marlboro's unparalleled flavor, who has enjoyed Marlboro's filter, who has revelled in Marlboro's jolly red and white pack or box should be more than willing to write about Marlboro without a penny's compensation. You are wrong.

Compensation is the very foundation stone of the American Way of Life. Whether you love your work or hate it, our system absolutely requires that you be paid for it. For example, I have a friend named Rex Glebe, a veterinarian by profession, who simply adores to worm dogs. I mean you can call him up and say, "Hey, Rex, let's go bowl a few lines," or "Hey, Rex, let's go flatten some pennies on the railroad tracks," and he will always reply, "No, thanks. I better stay here in case somebody wants a dog wormed." I mean there is not one thing in the whole world you can name that Rex likes better than worming a dog. But even so, Rex always sends a bill for worming your dog because in his wisdom he knows that to do otherwise would be to rend, possibly irreparably, the fabric of democracy.

"I better stay in case somebody wants a dog wormed!"

It's the same with me and Marlboro Cigarettes. I think Marlboro's flavor represents the pinnacle of the tobaccoist's art. I think Marlboro's filter represents the pinnacle of the filter-maker's art. I think Marlboro's pack and box represent the pinnacle of the packager's art. I think Marlboro is a pleasure and a treasure, and I fairly burst with pride that I have been chosen to speak for Marlboro on your campus. All the same, I want my money every week. And the makers of Marlboro understand this full well. They don't like it, but they understand it.

In the columns which follow this opening installment, I will turn the hot white light of truth on the pressing problems of campus life—the many and varied dilemmas which beset the undergraduate—burning questions like "Should Chaucer classrooms be converted to parking garages?" and "Should proctors be given a saliva test?" and "Should foreign exchange students be held for ransom?"

And in these columns, while grappling with the crises that vex campus America, I will make occasional brief mention of Marlboro Cigarettes. If I do not, the makers will not give me any money.

FATHER GRADY, new staff member, discusses policies for the coming year with Dennis Schaan, Newman Club president.

School of Religion Chooses New Name

A second name change took place at NDSU this summer. The Fargo School of Religious Education is now the North Dakota School of Religion.

The new title like that of the University describes more accurately the School's work. Courses in all phases of religion are given. These include Biblical literature, history, theology, philosophy, and sociology.

Any student in the University may take any course without charge. He will receive academic credit toward his degree.

Dr. Roach, the Director, Prof. Cleland and two of our chaplains, Fr. Durkin and Pastor Kvinge are teaching courses this quarter.

Placement Office Job Interviews

Senior and Graduate students contemplating employment during the current academic school year are encouraged to register with the campus Placement Service. Various Industrial and Governmental employers are again scheduled to visit the campus seeking employment interviews with students scheduled for graduation during the year.

The Placement Office will attempt to offer a new service by preparing formal employment credentials for all students requesting this service. The material will not only be useful in seeking immediate employment but will also provide a permanent record to be maintained for future personal reference.

All Senior and Graduate students are urged to contact the Placement Office at their earliest convenience. Our offices are located on the second floor of the Student Memorial Union Building.

Monday, Sept. 24

Solar-Permeant Co. will have interviews with juniors and seniors for a personnel manager. B from 1 to 4 p.m. He will be part time during the semester and full time during the summer.

6 HE Coe Student T

Six home economics majors won't be seen until midterm this quarter. The first student teaching the first fall are Judith Jennings, Elaine Dan, Senior High, Elaine West Fargo, Myrna Anderson, Helen Raney at Dickinson, and Er McCrea at Casselton Belford at Mandan Junior College. Classes started for the fall on September 10 and they will continue through October 19.

Addition Made To St. Paul's Staff

Father Peter W. Grady joined Father William J. Durkin as a staff member at St. Paul's Student Center this fall. This is the first time there have been two resident priests assigned to St. Paul's. Father Durkin has been at the Center since 1950.

Father Grady, former pastor of St. James', Minnewauken, N. D., is also serving St. Mary's, Sheldon, N. D. He will be at St. Paul's Tuesday through Friday each week.

His duties there will include supervision of the Catholic student group and a married students' society. Besides teaching a non-credit course about the Old Testament each quarter, he will teach a credit course on Liturgy. This course will begin winter quarter and will be held in the North Dakota School of Religion.

Father Grady was born and raised at Grand Forks. He attended St. John's University and St. John's Seminary at Collegeville, Minn. During World War II he served with the Army in the European theater. He considers his outstanding accomplishment as

"getting out of the Army."

Father Durkin and Father Grady met while attending St. John's University. Father Durkin was a freshman and Father Grady a sophomore. For a time they stayed in the same dorm.

