State and National Dignitaries To Be Present For Weekend

Vol. LXIII, No. 5 North Dakota State University, Fargo, N. D. Oct. 12, 1962

An added attraction to NDSU's homecoming activities this weekend will be the appearance of government dignitaries from both the state and national level.

State officials will include Governor and Mrs. William L. Guy; Ben Meier, Secretary of State; Math Dahl, Commissioner of Agriculture and Labor; John R. Erickson, State Treasurer; and State Auditor and Mrs. Curtis Olson.

Visitors from the national level include Senator and Mrs. Quentin Burdick; Senator Milton R. Young and Representative and Mrs. Hjalmer C. Nygaard.

Other guests from the local level are Augustana President and Mrs. L. M. Stavig, and Fargo City Commissioners Joan A. Oakey and Earl J. McCannel. Accompanied by his wife and two children will be John Conrad, representing the State Board of Higher Education.

The kick-off for our visitors will begin Saturday morning with a meeting in the office of NDSU President H. R. Albrecht. Following this, they will be driven by members of Blue Key to Island Park for the beginning of the homecoming parade. After observing the parade from the reviewing stand the group will attend a luncheon in Memorial Union.

The above mentioned guests will be sitting in the President's box for the football game at Dacotah field. It is expected that Governor Guy will give an address during half-time ceremonies.

Queen's Banquet

North Dakota State University's Homecoming Queen will be honored at a Queen's Banquet sponsored by the Student Senate and Senior Staff Friday at 6 p.m. in Memorial Union, according to Matilda B. Thompson, Dean of Women.

The banquet is set up to specially honor and introduce the Queen and her attendants.

Dean Thompson said that special silver pieces appropriately engraved for the occasion will be presented to the queen and her attendants.

Other guests invited to the banquet are Mayor Herschel Lashkowitz, Homecoming Co-chairmen, Dean and Mrs. Charles Sevrinson, Dean Matilda Thompson, Student Senate and advisors and the Senior Staff and their advisors and the Homecoming committee.

Queen Marlys

Marlys Dietrich Reigns Over 1962 Homecoming

Last night the 1962 Homecoming Queen, Marlys Dietrich, was crowned before an enthusiastic audience of NDSU students and faculty.

All ten candidates were presented by military escorts before the three finalists performed their talent numbers as they did Tuesday evening for the elimination contest. The three finalists were picked at that time on their appearance in a bathing suit, formal wear and an interview.

Marlys Dietrich performed a song and dance called "I Can't Get No Satisfaction." Judy Highness did an interpret from the "Dance in the Streets" from the West Side Story.

A portion of the "Selfish Giant" was a reading by Nancy Flatt.

Ian Strachan was master of ceremonies and musical selections were offered by Julie Dunkirk and Art Meier.

The Statesmen provided music throughout the ceremonies.

President H. R. Albrecht introduced and crowned Miss Dietrich and Student Body President, Sherwood Bassin presented her with red roses. After Reinhold Schuster serenaded her she was escorted to the throne to strains of the Alma Mater.

Tonight the Queen and her court will attend the Queen's banquet and tomorrow she will be among the first participants in the 73 unit Homecoming parade.

NDSU Homecoming Events Originate With 1919 Coach

Since most of this week's paper is dedicated to Homecoming, the editorial staff thought the readers might be interested in knowing how this event originated on the NDSU campus.

"A recent and very good suggestion made by the Coach and acted upon by the Student Commission was that of holding an annual Homecoming day," reports the Spectrum.

The following week, an article appeared stating that invitations had been sent to all alumni. Plans were made for a banquet to be held after the game and the Homecoming dance following which was the annual Theta Chi all-college dance.

The class of '37 will be honored at this year's affairs. By the time they were seniors at NDAC, homecoming was a real "going affair" from the sounds of the '36-'37 Spectrums.

Preparations were announced in the October 16th edition. "The ultimatum has been sounded," reads the Spectrum, "the day of reckoning has arrived. Stern minded sophomores have risen up in righteous wrath, they're full of school spirit."

"We are planning the biggest and best Homecoming bonfire in the history of the school at the Baby Bison-Sioux football game Friday night, October 30," said a sophomore spokesman.

"According to second termers, headed by James Critchfield, last year's president, a rally for all first year males has been called for 2 p.m. in Festival Hall."

The next week the freshmen served notice on upperclassmen that their participation in homecoming activities would be the "best ever." Besides sending a fine freshman grid team against the Sioux, the first year students were charged with gathering wood for the traditional Homecoming bonfire and with participation in the greased pig contest.

Frank Mumm was faced with the task of providing an all-night watch for the treasury of timber they had gathered to prevent advance burning of the bonfire as happened the year before.

Senior Staff hosted an all-homecoming dinner for the queen, Lennea Frisk, following the football game and preceding the dance. This was a no-date affair at which the UND Homecoming queen and her escort were present.

Approximately 200 Larimor citizens, backers of Bombing Bob Erickson, for whom a Captain day or Larimore day was planned were among the host of alums taking part in the gala celebration October 31.

Robert Saunders was the homecoming chairman that year.

Student Senate Fills Vacancies, Discuss Campus Parking Facilities

Two vacancies on Student Senate were filled Tuesday night after much heated discussion.

Because of the withdrawal of Gary Reddig and Jim Trangsrud from Senate, George Duemeland suggested that the vacancies be filled by new senators.

Harold Korb made a proposal which, in effect, would have placed the two next highest vote receivers in the last one year Senate election into the vacant seats.

Discussion followed the proposal and it was stated by several members that they wanted the positions filled by the candidates who had placed second in the two year race for the Senate seat, not the one year candidates.

After the motion was passed, it was announced that Jay Lucus and Kerry Hawkins would fill the vacant positions.

Another complication caused the resignation of a Senator settled by Bassin at the meeting. Harlynn Bjerke was nominated to fill the position of Assistant Commissioner left by Reddig. Senate passed the nomination.

Jim Olson, Commissioner of Legislative Research asked Senate's approval on several matters. For one, Olson wanted mission to go to different committees to get opinions on the proposed campus traffic court.

"I haven't run into one person who has said 'no' to me," Olson said. "I just have to find a body stupid enough to go through these committees and get approval," said Olson while mentioning on the number of committees he had to get permission for the court.

Questionnaires to Circulate in Classes, Union, Library

To: The student body From: Student Senate On October 23, at 10 a.m. all NDSU students will have the opportunity to express their individual opinions on the eight controversial subjects listed below.

SENATE QUESTIONNAIRE

Would you please fill out this questionnaire with earnest consideration of each question? The NDSU Student Senate would like the student body's opinion on these questions so that we can work in the student's behalf as best we can this coming year. Please circle your choices and answers.

- 1. Freshman - Sophomore - Junior - Senior - Graduate.
2. Male - Female.
3. Greek Affiliation: YES NO
4. Single - Married.
5. Do you live at home while attending NDSU: YES NO
6. Do you own a car: YES NO

OPINIONS

- 1. Circle which hours you would spend in the library if it were open at these times. (You may circle all, some, or none of the choices.) Be honest.
a. Friday 5 - 10:30 b. Saturday 5 - 10:30
c. Sunday 6 - 10:30 d. week nights 10:30 - 12:00
2. Would you enroll in a course in reading and study skills if it were offered on a non-credit basis? YES NO
3. Would you take a course in reading and study skills if it were offered for credit? YES NO
4. Would you rather:
a. Have everyone buy an annual through their activity ticket as in the past for about $6.75.
b. Have everyone buy an annual only if they want one and pay about $12.50 (because of non-guaranteed selling to the publisher).
c. Undecided or have no preference.
5. Do you think Monday night dances should be discontinued?
a. Yes b. No c. Undecided
6. How many weekends have you gone home since classes started this fall?
a. 0 b. 1 c. 2 d. 3 e. 4 f. 5 g. 6 h. 7
7. If and when you go home, what is your major reason for doing so?
a. Can study better. b. Girl (boy) friend
c. Better place to eat. d. Work.
e. Nothing to do here. f. Other.
8. What change would you suggest to encourage students to stay on campus over the weekends. (Please answer on back)

These questionnaires will be delivered to all classrooms, the library and Memorial Union during the specified hour. We would like to ask for your co-operation in discussing each of these topics with your friends so that everyone can be prepared to give an honest opinion on the questionnaire.

