Theft of Four Figurines Nets Probation For Three

Three NDSU students have been placed on disciplinary probation for Winter quarter for taking four figurines from the Nativity scene at the south end of Broadway. The theft occurred at 2 a.m. Saturday morning, Nov. 30.

The three, whose names are being withheld at the request of the Dean of Students, took two shepherds, a lamb, and a camel from the scene. The figurines are valued at about $350.

However, they denied taking the Christ child figurine from the manger, which has not yet been recovered. Fargo police suspect that the students took the Christ child but, Dr. Daniel Leasure, Dean of Students, said "I'm confident, after talking with the boys, that they had nothing to do with taking the Christ child."

The students were called to the Dean's office for questioning when one of the missing figurines was discovered in the room of one of the students. All three immediately confessed that they had stolen the objects as a "thoughtless prank," and they were turned over to Fargo Police by University officials.

But, despite the action taken by the University, the three have also been charged with disorderly conduct and were scheduled to appear in Fargo Police Court on Tuesday morning, Dec. 10.

The University also took action against another student who organized a party in an unauthorized apartment, a party which the three students attended. After the party they drove downtown and took the figurines. The student, who had arranged the party was put on disciplinary probation and ordered to move to an approved apartment.

Eng. Addition Proposed at SU

This fall bids will be received for a four-building Engineering complex at NDSU.

Construction may be initiated early next spring with occupancy tentatively set for 1965. The complex, composed of four departments of engineering plus Architecture, will afford Engineering with 40,000 more square feet of space. (Picture, page 3)

As proposed, a second story will be added to the south half of Dolve Hall to facilitate classrooms and labs for the Mechanical Engineering department.

Immediately to the south of Dolve Hall will be a two-story unit to house the facilities of the Department of Architecture.

To the immediate west of Dolve hall will be located the Departments of Civil and Industrial Engineering.

On the far west side of the complex will be the two-story structure housing Electrical Engineering.

"Lecture rooms with 100-150 seating capacity, a student lounge, a faculty lounge, a display area, and administrative offices will comprise the oval shaped, centrally located administrative center," said Frank Mirgain, Dean of Engineering.

"There is a definite need for the new complex," said Mirgain. "By 1970 enrollment in Engineering at NDSU is estimated at 1400 compared to the 900 plus that are now enrolled." Mirgain went on to say.

Immediate Action Suggested

Campus Parking Due For Long-Range Alterations According To New Policy

The Senate Campus Committee, under the chairmanship of Dr. G. Comita, has proposed a long range parking policy concerning campus parking. The committee intends to work and accomplish this program in phases as soon as possible.

The program consists of four major points. These are: A) Adequate parking space for faculty, staff, employees and visitors as well as part-time, disabled and local resident students is considered a necessity. Parking for students in university housing or easy walking distance will be subordinated to the previously mentioned requirements; B) Student parking will be provided on campus in peripheral areas only, with an appropriate charge commensurate with the cost of establishing and maintaining these areas; C) All curb parking will be eliminated; D) Faculty, staff and employees and students will be required to pay a reasonable fee for the privilege of parking on campus.

The committee recommended that senate take immediate action on these suggestions. In order to relieve congestion due to automobile parking by all off-campus university-related organizations, the committee recommended the following: A) The senate should go on record as requesting that the City of Fargo amend their ordinance to the effect that one off-street parking space be provided for every two beds in such organizations, rather than one for every four beds as now called for; B) The University Administration state the policy of the University with respect to granting authorization to park on university property to off-campus organizations, so that the City of Fargo off-street parking requirements be met by organizations now building or planning building. The Campus Committee recommends to senate that in the future, permission to park on University property not be granted to any off-campus university-related organizations to fulfill the City of Fargo parking requirements.

The second part of the program states:

★ There will be no street parking on Administration Avenue from University Drive to Campus Avenue except in the loading and unloading zones as posted by Ceres Hall, the five-minute zones as posted by the Administration Building, the visitor parking in the Administration parking space, and the staff parking temporarily retained in the South Engineering parking space. This is to become effective by Jan. 1, 1964.