NOTES

All notices of clubs and organizations must be turned in to the Spectrum office by noon on Monday. They must be typed, double spaced or they will not be acknowledged.

AWS

On Thursday, September 27, AWS will sponsor a tea at 4 p.m. in honor of Mrs. Herbert Albrecht in Meinecke Lounge. All women students are invited to attend and will have the opportunity to meet Mrs. Albrecht.

Track

All men interested in track have been requested to report to Coach Tom Neuberger at the NDSU fieldhouse. He would like to have them take advantage of the nice weather this fall in order to prepare for next spring.

Amateur Radio Society

The Amateur Radio Society will hold its first meeting Wednesday, September 26, at 7:30 p.m. in Conference Room B in the Memorial Union. Anyone interested in amateur radio or the research projects, including balloon launchings, satellite tracking, and moon-bounce, is invited to attend the meeting.

Guidon

There will be a Guidon meeting 7 p.m. Wednesday, September 26 in Meinecke Lounge in the Student Union.

Newman Club

A "back to school-get acquainted" dance will be held Saturday from 8:30 p.m. till 12 in the St. Paul Student Center. The dance is free, sponsored by the Newman Club.

Union Lanes

Freshman and varsity bowling team candidates. . . organization meeting Friday at 4:30 p.m. in the Union Lanes.

4-H

University 4-H Club will meet Sept. 27 at 7:30 p.m. in Morrill Hall 215. All freshmen and old members are welcome.

SLICING MEAT after receiving instructions in the handling and processing of meats and the use of labor saving machines as a part of the Summer Practicum Program for dietetic students at Fitzsimons General Hospital is Carol Schoonover HE sr. She was one of six selected home economics students participating in the Army's four week program of observation and training under the direction of the staff dietitians in the Food Service Division at Fitzsimons.

Three NDSU Co-eds Practice as Dietitians

Three NDSU coeds served dietetic practicums this summer sponsored by the U.S. Army. Carol Schoonover and Sharol Hopwood spent six weeks at Fitzsimons General Hospital in Denver, Colorado. Bonnie Larson spent 4 weeks at Madigan General Hospital, Tacoma, Wash.

Working as assistant dietitians in North Dakota were Sharleen Johnson and Jeanette Wolff. All maintenance of institutional equipment, such as the meat-cutter in

"Is Our University Known as a Godless Place"

"Is our University like others known as a Godless place?" This question was brought out by President H. A. Albrecht, when he participated on a panel Sunday evening at the Lutheran Student Center.

"Here am I—So What?," was the panel topic. Members were: Phil Hetland, physics instructor; Mrs. Paul Sandal, parish worker; Dr. F. Sands, assoc. professor of chemistry, and Dennis Brovold, LSA president.

Dr. Albrecht encouraged all students to attend their religious organizations, saying, "Christianity should fit into every walk of life. Christianity on our university campus should be a product of our own voluntary action."

Whether we go to church or attend our religious organizations is a choice students must make. "Each of us influence others, and the impact we leave on people depends on what you are," stated Mrs. Sandal.

Dr. Sands likened LSA and other religious organizations to the common market. What do you gain for what you put into them? You gain friendships, share ideas, develop spiritually and personally and most important you can keep your mental stability by having a place to find comfort from the rough college schedule.

Mental stability is needed in most colleges because there is constant pressure on the students. College is becoming harder and there are more decisions to be made in and out of the classroom.

Rourke Gallery Furnishes Pictures For YM-YW Lounge

Interested in art? Any student interested in art, buying or just looking, has the opportunity to see a new picture each month in the NDSU YM-YW lounge in the library, according to Mrs. Earl Jennings, secretary.

Paul Allen's "Saturday Afternoon" will be hanging in the Y lounge during September.

According to Mrs. Jennings, a new picture will be brought in each month from the Rourke Gallery in Moorhead. The pictures are for sale either from the YM-YW office or Rourke Gallery.

Now showing at the Rourke Gallery are works by Robert Walton and Fred Helmeke.

Is this the only reason for using Mennen Skin Bracer?

Skin Bracer's rugged, long-lasting aroma is an obvious attribute. But is it everything?

After all, Menthol-Iced Skin Bracer is the after-shave lotion that cools rather than burns. It helps heal shaving nicks and scrapes. Helps prevent blemishes. Conditions your skin.

Aren't these sound, scientific virtues more important than the purely emotional effect Skin Bracer has on women? In that case, buy a bottle. And—have fun.