Also, the Spectrum editor has promised to try to print the best "Letter to the Editor" on each side of each topic so that everyone is aware of both sides of each question.

The Student Senate asks the faculty to bear with us in this survey and co-operate in distributing these questionnaires at 10 a.m. on the 23rd. They will only take about two minutes to fill out. The department heads' secretaries will send the completed forms to Dean Sevrinson's office.

KEY IDEAS

By Sherry Bassin

Spirit, according to Mr. Webster, is "the thinking motivating part of man."

This motivation Webster refers to is usually ignited as a result of the pride or respect one has for any particular institution, friend or accomplishment.

You may say, "Yes, NDSU motivates me but in a strange way," and at this answer a roar is heard from the hilarity of such a joke.

The irony of this joke fellow NDSUer is that the joke is on you. Not only are you laughing at yourself but you are laughing at what will likely be the key to your future. I hope your future doesn't merit laughing at.

When most students confront themselves with the term spirit, they immediately bring to mind competitive active sport spectaculars. Students immediately visualize the Rose Bowl game, the NCAA basketball play-offs, the world series and such spectacular events.

Granted, spirit is quite high at these times and clean, competitive spirit is always good, if only for the challenge it creates. But, disregard athletics for a moment and stop and ponder the question, why am I attending North Dakota State University? Most will say, "to get an education."

Consequently, you should take a little pride in this institution, not only pride in its athletics, (which some scoff at) but also pride in its educational offerings and scholastic environment in which every student is involved.

You are here to graduate; but to graduate with pride is to graduate with the optimum benefit.

The amount of respect the public holds for NDSU is a direct result of the amount of respect and pride you have for NDSU.

If you feel you have some constructive criticism pertaining to the program of this university, then it is your duty to take the initiative and to exhibit your maturity in offering the constructive criticism where you think it necessary.

I ask you as a fellow NDSU student to appraise your attitude. Perhaps before long you will establish respect and honor for this institution as a friend and because you value the accomplishment to graduate from an institution which you respect.

New Deadline Made For Bison Picture

Have you had your picture taken for the annual? Due to the limited number of students who have had pictures taken, Dan Olson is making an extension on the photography schedule in the Memorial Union.

The $4 pictures will continue on Tuesday and Wednesday, October 16 and 17. The $1 pictures will be taken starting Thursday, October 18. These will continue on October 19, 22, 23, 24 and 25, from noon till 6 p.m., except on Fridays which is from noon till 4 p.m. The schedule will be as follows:

- October 19—A, B, C, D, E
- October 22—F, G, H, I
- October 23—J, K, L, M, N
- October 24—O, P, Q, R, S
- October 25—T, U, V, W, X, Y, Z

If student missed the day on which their name was scheduled last week, they can have their picture taken at any time Olson can take it.

Remember, students who want their picture to appear in the 1963 BISON must have them in by December 1. Active members in sororities or fraternities must have two glossy prints turned in with their group; one for the class section and one for the fraternity and sorority section. All other students must get a picture for the class section.

Persons failing to have their picture taken on campus when the photographer is here will be responsible for turning in a suitable glossy print by December 1.

The Sigma Chi's Derby Day was briefly interrupted last Friday by a truckload of sand.

During the course of the afternoon events, a large truck roared up to the Sigs back yard. While the participants of the games stood staring, five yards of sand were dumped in the yard. Gary King, president of the house, quickly sized up the situation and investigated by asking the truck driver what he had in mind.

It seems the driver has been instructed to deliver the sand in the back yard. The Sigs would appreciate it if the campus funny men would sneak over and steal back the sand some night.

The Kappa Delta Sorority has once more copped honors at the Derby Day festivities. It makes a person wonder if maybe they don't have a file on the event.

What with the terrific expense of materials nowadays it appears the Greeks are having difficult finding wood for their homecoming floats and house decorations.

However, word is out that the Midnight Market has a five finger discount which most fraternities are utilizing to the best of their abilities.

At the Kappa Psi house Bob Breyer pinned Joan Severson from Fessenden and George Gant to me. Rath gave his pin to Mary Ann Musch of Valley City.

Their brother Gerry Raymond is engaged to Sheryl Kramer from East Grand Forks and Mike Stadick is promised to Pauline Nestengen of Minot.

Marriages from the Kappa Psi house are Tom Michaels to Judy Howard from Minot and Shannon Rickert to Clea Enger of Mayville.

Maybe the Kappa Psi's don't realize there are girls on our campus as well as in their hometowns.

Howard Leland from the AGR house announces his pinnings to Marilyn Skarsvold and Don Paulson to Jean Tongen.

Grace Solhjem, Home Economics Senior, is engaged to Bruce Stainbrook, a graduate student in Biochemistry.

The TKE's took red carnations to Darlene Signer KD, in recognition of her wearing Bob Stam's TKE pin.

The men of the Farmers Union Co-op House are proudly announcing their 25th anniversary of their founding on campus.

The AGR House has four new beauties around the house this quarter. They are Dick Seim, Bill Austin, Bill Dunlop and Paul Summers.

Pledge presidents of three sororities on campus are Judi Coleman, Mary Ellen Watson and Janina McCoy from the Gamma Phi's, Thetas' and Kappa's respectively.

A lot of criticism has been voiced concerning the editorializing in the Social Column. Many people don't feel the comment which has been in evidence belongs in that type of column. Thus we will leave out the social tidbits and get down to the meat of an editorial column.

This will be the last week for social news appearing under the masthead, "Over the Back Fence." However, if anyone wishes to announce a pinning, engagement, marriage or any other social news they may look for it to appear in a separate column.

It has been the opinion of this writer that the new type of column we are going to offer will easily replace the "Social Notes". Although every issue won't be devoted to inspiring chuckles from the reader, this type of entertainment will quite often find its way into the column.

Let it always be known that criticism and comments are always appreciated by this writer on the contents of his column.

WHAT TO WEAR TILL THE DOCTOR COMES

Now that you have enrolled and paid your fees and bought your books and found your way around campus and learned to hate your roommate, it is time to turn to the most important aspect of college life. I refer, of course, to clothes.

What does Dame Fashion decree for the coming school year? (Incidentally, Dame Fashion is not, as many people believe, a fictitious character. She was a real Englishwoman who lived in Elizabethan times and, indeed, England is forever in her debt. During the invasion of the Spanish Armada, Dame Fashion—not yet a Dame but a mere, unlettered country lass named Moll Flanders—during the invasion, I say, of the Spanish Armada, this dauntless girl stood on the white cliffs of Dover and turned the tide of battle by rallying the drooping morale of the British fleet with this stirring poem of her own composition:

*Don't be gulluss,
Men of Britain,
Swing your cullass,
We ain't quittin'.
Smash the Spanish,
Sink their boats,
Make 'em vanish,
Like a horse makes oats.
For Good Queen Bess,
Dear sirs, you gotta
Make a mess
Of that Armada.
You won't fail!
Knock 'em flat!
Then we'll drink ale
And stuff like that.*

As a reward for these inspirational verses Queen Elizabeth dubbed her a Dame, made her Poet Laureate, and gave her the Western Hemisphere except Duluth. But this was not the extent of Dame Fashion's service to Queen and country. In 1589 she invented the laying hen, and she was awarded a lifetime pass to Chavez Ravine. But she was not to end her days in glory. In 1591, alas, she was arrested for overtime jousting and imprisoned for thirty years in a butt of malmsey. This later became known as Guy Fawkes Day.)

But I digress. Let us get back to campus fashions. Certain to be the rage again this year is the cardigan (which, curiously enough, was named after Lord Cardigan, who commanded the English fleet against the Spanish Armada. The sweater is only one product of this remarkable Briton's imagination. He also invented the glottal stop, the gerund, and the eyelid, without which winking, as we know it today, would not be possible).