★ The 12th Street parking lot be retained for staff only, after Jan. 1, 1964. The students who now hold parking stickers for this lot will be able to continue using them this spring. This lot will be available for general use between 6 p.m. and 7:30 a.m. every night of the week. All other campus street parking will be eliminated by September 1, 1964.

★ The committee recommends that the fee for parking permits be increased from $1.00 to $5.00 effective Sept. 1, 1964. The reason for this increase are: a) Funds are needed for improving parking areas; b) To meet the cost of enforcing parking regulations, c) To discourage automobile traffic on campus.

Dr. Comita told the Spectrum

there had been some question raised as to whether or not freshmen would be allowed to keep their cars. He said there would never be a restriction concerning freshmen automobiles unless all students on campus were subject to the same restrictions. Freshmen are entitled to the same automobile privileges as seniors, according to Comita.

Blue Key Selects Ten

Blue Key National Honorary Service Fraternity recently initiated ten juniors and seniors to its chapter role.

Playing an intricate role in the development of this years projects will be the following Blue Key initiates:

Duane Berglund - a student senator and a member of the commission of publications, is also president of Alpha Zeta and is vice-president of the collegiate chapter of FFA. Duane is social chairman of Tau Kappa Epsilon, and this year he was elected to Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges.

Roger Forsgren is president of Alpha Phi Omega and is senior board representative in Circle K. He is a member of inter-campus affairs commission and is a cabinet member in the University YMCA working as chairman for the NDSU chaplains conference. Roger is in Tau Kappa Epsilon.

Jeff Geiger is lieutenant commander of Sigma Nu. He is president of the Gold Star Band and is director of the "Statesmen." He was elected to membership in Kappa Kappa Psi and this year

Thirty-two on 'Who's Who'

Thirty-two students at North Dakota State University have been selected to appear in the 1963-64 edition of Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges. Announcement of the selection was made by Mrs. Betty Salters, assistant dean of students.

Students are chosen to appear in Who's Who on the basis of scholarship, participation and leadership in academic and extracurricular activities, citizenship and service to the University, and promise of future usefulness. To be eligible, they must be registered at NDSU at the time of nomination and expect to receive a degree between Sept. 1963 and June 1964.

Tom Holmgren is sports co-editor of the Bison Annual. He is a member of Alpha Tau Omega, Letterman's Club, and is a varsity football letterman. This year Tom was named All-Conference in football.

Gary Johnson is a senior majoring in architecture. In Sigma Alpha Epsilon he was elected eminent chronicler and eminent herald. He is engineering council representative for Kappa Tau Delta, and is a member of the American Institute of Architects.

Bob Norum is eminent deputy archon of Sigma Alpha Epsilon. He is a student senator and is commissioner of publications. Bob is president of State's YMCA and was business manager for the 1963 Homecoming. Recently he was recognized in Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges.

Erling Rasmussen is the keeper of annals for Alpha Tau Omega. He is treasurer of Eta Kappa Nu, a member of Tau Beta Pi, and is a member of the Rahjah Club. Tom is a counselor in the Men's residents halls as well as a member of the Institute of Electrical and Electronics Engineers.

Larry Scilley is Sigma Phi Delta chaplain and as social chairman is second vice-president. He is president of Eta Kappa Nu, treasurer of the institute of electrical and electronics engineers, and is an engineering council representative. Active in the Gold Star Band and the "Statesmen," he is also treasurer of Kappa Kappa Psi. He is president of the Inter-Religious Council and of Wesley Foundation.

Ron Tandberg is president of Theta Chi. He was elected to membership in Phi Kappa Phi Scholastic Honorary Fraternity and is a member of the math club. He is a senior in the college of arts and sciences.

There's more than fabric superiority in Gant. In addition, "needled-into the ways and woof of every Gant shirt" — there's flair-fit-show — three vital in-herents that make all the difference when a man wears a Gant.

We chose Gant because they take shirt making seriously. They're hard to please (like we are) when it comes to fit of collar, its roll, its profile—how much it shows above the suit collar. They're fastidious about the way the body of the shirt drapes and folds. All must integrate to achieve that viable ingredient which gives comfort and aplomb. In substance, Gant shirts are keyed to the discerning tastes of well groomed men who appreciate quality. These men are our customers.