First in a Series of Ten Foreign Student Says Americans Are In A Headlong Mad Rush

By Kathy McDonald

Each quarter there are more foreign students enrolled at North

Nembhard

Dakota State University. In order to become better acquainted with these students, the Spectrum will interview one foreign student each week.

The first of our foreign students is Horace Nembhard from Kingston, Jamaica. Having obtained a teaching certificate, he taught elementary education for two years at Kingston. After attending the University of Manitoba for two years, he transferred to Moorhead State College where he graduated with a B.S. degree in biology and a mathematics minor.

Knowing the area and having friends in Fargo to influence him, he has chosen to do graduate work at NDSU. He plans to remain about eighteen months.

When asked about the American pace of living he stated that the teen-age marriages in America are an example of the "headlong mad rush" we are in. "As on the crowded sidewalks of the big cities and the highways of America; everyone, including the children, are always hurrying."

He said that the American system of education was "pretty good" as compared to his own. He explained this by saying that in Jamaica the college level of education follows the more specialized British system.

After spending one week on the campus he had the following to say: "Orientation Week for freshmen and transfer students is a very good thing because it gives them an opportunity to get acquainted with the surroundings, their instructors, and other students."

Although it is not one of his hobbies, Horace said that he really enjoys a fast twist once in awhile. He prefers the twist to rock and roll because "there seems to be more sincerity in the twist whereas rock and roll does not have this interest." His favorite pastime is swimming but he dislikes pools because they "resemble a bathtub too much."

1,044 Attend Summer School; Set New Record

The largest summer school session ever recorded was held during the past summer. The all time high of 1,044 was reached when 720 attended the first session and 324, the second.

The college of Arts and Science had the largest enrollment with 366. Other colleges and their enrollments were: Engineering, 78; Home Economics, 56; Agriculture, 48; Chemistry, 35 and Summer Science Institute, 81.

The total enrollment for four workshops held on campus was 523.

st Cass-Clay Alumni Award Received By Jim Schindler

The Cass-Clay county Alumni Association held their annual barbecue Saturday night on the Union Terrace, for 150 guests. Jim Schindler, AAS fr, received the first annual scholarship for that time. Jim was one of fourteen candidates screened for the award based on scholarship, character, potential and extra-curricular activities. He is one of three Schindler brothers that have or are attending NDSU. His oldest brother Dave is leaving for Oxford University in English next month. His brother Dick is a junior at NDSU, a member of the wrestling and Cross Country teams. Jim is a freshman football player. The association hopes to expand their program to give more scholarships for next year.

Annual Tour Of Homes Sponsored By AAUW To Be Held Sept. 22

Saturday, September 22, the America Association of University Women will sponsor their annual Tour of homes in the Fargo-Moorhead area.

Among the ten homes that may be visited are the President's home and the Phi Mu Sorority house on the NDSU campus.

Mrs. Albrecht, a home economist with th help of Kathryn Weesner, chairman of related art, redecorated the president's home last spring.

The Phi Mu house was recently completed and boasts as their highlight, a purple carpeted stairway.

There will be two sets of tours, the first from 1-3 p.m. and the second from 3-5 p.m.

Hostessing in the different homes will be NDSU coeds. The annual tour is a money raising project for the AAUW. Tickets can be obtained from AAUW members.

METAL AND MIGHTY is the framework of the addition to the powerplant behind Minard Hall.

Cross Country Team
Begins '62 Schedule;
10 Varsity Return

Twenty men have reported to cross country coach Tom Neuberger for drills.

Ten of these are freshmen and Neuberger adds that the freshmen talent will "press the varsity hard." The group performed at the halftime of the Concordia game last Saturday in an intrasquad meet. Sunday the squad spent the day at Lake Cormorant near Fargo in a day of instruction which included techniques of running, diet, training, and different kinds of workouts.

Neuberger terms the varsity just about average. "With the loss of Oddvar Helgeson and Hank Mesman it will surprise me if we do as well as we did last year."

The Bison begin a nine meet slate this weekend with the Winnipeg Triangular.

Five States Consider
Tuition Barriers

The boards of higher education in five states, Minnesota, Wisconsin, Iowa and the Dakotas are considering a five-state common market in higher education.

They are thinking about removing or reducing the tuition barriers now erected at state universities against out of state students. This would enable students to pursue a specialty not available in his home state at another state's university without paying an extra fee.

The participating states would settle the tuition account among themselves somewhat as banks settle their mutual indebtedness through a clearing house.

The plan would result first, it is thought in a greater exchange of students, later and more important, it could enable each university to concentrate on its stronger specialties and to build up its basic university curriculum by gradually eliminating specialties it had been covering only marginally as a duty toward the local students.