But I digress. The cardigan, I say, will be back, which is, I believe, cause for rejoicing. Why? Because the cardigan has nice big pockets in which to carry your Marlboro Cigarettes—and that, good friends, is ample reason for celebration as all of you will agree who have enjoyed Marlboro's fine, comfortable, mellow flavor and Marlboro's filter. So why don't you slip into your cardigan and hie yourself to your tobacconist for some good Marlboros? They come in soft pack or flip-top box. Cardigans come in pink for girls and blue for boys. © 1962 Max Shulman

Cardigans or pullovers—it's a matter of taste . . . And so is Marlboro a matter of taste—the best taste that can possibly be achieved by experienced growers and blenders—by science, diligence, and tender loving care. Try a pack.

Job Placement

Tuesday, October 16

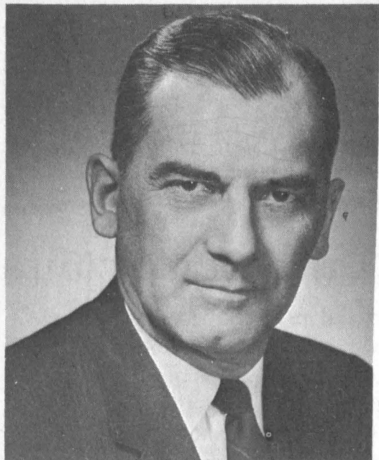

Northern Research Laboratories of Peoria, Illinois, which represents the Department of Agriculture Research Service will send representatives to campus interviewing graduates for assignments in organic, analytical, physical and biochemistry. If interested, please contact the Placement Office immediately to arrange an interviewing schedule.

Senior and Graduate students intending to participate in campus interviewing are urged to complete their credential files through the Placement Office at their earliest convenience.

Freedom Forum Will Feature Authorities On Communism

A Freedom Forum will be presented in Fargo at the Civic Memorial Auditorium on October 20 and 21.

The program, which is sponsored by the National Freedom Education Center, will feature many well known authorities on the subject of Communism. Included in this group are Serafin Menocal, who will speak on "America Through the Eyes of a Cuban"; and John Noble, whose discussion is entitled, "I was a Slave in Soviet Russia." The highpowered Cleon Skousen, author of "The Naked Communist," will climax the program with a talk concerning, "The Strength of Our Position."

Freedom Forums, which are presented on a nationwide basis, are designed, according to the education center, "to develop citizen leadership to safeguard America's freedom and constitutional government."

Tickets will be available at the door at a cost of $1 and will permit admission to both the Saturday and Sunday programs.

Season's First LCT Production Starts Rehearsal

"Tonight We Improve" will be this year's first production by the Little Country Theatre.

Bryan E. Gackle will direct the play which will be held October 31-November 3.

Extra help is needed for work on costumes at the Little Country Theater. Anyone interested is invited to contact Miss Lois Bonnema, instructor of speech and dramatic arts. Working hours can be arranged during the day or evening.

Student Senate Report

Thus, organizations on campus may send one person over to pick up tickets for a block of seats.

Ford Hermanson moved that the time for registration be strictly enforced.

Judy Jenson asked how he proposed to have students register in class groups like they are supposed to do.

Jim Olson said, "Throw the problems in their laps," referring to the Registrar's office.

Senate Advisor Don Schwartz suggested that the Registrar's office is aware of the problem and would welcome a solution to it.

Bassin turned the problem over to the Legislative Research Committee.

Duemeland reported that during a Finance Committee meeting last week the Lincoln Debate Society asked Senate for $642. They were flatly refused and several other figures were proposed by Duemeland and his committee before they settled on $200.

Duemeland said, "We felt that there should be some effort on their part to raise money."

The committee awarded money to several other groups on campus but they will not be approved by Senate until the entire budget is printed in "The Spectrum."

During the course of the meeting Bassin had a comment on the actions of some of the Senators. He said "You were elected to office to help the campus and make it better. If you people want to help, you should, that's why you ran for Senate."

He went on to say, "Once things get organized and I bring my grades up perhaps some of you people will find yourself working harder."

1962 Enrollment Figure Reaches All Time High

The highest enrolled in North Dakota State University's history has been recorded this fall according to Burton Brandrud, director of admissions. The official total for NDSU this fall is 3,810 students.

This was a gain of 229 students over last year's total of 3,581 students on campus which was a record breaker.

The College of Arts and Science registered the largest number of students with 1,310, an increase of 168. The College of Agriculture showed the next largest increase with 583 students compared to last year's 543.

Enrollments of other colleges are: Chemical Technology, 143; Engineering and Architecture, 934; Home Economics, 399 and Pharmacy, 337 of which includes 104 continuation courses.

There are 324 graduates and 134 special students included in the 3,810 total.

Totals for undergraduate classes are: freshmen 1,208 (891 men, 317 women); sophomore 834 (610 men, 224 women); juniors 736 (580 men, 156 women) and seniors 614 (468 men, 127 women).

The official total includes 2,644 men and 962 women registered this fall quarter. There are 584 new students.

Meeting Called

A meeting has been called by Dr. H. R. Albrecht for October 12 in Conference rooms 1, 2 and 3 in Memorial Union.

The purpose of the meeting is to discuss vending service on campus and a long range institutional policy concerning the sale of vending machines. President Albrecht would like to invite presidents of all organizations currently sponsoring vending machines on campus in state owned buildings.

A report of the food and housing policy committee will be discussed at this meeting.

Grad Receives Fellowship To Continue Research at SU

Steven Albrecht, Chem grad, has been awarded a fellowship to continue his graduate work at NDSU this year from the Baroid Division of the National Lead Corporation, Houston, Texas.

Albrecht, is working on his Ph. D. in physical chemistry. He is a graduate of St. Olaf College and last year was a graduate assistant in the College of Chemical Technology at NDSU.

This is the second year the college has had the fellowship. Ludwig Asfald received the fellowship last year. He completed his Master's Degree in mid-September and is now studying for his Ph.D. at Penn State.

The fellowship provides approximately $4000 for fundamental studies on the chemical nature of North Dakota lignite. It is reported that lignite can be used as a combination fertilizer and soil conditioner also, that it is possible to distill off heavy oils which are used as raw materials in other chemical industry. The Baroid Division receives all findings and patents from the research paid for by the fellowship.

North Dakota leads in unmined lignite coal reserve. According to Albrecht, most of western North Dakota is one large bed of lignite coal and production of lignite at the present time is very small.

The Baroid Division is interested in the lignite supply in this state because the company deals mainly in oil drilling muds made from lignite. The muds are used to keep clay from sticking and hardening to the bit while drilling.

Steve is doing research on the surface chemistry of lignite, not a particular use for it.

Albrecht, works forty hours a week for the foundation, attends classes, is married and has a family. "I like it, I'm not restricted in my work at all, and the freedom I have is great," he replied when asked about his work.

The fellowship study will be directed by Dr. Donald Schwartz, professor of chemistry at NDSU.

Dr. Vacik Shares Varied Interests League Bowling - Radiated Rose Seeds

By Mary Breitbach

"I hope to get into radioactive research projects," Dr. James Vacik, chairman of the department of pharmaceutical chemistry, commented. He did similar work at Purdue University before joining the North Dakota State University faculty staff in 1960.

At Purdue, where he obtained his B.S., Masters and Ph.D., he was on the staff as a post doctorate research associate. He did research in the bionucleonics department.

The research involved the application of isotope techniques to living processes. His work was with metabolism and the study of the uptake and distribution of radioactive compounds in the body. One study was of radioactive gold compounds in the body, where they concentrated and in what form.

At NDSU the College of Pharmacy has about five research projects going at one time. "It is a co-operative venture in research," Dr. Vacik said. The staff works together on the projects.

"It's only through research that we advance knowledge. And likewise, we advance and progress," was his reply to the needs of research.

One of Dr. Vacik's duties is to direct the research of graduate students. "I select the problem and guide their thinking. Graduate work requires ability to do research on your own," he said.

With his wife Clara he bowls in a mixed league. Also, the Vacikes bowl on separate teams. They have three children: Deborah, four; Pamella, two and James, nine months.