DECK THE HALLS

The time has come to think of Christmas shopping, for the Yuletide will be upon us quicker than you can say Jack Robinson. (Have you ever wondered, incidentally, about the origin of this interesting phrase "Quicker than you can say Jack Robinson"? Well sir, the original saying was French—"Plus vite que de dire Jacques Robespierre." Jack Robinson is, as everyone knows, an Anglicization of Jacques Robespierre who was, as everyone knows, the famous figure from the French Revolution who, as everyone knows, got murdered in his bath by Danton, Murat, Caligula, and Al Capone.

(The reason people started saying "Quicker than you can say Jacques Robespierre"—or Jack Robinson, as he is called in English-speaking countries like England, the U.S., and Cleveland—is quite an interesting little story. It seems that Robespierre's wife, Georges Sand, got word of the plot to murder her husband in his bath. All she had to do to save his life was call his name and warn him. But, alas, quicker than she could say Jacques Robespierre, she received a telegram from her old friend Frederic Chopin who was down in Majorca setting lyrics to his immortal "Warsaw Concerto." Chopin said he needed Georges Sand's help desperately because he could not find a rhyme for "Warsaw." Naturally, Georges could not refuse such an urgent request.

(Well sir, off to Majorca went Georges, but before she left, she told her little daughter Walter that some bad men were coming to murder Daddy in his bath. She instructed Walter to shout Robespierre's name the moment the bad men arrived. But Walter, alas, had been sea-bathing that morning on the Riviera, and she had come home with a big bag of salt water taffy, and when the bad men arrived to murder Robespierre, Walter, alas, was chewing a wad of taffy and could not get her mouth unstuck in time to shout a warning. Robespierre, alas, was murdered quicker than you could say Jacques Robespierre—or Jack Robinson, as he is called in English-speaking countries.

(There is, I am pleased to report, one small note of cheer in this grisly tale. When Georges Sand got to Majorca, she did succeed in helping Chopin find a rhyme for "Warsaw" as everyone knows who has heard those haunting lyrics:

*In the fair town of Warsaw,
Which Napoleon's horse saw,
Singing cockles and mussels, alive alive o!*

But I digress.

We were speaking of Christmas gifts. What we all try to find at Christmas is, of course, unusual and distinctive gifts for our friends. May I suggest then a carton of Marlboro Cigarettes?

What? You are astonished? You had not thought of Marlboros as unusual? You had regarded them as familiar, reliable smokes whose excellence varied not one jot nor tittle from year to year?

True. All true. But all the same, Marlboros are unusual because every time you try one, it's like the first time. The flavor never palls, the filter never gets hackneyed, the soft pack is ever a new delight, and so is the Flip Top box. Each Marlboro is a fresh and pristine pleasure, and if you want all your friends to clap their hands and cry, "Yes, Virginia, there is a Santa Claus!" you will see that their stockings are filled with Marlboros on Christmas morn.

Audience With Pope Paul VI Highlight of European Tour

A semi-private audience with Pope Paul VI was one of the high points of the European tour which Kathryn Weesner, chairman of the NDSU art department, directed this summer.

Miss Weesner and her group of 29 were personally received by the Lord Mayor of Dublin when they arrived in Ireland. While there they saw the late President Kennedy in a parade during his tour in Ireland. In London they viewed another parade, this one in which the Queen of England greeted the King and Queen of Greece.

The majority of Miss Weesner's group were students. The group consisted of young people from the United States, with six North Dakotans included. Sponsored by Americans Abroad Travel Agency, the student tour is called American Youth Abroad. The age limit is from 18-30 years. The tour is also offered for college credit.

Miss Weesner sailed to Europe and returned by air. While on the continent, the group traveled by bus, beginning the tour in Edenborough, England and ending in Paris.

Last summer was the fourth time Miss Weesner has directed these student tours. She said that the tour is both educational and fun, besides being very inexpensive.

Sigma Alpha Iota Initiates Members

The Omicron chapter of Sigma Alpha Iota, a national women's music sorority at North Dakota State University, has initiated nine new members.