There are precedents for educational resource sharing. The most successful is the Midwestern regional educational council founded in 1948 by Minnesota and operating a common midwest "commonwealth" would operate.

The southern group has more than 65 colleges in 16 states. It is to provide through a better educational market than the states could provide individually in numerous subjects.

For example: there was no complete nursing in the entire day each of the six states offers a psychiatric specialty, health, pediatrics. Every qualified student associated states.

Dr. Albrecht was a participant in the conference common market and interested in working with Moorhead State

Delay On New Tennis Courts Expected

The delay in construction of NDSU's new tennis courts was explained today by Gerald McCoy, Executive Director of the Alumni Association.

Work on the project is not expected to begin until early next Spring, expected before the academic year.

The firm awarded the contract, according to McCoy, was unable to begin work on the project last Spring because of other completion date obligations. A stiff penalty is assessed the contractor for each day's work beyond the promised date. For this reason, the alumni group did not press the firm to begin work on the court project.

Luymes Appoints Five to SU Athletic Staff

Director of Athletics L. Les Luymes Monday announced five appointments to the North Dakota State University athletic staff.

Appointed to the varsity football staff was Jim Walline who has been a freshman coach at Moorhead College the past year. Walline will be assisting with the varsity football team and will act as a varsity baseball coach in the future.

The freshmen gridders will be coached by a three-man team Luymes said. Willis Kingbury, Dave Gentzkow and Bob Kovich will handle this group. All three of these men have played for the Bison during the past three years.

Roger Shelstad, a 1960 graduate of NDSU and a three letterman in basketball and baseball, has been hired to assist in basketball and as head coach in baseball. He will also assist Bison trainer Tom Neuberger this fall.

All appointments are effective immediately.

State. Saturday against Concordia he raced 85 yards for a touchdown on the opening kickoff. The only shift the Bison coaches would make in the backfield would be left halfback which is now occupied by Captain Ron Erdmann.

"Hal Freeman came through real well for us at the left halfback position and we may start him. He has good speed and is rugged," Danielsen added.

The Bison haven't had an opportunity to scout Montana State but have had several reports on the Bobcat squad. "We know they are decidedly stronger in the backfield over last year. They are supposedly weak in the line and seem to have the same depth problems as we do," Danielsen commented.

The NDSU Bison make their first road trip this weekend when they meet heavily favored Montana State at Great Falls, Montana.

Bison Mentor Bob Danielsen indicated Monday that he may start a nucleus of four sophomores in the backfield against the Bobcats Saturday night.

"I was pleased enough with the play of our sophomores against Concordia to give them a chance Saturday with Montana State."

Danielsen started Frank Hentges at quarterback and Dan Thesing at fullback. Halfback Bruce Airheart earned a starting berth for the opener with Moorhead

Student Booster Club Started By Rahjahs

A new student booster group has been started on campus by the "Rahjah" club. Member for the "Team Makers" costs $1 per student and funds are used for Bison activities.

According to Les Luymes, director of athletics, "I'm extremely gratified by the enthusiasm shown by the student body for this booster organization. Its value will be seen in additional athletic activities. I hope students will continue to support this organization giving their continued interest."

The organization was started Thursday and by Monday had 266 members.

Members of the Team Makers will receive special preferred seating for football and basketball games, membership cards and pins. Throughout the year, they will benefit from other activities to be organized.

Luymes emphasized if every student would contribute $1, it would enable the athletic staff to give 30 tuition scholarships.

"Distinguished Students" Announced By Mirgain

Twenty-six students at North Dakota State University have been selected as "Distinguished Students" in the College of Engineering and Architecture, according to Dean Frank Mirgain.

A new designation by the faculty of the College of Engineering and Architecture, these students have attained an academic average of 3.50 or better. They will be permitted to depart from prescribed courses in their curriculum and substitute other courses which may be more pertinent to their individual professional goals.

Dean Mirgain said the engineering faculty believes that students showing outstanding promise in engineering and architecture should be encouraged to develop leadership and research initiative to better prepare these students for future leadership in the engineering profession.

The first group of "Distinguished Students" named are, Edwin R. Anderson, William Bakken, Raymond S. Barnhardt, Daniel Barthel, John E. Bjornholt, Jerome C. Bosch, Jerry L. Brekhus, William Broste, Harley K. Horsager, James E. Klusman, Robert Korb, Charles R. Masog, Kenneth C. Ness, Gary D. Nord, Orville K. Nyhus, Jerome M. Richter, Donald J. Stetz, Val J.