If the Doctor finds any spare time it is spent working around his home. When he came to Fargo, he bought a new home and is now in the process of adding some finishing touches. His present project involves building a recreation room in the basement. He'll also put in a workshop.

In Dr. Vacik's workshop, one can find a greenhouse. Besides keeping up a garden and flowerbeds, he likes experimenting with flowers.

This winter he will try to start rose plants from seeds. Liking unusual and odd breeds of plants, he'll be planting some radiated seeds.

He commented that radiated seeds grow into all sorts of mutations. For example, the flowers could be stunted, have double instead of single blossoms or grow in odd shapes. "The results are seldom the same," he added.

Dr. Vacik is presently serving on the isotope safety committee. The faculty committee, appointed by President Albrecht, is concerned with the safe handling of radioactive materials on campus.

"It serves to oversee work so that no one group or individual uses it in an unsafe action," he remarked.

Radioactive materials are used by the colleges of Arts and Science, Chemistry, Agriculture, Physics and Pharmacy.

Dr. Vacik is also helping to rewrite the constitution for NDSU.

ROTC Interviews 39 For Branch Selection

The Military Academic Board of NDSU recently interviewed 39 seniors in Advanced Army ROTC for their branch selection. This board is made up of a representative of each college and the Army ROTC Department. It reviews the branch preferences listed by each applicant and interviews him. During the interview, the board determines whether or not his branch selection is in line with his course of study," stated Major Robert M. Carrol, Assistant Professor of Military Science. The board makes recommendations to the Department of Army, based on its findings during the interview, where the individual's choice is related to the needs of the service and the final decision is made.

Delegates Return

George Lund, IE sr, and Leon Mallberg, AAS sr, accompanied by Captain Ferdinand O. Barger, Jr., assistant professor of military science, will return today from the National Association of United States Army Convention in Washington, D.C.

At the convention, which was held October 8-10, they represented the Dakota Company of AUSA, as official delegates.

The group left for Washington, D.C., last Saturday.

Gamma Delta Brings African Missionary Sunday, October 14

Jesse Cornish, noted African trader, will be the guest speaker at Immanuel Lutheran Church at 2 p.m. Sunday, October 14.

Cornish has been traveling into the heart of Africa in search of rare carvings and native art wares for many years. During these expeditions he has made a study of the impact of Missions in the pagan jungles and plains of central Africa.

By direct association he has learned of the Nergos' quest for equality and enlightenment and of the great struggle by the missions to bring peace between the races through Christian understanding.

Eastvold At Convention; Serves In National Office

Darryl Eastvold, Ag soph, one of the national officers, helped conduct sessions at the 35th annual convention of the National Future Farmers of America in Kansas City, Missouri this week. There was an attendance of about 10,000 at the convention.

Darryl served as President of the North Dakota FFA Association in 1960-61 and in October 1961 was elected to the American Farmer Degree, the highest degree given by the national organization. His election to the office of National Vice President from the Central Region the same year was, as he describes it, "a thrill of a lifetime".

Since he was elected, he has been traveling throughout the United States. He has attended state FFA conventions, spoken at agricultural meetings and to groups of business men. He has represented the FFA at numerous meetings and attended local chapter meetings, in carrying out the duties of his office.

A sophomore in agricultural education at NDSU at the time of his election to the office of national vice president, he left college at the end of the fall quarter in 1961. Now that his term of office is ending, Darryl has resumed his college education.

Pall Mall Presents - GIRL WATCHER'S GUIDE

BATON-TWIRLING HIGH-STEPPER

CAMPUS TYPE I

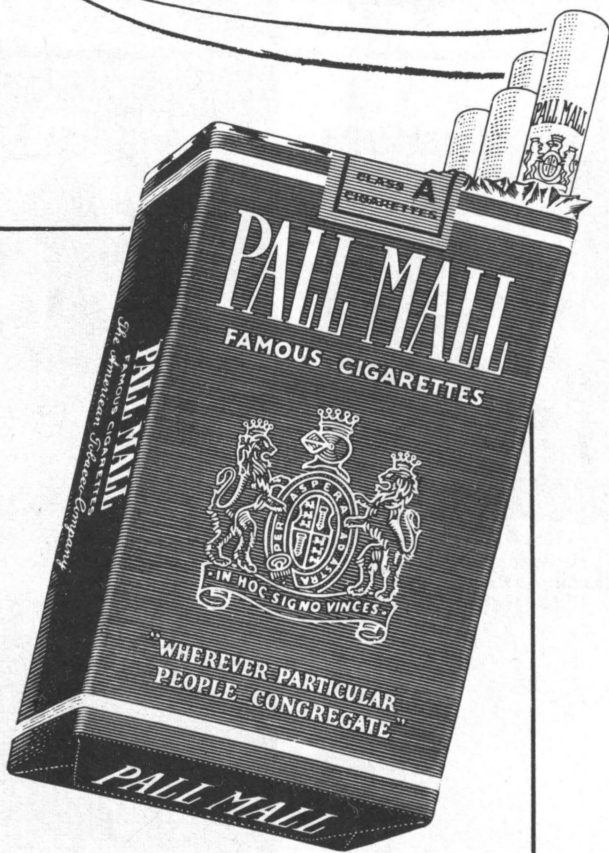

The High-Stepper is an ideal choice for Campus Type #1 for two reasons. First, she is a fairly common species—and second, she is easy to identify.

Just as the bird-watching beginner should concentrate on the Robin, Sparrow and Cardinal before moving on to more exotic species, the girl watching beginner should master the observation and identification of types such as the High-Stepper before progressing to rarer (and usually more difficult to identify) types.

As in all fine arts, the mastery of fundamentals is the key to girl watching success. This mastery of fundamentals is just as important in the art of cigarette making. Taste Pall Mall and see what we mean!

Pall Mall's natural mildness is so good to your taste!

So smooth, so satisfying, so downright smokeable!

Preparations For '62 Homecoming

TALKING OVER WEEK-END PLANS are co-chairman Roman Klein and President H. R. Albrecht. Dr. Albrecht is one of the many persons Klein works with in making preparations for homecoming.

Homecoming, outside of graduation, is probably one of the biggest events of any high school, college or university. Students and alumni look forward to it each year, and hope that it will be bigger and better than the last.

A lot of work and advanced planning go into homecoming and a lot of difficulties arise. Sometimes new ideas to improve homecoming, or to make it more interesting, don't pan out. Sometimes plans have to be changed at the last moment to account for some unknown.

One idea to add color to the parade was to have a live bison lead the parade. Co-chairmen Betty Dahm and Roman Klein tried to obtain a bison from a buffalo farm outside of Fargo. However the farmer said the buffalo were not tame enough and too large to put in a cage.

Parade marshal, Gary Knutson, said he was having a little trouble obtaining cars for the parade. He said due to an accident in a high school homecoming this fall dealers were reluctant to loan out cars.

It might be interesting to note that for the first time the assistant parade marshal had to take complete charge of the parade. This was caused by the absence of Darryl Eastvold, who was scheduled to attend a National FFA convention during homecoming.

It is tradition that the assistant parade marshal be the acting marshal the following year after one year's experience.

This year's parade is supposed to be the biggest, according to Knutson. He said in spite of Moorhead State, Mayville State Teachers, Valley City State Teachers and Wahpeton having homecoming October 13, NDSU has more bands in the parade than ever before.

Where to turn for help was Tracey Robson's question, chairman of the queen's coronation. A change in the queen coronation plans unloaded a new problem on her lap. She was faced with the decoration for the coronation. She finally turned to the architect department for some help. Loyal friends with experience in formal decoration also came to her rescue.

Tracey was also faced with the problem of getting judges to pick the three finalists. She managed to find help thru the communications department.

Will the queen be able to sit with her date? was a question brought up after it was realized that she may have as many as seven escorts during the homecoming activities.

The queen was escorted at the coronation and at convocation. She will be escorted during the parade, the football game, the queen's banquet, the homecoming dance and by her date.

Even the band had trouble preparing for homecoming. The campus is getting too crowded. The band can't find room to rehearse. The favorite spot for the band to practice formations was in the lot now occupied by Burgum hall. Because there is no room to practice the band will perform from the stands.