The initiation ceremony took place on Nov. 17. NDSU students initiated were Mary Ellen Watson, Julie Dunkirk, Madeline Wolseth, Doreen Loberg, Dodie Sholts, Lorna Herr, Lois Olafson, Kris Krone, and JoAnn Oak. A guest at the initiation was Mrs. Earl W. Potter, Province President from Omaha, Nebraska.

Sigma Alpha Iota is open to college women who show excellence in scholarship and music ability and are majoring or minoring in music.

Pool Room Hustlers Unhindered By Tragedy

Following the death of President Kennedy, NDSU students canceled several social activities, attended church in large numbers, packed the Festival Hall for a memorial service, and in many other ways made a collective response to the tragic event.

By way of contrast, the Union pool room continued to have its regular army of customers, raucous music blared from the jukebox and complaints were loudly voiced that test schedule changes were inconveniencing vacation plans. Those who were engaged in the more frivolous activities when challenged as to the meaning of President's death frequently responded: "What difference does it make? He's dead now. Nothing can change that fact."

Certainly the comment is true. Mourning does not return life. Nor am I impressed by the argument that one should become solemn simply because "that's the way it ought to be". Our "oughts" and "shoulds" must have some rationale. The following are four reasons why for me, frivolous activity should be diminished and a solemn, serious look at life taken in a time such as we have so recently experienced:

This tragic event has cast the future of our nation—even of the whole world onto perilous ground. As a ship being battered at sea demands an alert disciplined crew: so our nation in this hour needs a disciplined, alert citizenry. The news coverage of the event, while repetitious and occasionally in bad taste, did a remarkable job of pointing up the issues involved for our grave consideration. Thus, the period of mourning is a time for every citizen to take stock of the national situation, to prepare to serve where conditions demand. It is difficult to accomplish this in a poolroom.

The shooting of Mr. Kennedy was not purely the plot of a single, demented mind. It was also the result of a collective attitude of hatred, suspicion and irresponsibility that has spread its corruptive seeds into many parts of our nation. To the extent that we have shared in this attitude or have not taken positive steps to combat it, we must share in the guilt of this event. The period of mourning is therefore a period of confession for each person who recognizes his part in society. Again it is difficult to achieve this while engaged in frivolous activity.

Among many who have thought deeply about the nature of human life there is the recognition that when another human being dies, a part of oneself dies with him. John Donne stated this belief in classic form when he said: "Ask not for whom the bell tolls; it tolls for thee". It requires such solemn moments as come in a period of mourning for us to fully realize the importance of our dependence upon others for the wholeness of our own lives. This is our own death which we contemplate.

Respect for the individual is also a reason for deep reflection at a time such as this. There will never be another personality exactly like the one which is gone. It was utterly unique and therefore of infinite value. Today we all resent the reduction of our individuality to a number on an accounting card. It requires a high level of serious meditation to recapture the sanctity of an individual human life.

No, we can't change the physical facts of a man's death by a three day period of solemn, serious living. But perhaps it can make a difference in our own. We just might catch a glimpse of what it means to be human.

—Robert Ouradnik

Editor Criticizes Holding Ball

The President of the United States died, and the different branches of the Armed Forces are showing their respect by calling off all military social functions for 30 days. That is, everywhere except at North Dakota State University.

By terming the Military Ball a school function instead of a military dance, the ROTC department got around the official ruling, and perhaps their conscience. However, many students on this campus cannot so easily skirt the issue. It is their impression that a dance called the Military Ball, where the majority of males in attendance wear uniforms, is not less than a military function.

The original band, the Strategic Air Command "Noteables," did not play as scheduled because they are part of the military: a local band was hastily called upon to substitute.

At the South Dakota State College the equally "social" Military Ball was called off because it was the consensus at that school that it would be improper to hold a military function so soon after the President's death. The girls, who were to be guests, had already received their corsages. They presented them to a group which made them into a blanket to be hung behind a memorial speaker.

Our congratulations to South Dakota State College for having the courage and respect to cancel a social function after the assassination of our President. We wish we would have done the same.

Letters to the Editor

Letter to the editor:

As a former student of your university, I would like to share these words with you.