"All we need is people for the bonfire," said Mike Hornor, assistant chairman in charge. Mike said they were afraid to build the pile early in fear it would be burnt down. He said they weren't sure where they would get the wood.

SORORITIES AND FRATERNITIES must look spic and span for open house Saturday as these co-eds go through the motions of cleaning their sorority house. Open house will be from 3-5 on Saturday.

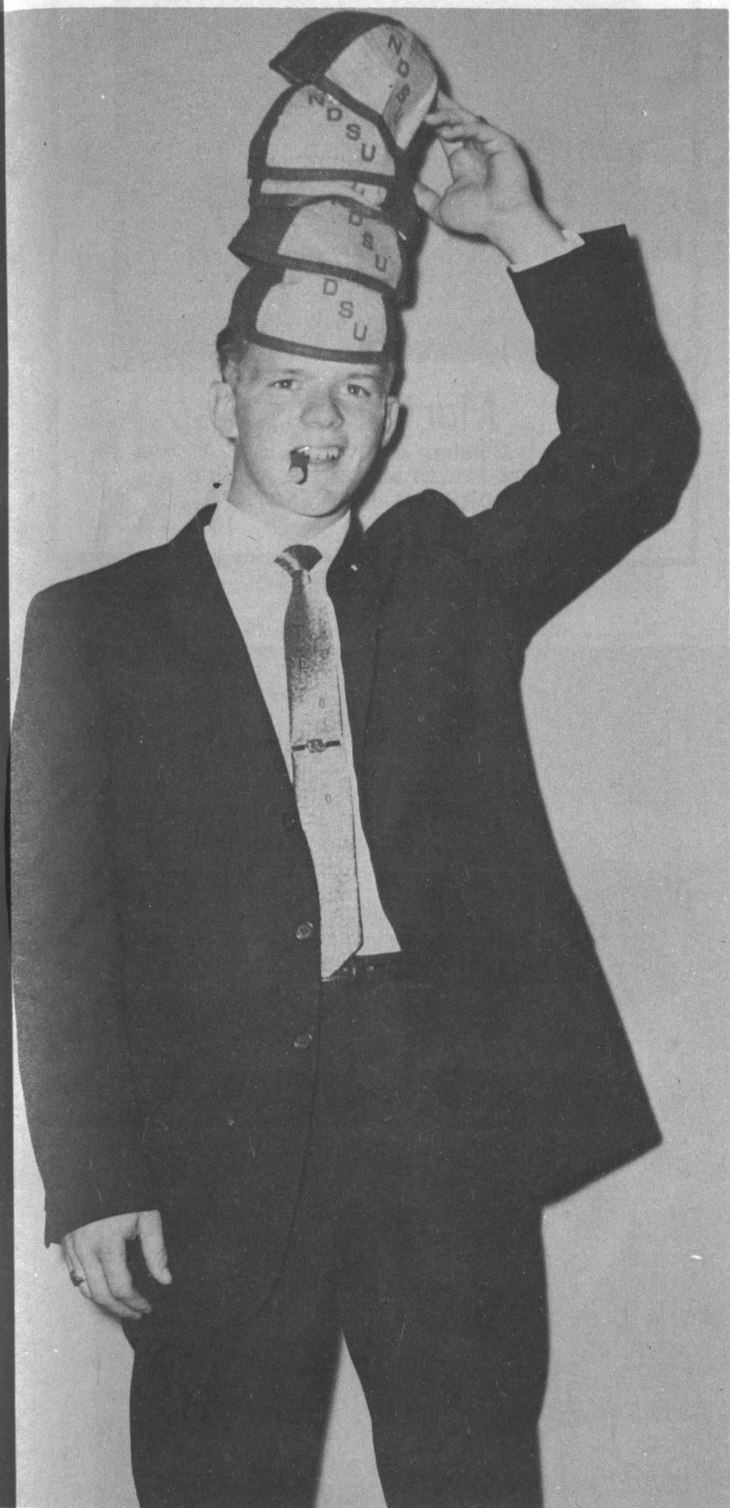

CLEANING OUT THE PIT are members of Saddle and Sirloin as part of the preparation for their annual homecoming barbecue. Club members will stand guard all night Friday while the meat is being cooked.

KEEP YOUR EYE OPEN FOR THIS FLOAT in the parade. Fraternities, sororities and other organizations worked day and night the past week preparing their floats for Saturday's parade.

"JUST CAN'T WAIT TO BURN THESE THINGS," says freshman Owen Branen. It seems he has made quite a collection of beanies and is fired up to burn them Friday night. Freshman are encouraged to throw their beanies in the bonfire as a symbol of becoming part of the campus.

WISH YOU COULD DRIVE THIS CAR? Parade marshal, Gary Knutson, talks with Overvold jr. at Overvold motors about the use of a car for the homecoming parade.

SAVING LEG WORK co-chairman, Betty Dahm, talks over some last minute details. Betty found the telephone a most important device in working out plans for the "big event".

Taxation Study Now Complete

A comparative study of taxation in the five northern plains states has been completed by Dr. Wayland D. Gardner, assistant professor of economics.

Dr. Gardner's report "State and Local Taxes in the Northern Plains," shows the similarities and differences of the taxation systems of North Dakota, South Dakota, Nebraska, Wyoming and Montana. The result of this study showed many interesting features: (1) All five states operate on a somewhat different tax system. (2) Only three of the states have sales tax. (3) Only two possess personal income tax. (4) One state has neither personal or sales tax. (5) North Dakota has both sales and personal tax.

Dr. Gardner stated "All of these states, with basically the same economic background, are looking for new means of taxation. By studying each others systems, they can arrive at solutions to their own personal taxing problems."

Chemistry Courses Will Be Taught In Fargo, Minot

Thirty-eight high school teachers have registered for special chemistry courses from NDSU this year. The courses are sponsored by NDSU and the National Science Foundation as a special Saturday in-service institute in chemistry.

The costs of the program will be paid for by the National Science Foundation under a grant to NDSU.

Classes will be held once every three weeks, the last class being in late April or early May.

Two chemistry courses will be taught: "Fundamentals of Chemistry" and "Special Problems in Chemistry".