My being a nephew and assistant to a news photographer reporter for WBAP-TV in Fort Worth may have been a contributing factor to my following story.

On November 21, at approximately 11:45 a.m., the car carrying the President of the United States arrived at the hotel Texas in Fort Worth. At 11:48 a.m. John Fitzgerald Kennedy stepped from his car with his lovely and charming wife. Ignoring Secret Service men and aids, the President turned abruptly to the crowd and began shaking a few of the out-thrust hands that welcomed him. I was there. I had the opportunity to shake his hand also. As I did and looked into his eyes I thought of a million things to say, however, I was just a face in the crowd, one of the many.

The following day the city of Fort Worth helped make our President's stay a very enjoyable one. Shortly after his departure from Fort Worth and arrival in Dallas a tragic and unforgettable moment in history was recorded. I am not proud to say I was part of it. Nevertheless, circumstances made it so.

Today the world and Texas mourns our President's death. The public eye has fallen upon two cities called by many the gateway to the west, and towns of brotherly love. No man here today is proud to be called a Texan. A black and gory mask has been cast upon the shoulders of this state, a state with perhaps the most glorious and illustrious past of any starting the Union.

If you were to visit either of their cities today you would find a vast wasteland as far as cities are concerned. Stores are closed and streets are empty as the people of this state sit next to the television and mourn. The occasional person you see on the street has a look of puzzlement and disbelief written on his face. No one smiles, the carefree mood that generally enshrouds this land is gone.

I mourn the death of our national leader. I hope this letter will fall on sympathetic ears and that they will find in their hearts the time to whisper a prayer for our country, the family of John Kennedy, and Governor John Connolly of Texas, who at this writing lies wounded at Parkland Hospital in Dallas.

May God bless all of you and give strength to President Lyndon Johnson as he takes over the reins of government and guides our nation in the way that is just and right.

Gary Rawn

To the editor:

In the past, there has been a considerable amount of resentment expressed by many members of the student body over the high handed "Dictatorship" of the administration in affairs formerly controlled in part by students. Now this same administration asks for an opinion from the representatives of the student body, the senate, and they will not take a stand. (I refer to the incident in the Nov. 6 Spectrum of Mr. Myra's Insurance).

I feel that senate should take a stand on this as the question is of importance to the student body and the administration can (ideally) get student opinion best from the senate.

Why should the administration give students a voice in any of its policies if they will not act when specifically asked?

"TH' BOY WITH HIS BACK TO US... SO NERVOUS & SHY HE TOOK ME RIGHT HOME"

From The Editor's Desk

Once again the students of NDSU enter a winter quarter in their quest for knowledge and the coveted diploma which signifies a well rounded individual.

Courses, as usual, meet on odd days to confuse the placement of classes. It is not uncommon for a course to be scheduled at 1 p.m. on Monday and Wednesday, but on Friday, the same class meets at 9 a.m.

For the students who have not been exposed to the education systems at other institutions of higher learning, this system of scheduling classes is not strange. Yet a transfer student is completely bewildered by this unusual system.

It only seems natural that a three hour course would meet at the same time on three different days instead of the haphazard method being employed. The advantages of this system are difficult to arrive at, while on the other hand, it is easy to point out advantages to the more common method. If a student has to work during the week in order to finance his schooling, he can try to schedule his courses so that either his mornings or afternoons are free. This would be possible if the classes were not staggered on different hours throughout the week.

Perhaps with the coming of the six day week on campus we can see classes being scheduled in a more orderly fashion.

48 States?

Last year, at about this same time, this writer remarked in a different column about the fact that our school didn't have a 50 star flag to fly from their main flag pole. Shortly thereafter Senator Burdick presented one to the school at the Military Ball. This same flag flew in full glory for the remainder of the school year.

However, here are again with a out-dated 48 star flag fluttering at halfmast from the pole on the mall. It does seem that we could at least be consistent.

Peace Plan

Several weeks ago a guest speaker was introduced on campus by the name of Hare Jackim, who spoke on a peace plan he had devised.