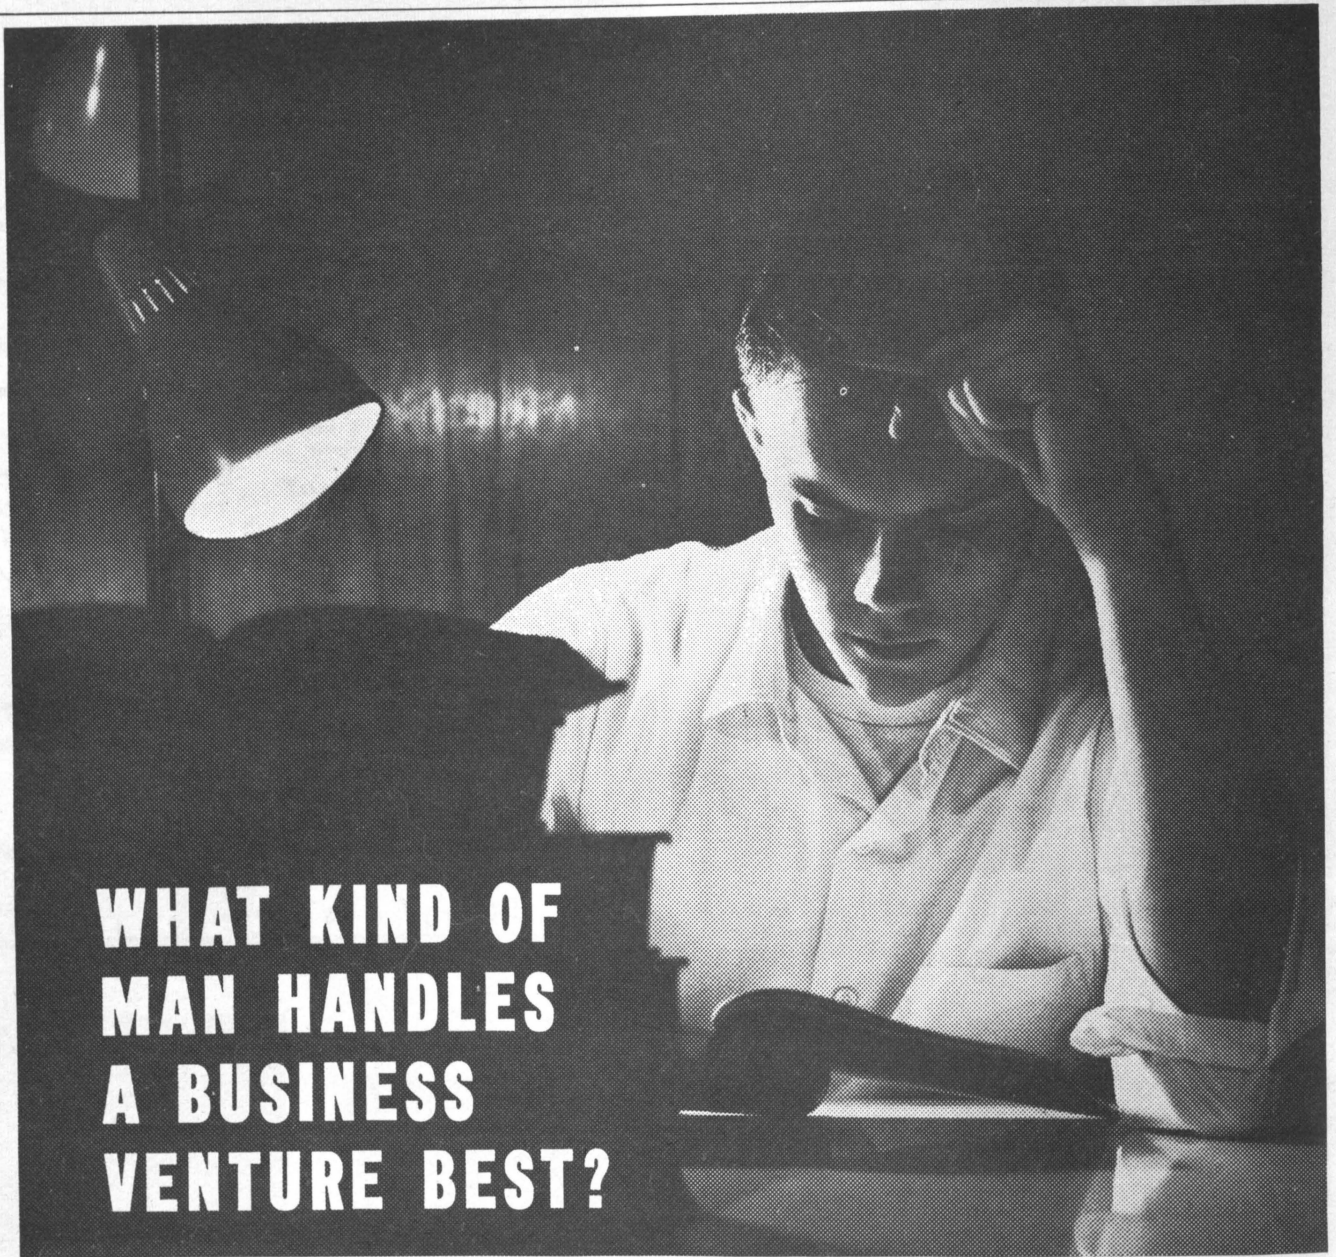

The advanced class will begin on October 27 at Fargo and Minot. Dr. Donald Schwartz will teach the Fargo classes in which sixteen people are enrolled and Dr. Joel Broberg will teach the Minot classes for twenty-two people.

Those participating will receive three quarter hours of either graduate or undergraduate credit. The topics of electronic and nuclear structures, bonding, acid-base theory and a brief survey of organic chemistry will be emphasized.

"Fundamentals of Chemistry" will be taught but these classes have no definite date set according to Dr. Broberg.

The teachers enrolled will receive five quarter hours of undergraduate credit for eight six-hour meetings plus a two-day meeting on the NDSU campus. Teachers will review inorganic chemistry with emphasis on the recent concepts.

WHAT KIND OF MAN HANDLES A BUSINESS VENTURE BEST?

A midwestern college audience recently heard this answer in a talk by A.T. & T. Board Chairman, Frederick R. Kappel

"To us this is an important question because we hire nearly 3000 college graduates yearly. To get an answer we went to our own files and examined the records of nearly 17,000 people. We checked each man's comparative success against what he achieved in college.

"As a group, the scholars won handily. Of the men who stood among the top third in salary for their level of experience, more than half were also in the top third of their college class. Only a quarter were in the bottom third.

"And contrary to age-old beliefs, extracurricular activities proved a lesser indicator unless the individual had an outstanding achievement. Mere 'joining' was not enough.

"The study indicates, at least as far as the Bell System goes, that there's little opportunity for college students who practice 'diplomaship'—the belief that a diploma automatically leads to job success. Such thinking will not make telephone service what we know it can be.

"The men we want are men with intelligence plus those other attributes that give you the feel, the sense that they will make things move and move well—men who want to excel and are determined to work at it.

"Nothing short of excellence will do."

Veterinary Building Nearing Completion

By Ron Ginsbach

A $125,000 remodeling and addition program to the Veterinary Science Building, the first since 1952, is nearing completion.

The new addition is for aiding in the diagnostic work of the veterinary science department. It includes the remodeling of the south side of first floor and the building of approximately 4,500 square feet of additional space. The remodeling and the addition will be paid for by an appropriation by the last legislature to improve the facilities of the diagnostic services.

"The improvements being made will make it much easier and nicer to accomplish the work as well as being more sanitary, and will enable a further and more complete diagnosis of larger animals," stated Dr. F. M. Bolin, professor of Veterinary Science.

The former classroom, Van Es 105 is being remade into the diagnostic laboratory. The incinerator is being enlarged as well as the refrigerator unit.

The additional space being built will have several isolation-holding pens, an operating room, offices and a feed storage room. The walls will be covered with a glazed tile which will aid in disinfecting and the floor will be built so that animals will not slip and fall.

"The remodeling and the new addition will provide basically the same amount of space, but will be much more convenient. There are times, under the present conditions, when a staff member has to go up and down the two flights of stairs as often as 15 times a day in carrying out his work," stated Dr. Bolin.

"These improvements will aid us in performing post-mortems on animals and will allow us to retain cultures and specimens for further study. Perhaps the most important improvement is the large, walk-in refrigerator. In setting up the diagnosis, we must have the animal and sometimes must use animal inoculation to check for contagious diseases," he added.

The final disposition of the old diagnostic laboratory on third floor has not yet been determined.

Library Vital Asset To Students; Promoter of Various Services

Where do students go in their free hours between and after classes? Many have found the library is an ideal "second home" and make it a habit to study there.

Besides the volumes and volumes of books in the NDSU library, it accommodates many things which are vital to the functioning of campus life. For example, the North Dakota Society for Regional Studies Research organization is located on the second floor. It is sponsored jointly by the library and the college of Applied Arts and Sciences. They conduct various research programs in the field of sociology and the humanities within our state.

The circulation desk is also on second floor adjacent to the cataloging and ordering department. Here one can find 6000-7000 books a year being placed on the library shelves. Another staggering fact is that over 1650 periodicals are subscribed to by the NDSU library annually.

Because the library is a government document disposition center, the library receives every publication the federal government distributes, Keith Warne, one of the 11 full time employees, does nothing but check in and catalog these publications.

Although there are various class and study rooms throughout the library the main one is on first floor, where this quarter there are 16 sections of library science 121 being taught, with each of them having between 30-40 students.

The student lounge is a popular place. Situated at the east end of first floor, this room has comfortable accommodations for relaxing, studying or listening to the stereo set which was a new investment last year.

The records for this set were purchased with the money received from the concession machines located in the lobby. Thinking they were playing a practical joke several students unplugged the machine which keeps the ice cream bars frozen. The result was a very gooey confection and many unappreciative librarians. Money from these machines has also been used to reupholster the furniture in the lobby.

The Science Reading room is the predominating study center on first floor. It houses the architecture, engineering and reserve books.

Reserve books and periodicals are checked out at the reserve desk for a two hour period. Many students feel that this is such an insignificantly short time, they needn't fill out the checkout slips. But this, according to Mrs. Carolyn Bach, is a mistaken idea, as all of these books are in great demand and it is easier to keep account of them in the foregoing manner. This is why instructors have placed them on reserve.

Many students complain of the closeness of the air in the Science Reading room, which caused one of the students working there to comment that the "only real cool place to study was back in the stacks lying down on the floor." Although the situation isn't this serious Mrs. Bach stated that if only the students in architecture, engineering, and those using the reserve books would study in the Science Reading room, the room would be a lot less stuffy.

The library employs student help in addition to its full time employees. This fall 14 students are on the payroll, working from 8-20 hours a week.

Is some of this information new to you? Perhaps then you should think about visiting the library and becoming better acquainted with the storehouse of knowledge instead of going over there to look for a date for weekend festivities.

'Know What You Represent' Dr. Heimark Challenges

"What is the Christian point of view on ethics and personal conduct?" This was answered by Dr. Theodore Heimark, department of economics, Concordia College, when he spoke Sunday evening at the Lutheran Student Center.

"A Christian ought to think clearly, be well informed and have a sense of consciousness. He should be aware of the law and not be caught in stupidity and he should avoid the appearance of doing evil," stated Dr. Heimark. "What do you mean by avoiding the appearance of evil?" asked a challenger.

Heimark answered by saying "Christians ought not to impeach their appearance to society. They should be models for society." This is an example of what can happen when they aren't, he added.

Men's careers are ruined because they are caught in a web of stupidity and society conflict. Recently, a man received a gift of money, this gift was accepted innocently.

A short time later, this same man was caught in the limelight of publicity which said he had accepted the gift as a bribe. Whether his actions were right or wrong in accepting the money, his reputation was ruined. His family refused to suffer from the stigma of ruined reputation and his profession was lost.

Dr. Heimark pointed out that you abide by the law and will not be caught in a conflict society.

"Make sure you know the facts of an organization before you accept a position of trust or a board member. Remember it is not only direct action, carelessness and stupidity that can lead you to the appearance of evil," concluded Dr. Heimark.

Livestock Judging

The senior livestock judging team and the meats judging team from the NDSU department of animal husbandry have departed for intercollegiate judging contests at Kansas City, Missouri, and Kansas City, Kansas.

Members of the senior livestock judging team entered in the American Royal Livestock Exposition, Kansas City, Missouri, are: Norman Bakkegard, Vernon Boeshans, Paul Martin, Ray Meyer, John Oster, Jan Peterson and John Topp, all ag seniors. Merle Light, associate professor of animal husbandry, is the team coach.

The senior judging team left for Kansas City, October 8, and will return October 15. They will compete in a wool judging contest October 12. This is the first time an NDSU team has entered the wool judging. In the stock show October 13, the team will judge classes of sheep, cattle, swine, and quarter horses.

Meat Judging

Selection of a four member meats judging team to represent NDSU at the American Royal Meats judging contest has been announced by Dr. Verlin K. Johnson, team coach.

Team members are Howard Leland, Glenn McCrory, Harvey Peterson and Larry Corah, all Ag. juniors.

The team left Wednesday morning to start a series of judging workouts before the October 16 contest in Kansas City. Workouts include one at South Dakota State College in Brookings where the team will go against a team coached by Kenneth Knight, a 1962 graduate of NDSU. Other stops planned are at Sioux Falls, South Dakota, Omaha, Lincoln, and Fremont, Nebraska.

The intercollegiate contest, sponsored by the National Livestock and Meat Board, consists of grading beef, lamb and pork carcasses as well as wholesale cuts and a class of live animals.

There will be between 17 and 20 teams participating in the contest.

Receipts Due Today

Tickets and receipts from Homecoming ticket sales are to be turned in at conference room A in Memorial Union between the hours of 3 and 5 p.m. on Friday afternoon. To be eligible for the ticket sales trophy, the tickets must be turned in by the participating fraternities at this time.

Bison To Face Augustana In Homecoming Duel

The Vikings of Augustana invade NDSU's Dacotah Field tomorrow afternoon for the 1:30 Homecoming duel with the Bison in the Herd's third North Central Conference tilt.

Viking coach Jim Malmquist, in his first year at Auggie, has comprised a respectable 2-2 record thus far this fall. The biggest of these victories came over the University of North Dakota Sioux in a North Central Conference opener two weeks ago. They beat the Sioux on a muddy field 7-0. Saturday's loss to title contender

In his comments on the Auggie-Jack game, Malmquist said, "The game was a little closer than the score (28-7) might indicate. We made some costly errors and bad mental mistakes. Our biggest problem is that we are doing the same things wrong now that we did at the start of the year. We're not poised or sure of ourselves yet."

Tomorrow marks the 15th time the two schools have tangled. The Vikings lead the contests 8 wins to 6 for the Bison.

Harriers Take 3 and 5 In Bemidji Track Meet

North Dakota State's Cross Country teams scored third and fifth place in a nine team field at the Bemidji Invitational Meet last Saturday.

The Baby Bison took the third place berth with freshman Roger Grooters, Turtle Lake, N. D., taking a fifth place post. Junior Chuck Offerdahl of Mahanomen, Minn., was fourth for the Bison.

Freshmen Jim Svobony of Fargo, and B. J. Bertram of Barnesville, Minn., scored tenth and thirteenth respectively.

Manitoba was favored and came through with the victory as predicted. They were followed by Mankato State, Bison Frosh, Manitoba B team, Bison varsity, University of North Dakota, Bemidji, Concordia, and Mayville Teachers finishing in that order.

Sixty runner logged over the 3.3 mile hilly course.

Remember, the 5th Annual Bison Cross Country Meet will be held tomorrow morning at Mikkelsen Field in Fargo. NDSU and Fargo Central are the defending champions. The high school run of one and eight-tenths miles will begin at 10:30 a.m. The collegese will traverse a three mile course immediately after the high schools are finished.

Bentson Looking For Large Turn Out Has Optimism For Well Balanced Team

By Tom Beyer

Coach Chuck Bentson says that he has a real eager crew of varsity basketball players working out on the track at Dacotah field this fall in preparation for the coming hard court season.

"The boys have a real fine initial attitude and should be in fine shape when formal indoor workouts begin."

Bentson stated that there should be a lot larger number of turnouts this year which accounts for his high optimism toward the fact that the Bison will have a well balanced team and a lot of depth.

One of the guard spots is pretty much secured for junior All-Conference guard Ron McLeod. The fight will be on for the other backcourt spot with senior Mike Anderson and sophomores Bob Tuchsherer, Lee Grim and Dave Lee in an all-out tussle for the other back court starting berth.

"We must improve our rebounding," stated Bentson in his discussion of the team's former weaknesses. Larry Johnson, a real comer toward the latter part of his sophomore year, could be the answer. A newcomer for the Bison finds John ("Big John") Leonberger coming to NDSU from the University of North Dakota

Don Smutzler and Verlin Anderson, both up from last year's Bison frosh squad, add more prestige to a talent laden front line.

The key to the success of the Bison this year could lie in the showing of the much bespectacled Langen brothers, Wayne and Lin-don, who have the front court ability to make the Bison a real conference contender. "Jake" (Neal Jacobson), with three years of college ball under his belt, should do a good job for us at forward this year also," stated

Bentson. "We're probably playing the toughest schedule in history," stated, "but most of it come December before we open conference play against Augustana Sioux Falls the 4th of January

Intramural Mutterings

By Joe Schneider

The Intramural Board, in accordance with their attendance regulation, did not allow the YM-CA touch football or bowling teams to compete during the past week.

The rules of the Board state that an organization participating in a sport event under the jurisdiction must attend every Monday afternoon meeting while playing that sport.

Because the 'Y' team did not have a representative at the meeting they forfeited both their football and bowling games last week.