It is Jackim's theory that a lasting peace can be established between the United States and Russia if the two countries agreed to send delegations of citizens in an exchange program. He states that the exchange would work by having citizens of approximately 20,000 cities and towns in the U.S. exchange in small delegations with their counterparts in the Soviet Union.

He says that the intercety visits would be designed to erase suspicion and hostility between the people of the two nations to the benefit of the United States and the cause of world peace.

Thus, a store-keeper in a small town would be exchanged with one of the same level in Russia, likewise with a farmer, and so on. He feels that if the citizens of both countries were to live and work together for a period of time they would lose their hostility towards each other.

Gathering support for his plan adopted from an original one prepared by a University of Wisconsin professor, Jackim has received word from 31 state governors who say that this plan has merit. More than 20 mayors of leading cities have expressed their interest in his plan, and the League of North Dakota Municipalities, representing almost 300 North Dakota communities, has endorsed it.

Jackim appeared before this writer asking him what the consensus of opinion on this campus would be towards his plan. We think that if his idea has any practical value it will be expressed by the student body in the form of letters to the editor, or be brought up at the next Student Meeting.

Summer Job Directory Lists 35,000 Openings

A directory listing 35,000 summer jobs throughout the United States for college students is now available. Students can begin their summer plans during the Christmas Holiday vacation.

The 1964 "Summer Employment Directory" gives the names and addresses of 1,600 organizations which want to employ college students. It also gives positions open, salaries, and suggestions on how to apply.

The many types of jobs are found at summer camps, resorts, various departments of the government, business and industry. National parks, ranches, and summer theatres listed also need college students.

Students wishing summer work apply directly to the employers, who are included in the directory at their own request.

Arnold Air Society, an organization of advanced Air Force Reserve Officers Training Corps at North Dakota State University has initiated new members.

All juniors, new members are: Roy Stern, Joe Busek, Dennis Norton, Gerald Mitchell, William Rasmusson, Ron Vraa, Gary Bartle, James Klusman, Dean Nordquist, John Pluth and William Burnett.

Arnold Air Society is open to any advanced Air Force ROTC cadet in good standing.

NEW CHEVELLE!

BY CHEVROLET

The kind of go-6 or V8—you'd expect from one of Chevy's great highway performers. Come on down and drive it.

The kind of comfort you'd expect in a large interior. Come on down and sit in it.

The kind of fresh styling—inside and out—that makes it the year's smartest surprise. Come down and stare at it.

New Chevelle Malibu Sport Coupe

Now—Chevy spirit in a new kind of car!

We built this one to do more than just stand around looking beautiful. Held its weight down in the 3,000-pound range. Then built four lusty engines—two sixes and two V8's—with output all the way up to 220 horses*!

And if that makes you think this is one frisky car, you've got the right idea.

You've also got a roomy car here. Yet its 115-inch wheelbase keeps it highly maneuverable in traffic and very easy to park.

With its Full Coil suspension, it's got a ride that reminds you of the Jet-smooth kind the way it muffles noise and cushions bumps.

And the fine hand of Body by Fisher craftsmen shows up beneath this one's suave good looks, too.

Sound good? There's more. Like the fact that Chevelle comes in three series with eleven models—convertibles, sport coupes, sedans, wagons, even Super Sport models with front bucket seats. Like the fact that (and see if this isn't one of the nicest surprises of all) the new Chevelle comes at an easy-to-take price!

Like to hear more? The listening's wonderful at your Chevrolet dealer's—and so's the driving.

Bond Chain Letter Gimmick No Help to Government

(ACP) — A get-rich-quick (or lose everything) scheme involving U. S. savings bond chain letters is spreading from campus to campus.

Now it's at Valparaiso University, Valparaiso, Indiana. The campus newspaper, The Torch, says the chain letter arrived after huge volumes of bond sales forced South Bend, Indiana, bank to halt sales of $25 bonds to students of Notre Dame University. Earlier, the scheme has mushroomed at Kansas universities.

Several thousand dollars worth of savings bonds were sold to students by two Valparaiso banks in a few hours, after which the banks refused to make further sales. Now, says The Torch, several students reportedly have left to take the letter to the University of Wisconsin at Madison. How many other schools will be affected cannot be determined.