Gordy Teigen, assistant director of the Memorail Union, who is in charge of bowling, announced that the leagues are now full. The three vacancies from last week have been filled by Reed Hall, the Newman Club and Student Body 2. Erv Kaiser, intramural director, made the suggestion that the representatives start thinking about their volleyball teams so they are ready to start as soon as touch football is over around the 24th or 25th of this month.

A plan to shift the football games ahead was mentioned by Kaiser. The reason for this is to speed up the playoffs so that they will be done before cold weather sets in. The disadvantage of this move rests on the TKE 1 team who will be forced to play three games the last week.

The standings so far in football are:

| Bracket 1 | | Bracket 2 | |
|-------------|-----|-----------|-----|
| AGR | 0-3 | AIA | 0-3 |
| ATO | 2-1 | Churchill | 0-2 |
| Co-op | 3-0 | SAE 2 | 1-2 |
| SAE 1 | 2-0 | Sigs | 2-2 |
| TKE | 2-0 | Theta Chi | 2-0 |
| SPD | 1-1 | YMCA | 1-2 |
| Theta Chi 2 | 1-2 | Kappa Psi | 3-0 |

THE ACTION WAS FLYING high during intramural action Tuesday afternoon. Bill Haas, end for the undefeated Theta Chi's grabs the pass.

Coach Danielsen Pleased With Squad's Showing Against SCI Saturday Night

Head Coach Bob Danielsen was pleased with his squad's showing against State College of Iowa Saturday night.

"I was happy with our performance at Cedar Falls. We played very good football the first half. If we had stuck with our straight attack we should have had at least two touchdowns."

SCI won the toss and elected to receive. The return went to the Panther 22. Dan Boals, who many observers claim is one of the best fullbacks ever in the North Central Conference, then romped around right end 78 yards for a touchdown. Boals' kick for the extra point failed.

End Chuck Bartels returned the Panther kick to the Bison 38. Dan Thesing went up the middle for 10 yards. Then aerials from Sophomore quarterback Pierre DuCharme to end Joe Anderson and halfback Bruce Airheart finally found the ball resting on the five yard line. The Bison drive was stymied there and SCI took over on downs.

SCI moved to the 21 and punted. The Bison could go nowhere on 35. On the next play, halfback Dick Thompson went around left end for the third Panther tally. Boals kick was good and that left the score at 20-0. The last two Panther tallies were on a 3 yard plunge off tackle and an intercepted Ducharme aerial that sent Panther Rich Oliphart 76 yards for the score. Danielsen lauded the play of the Bison ends, Jim Driscoll Joe Anderson and Chuck Bartels. "They covered their receivers well and were getting down field quickly." The Panthers were able to complete only 3 of 12 passes against NDSU.

The Bison for the first time this year did not fumble. The Panthers fumbled 3 times, due in part to the good rush put on by the State line. Panther fullback Dan Boals rushed 190 yards in his quest of a new SCI all-time rushing mark. Kenwood Carr led the Bison rushers 51 yards in 11 attempts. Sophomore Lynn Marr headed the pass receivers with 23 yards in 3 catches. DuCharme connected on 7 of 14 aerials for 42 yards. Again the weather seemed to jinx the Bison as this was the fourth game in five contests played in the rain.

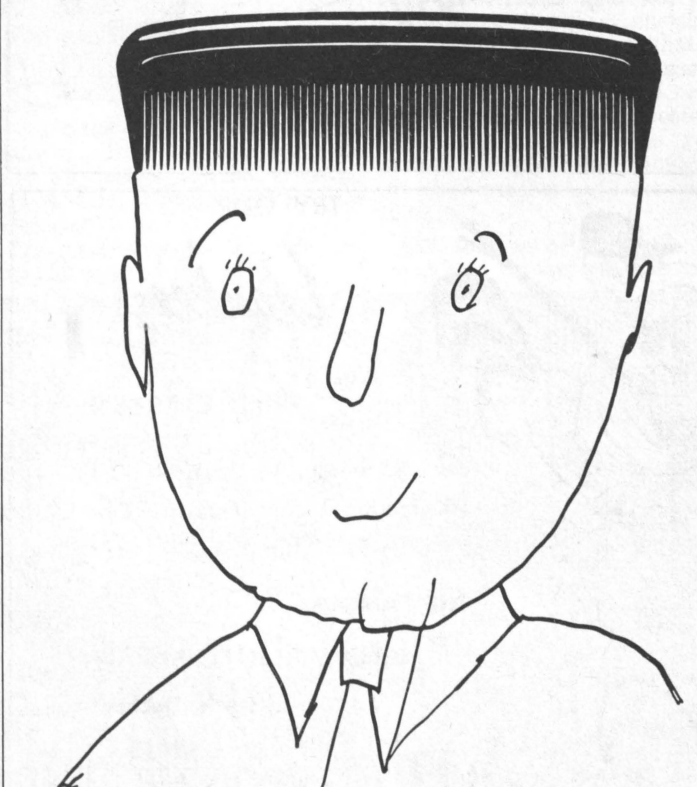

The Bison again received the kick and again failed to move the ball. Hughes' kick left the Panthers with possession on their own 35. On the next play, half-

WRA Plan To Enter Intercollegiate Postal Tournament

The Women's Recreation Association is planning to enter archery teams in the Intercollegiate Winter Postal Tournament which ends December 15.

Last year 35 colleges throughout the country shot in the match. All men and women archers are invited to shoot in the tournament, according to Elsie Raer, WRA advisor. All women teams and mixed teams (2 men and 2 women) will be entered.

There will be a meeting for interested persons at 4 p.m. Monday in the Physical Education Building.

Fourth in a Series of Ten Helgeson Well Known To Area Sports Fans

By Kathy McDonald
Through his participation in sports at NDSU and skiing tournaments in his native country, 28-year-old Oddvar Helgeson of Trondheim, Norway, has become well known to all alert sports fans.

He took time from his busy schedule of a civil engineering curriculum to tell Spectrum readers about himself and his home.

Student To Preside Over State Meeting

Dennis Hogan, AAS sr and president of the NDSU Phy Ed club, will preside at the first meeting of the State Physical Education organization.

The organization is for all college physical education majors and minors throughout the state and is being formed in conjunction with NDEA.

A panel will discuss "What the Co-operating Teacher Expects from the Student Teacher" with R. D. Brown, principal at Agassiz Junior High moderating.

Advisors for the meeting are Beulah Gregoire, chairman of women's physical education, and John Guaday from UND.

PCA Loans Available To Rural Students

College loans are now available from the Production Credit Associations for students from rural areas.

"The PCA of the Seventh Farm Credit District (North Dakota, Minnesota, Wisconsin and Michigan) provides student loans for a college education to young men and women from rural areas," said Thomas Ostenson, agriculture economics graduate student at NDSU and former employee of PCA.

Ostenson said PCA made the loan available for the first time this fall. He said its purpose is to assist and encourage young men and women from rural areas to obtain a college education before entering the labor market.

He stated "Loans are made on the basis of character and scholastic achievement with up to seven years to repay." The students may attend the college of his choice in whatever field he desires.

Ostenson said students who are interested in the new loan service should contact the Production Credit Association in his home area.

learning English in the third grade and continue to the requirement of five years of at least two foreign languages while in high school.

The student who does not wish to attend high school must finish a two-year vocational course.

The families of Norway spend much of their free time outdoors usually for a day of cross-country skiing. The most common way of doing this is to outfit the whole family with skis, pack a lunch box and take off for a day of fun and exercise. At the end of the day the family eats their lunch and rides the train home.

Although lutefisk and lefse are traditionally Norwegian, Helgeson said that they are eaten more in the United States than in Norway.

There is only one main meal, usually at noon, and there is no bread served at the meals.

Distance running, cross-country races and the steeplechase have kept Helgeson busy in NDSU sports. He never competed as a runner in his own country but skiing helped to build his endurance.

Oddvar never attended high school. He became a skilled carpenter and immigrated to the United States where he took competitive examinations for college and was admitted. He will graduate in March and plans to work in Fargo.