Chain letter schemes are illegal under the laws of many states. And federal fraud laws also may be involved. Post Office authorities told The Torch that even though the lists of participants are not circulated in the mails, this does not alter the illegality of the operation since usually the bonds or other evidence of participation in the scheme are mailed.

A Treasury Department spokesman told The Torch that such schemes do a distinct disservice to the savings bond program. "Rather than encouraging persons to make genuine investments," the source said, "they create the illusion that participants are both aiding their government and themselves. Even in those rare cases where an individual receives a large return, it is likely that he would quickly redeem the bonds, thereby placing a further burden on the Treasury."

SUAB Party Dec. 26

The sixth annual SUAB sponsored Faculty-Student Christmas Party will be held on December 16, in the Memorial Union.

The Christmas program starts off at 7:30 p.m. with the serving of refreshments in Meinicke Lounge. From there the program continues in the main ballroom.

The program, beginning at 8:30 features the singing of Jane Dunks and Trish Lenihan. A novel part of this year's program is a chalk talk, a series of easel sketches, presented by Mr. Vernon Youngs. Following the chalk talk will be a Christmas reading from "Wind in the Willows". Ernest Van Vlissingen, chairman of music, will lead the audience in group singing. A dance in the ballroom will close the program.

AFROTC Drill Team Organized At NDSU

A new AFROTC drill team has been organized at NDSU. The new precision marching group, under the command of AFROTC Cadet First Lieutenant James Klusman, AAS jr, is officially called the Air Force ROTC Drill Team. The unit is composed of 37 freshman and sophomore cadets and the program is open to all first and second year AFROTC cadets. This new team replaces the old "Saber Flight," which in previous years had been the official drill team.

The team has been issued special new uniforms which are a big change from the regular blue uniforms. New garb includes black paratroop jumping boots, white gloves and beret, white belt, and a dark blue shirt to be worn open at the neck with a white scarf.

Cadets participating in the drill team, which meets every Tuesday and Friday mornings from 6:45 to 7:45, are excused from regular squadron drill.

So far this fall, the team has marched in the Homecoming Parade and plans include marching in a national competition of drill teams in Washington, D. C. next spring.

Contemporary American Drawings Circulated by Smithsonian Inst.

To try to develop the NDSU student's awareness of art, the Public Events Committee and Home Economics art department are presenting the national exhibit "Contemporary American Drawings" in the Memorial Union Dec. 5-27.

The exhibit consists of 50 drawings by some of America's younger artists which show the range of style, the love of experiment and above all the high quality of work which independent artists all over the country are achieving.

The drawings were selected from 1200 entries at the 20th annual American Drawing Exhibit held in Norfolk, Virginia. The exhibit is circulated by the Smithsonian Institute in Washington, D. C.

Many techniques are represented — pencil, ink, drybrush, conte crayon, wash and combinations of media. The drawings are mainly figurative, which shows the continuity of respect for the discipline of draftsmanship, reported the Smithsonian. Some drawings are preparatory studies for paintings, a few are quick studies made on the spot, and others are finished works. The use of a monochrome for work, such as pencil, brush bring the spectator close to the artist at work, said a report from the Smithsonian.

This is the second of a series of exhibits to be shown this school year. The others for the year include current works by Ralph Poetter, assistant professor of related art at NDSU, exhibits of student art at Sharivar and a Molyholy Nagy display.

Registration at NDSU. After several delays, students lined up for what is regarded by most as the worst part of college. Winter quarter classes began for this "Herd" on Dec. 5.

Cuban Passport + $5.00 = Tony

A Cuban passport for a month vacation in Jamaica, five dollars in his pocket and a suitcase in his hand is how Horacio Antonio Sotolongo began a trip that eventually brought him to NDSU.

Horacio, better known on campus as Tony, lived in Jovellanos, Cuba, until March of 1961. At that time Tony's family decided they did not want to live the rest of their lives under communism, and they applied for passports for a month vacation in Jamaica. When they left Cuba, they took along only what they would need for an ordinary vacation in order to avoid suspicion. Behind them they left their home, their 1200 acre plantation and all their personal belongings.

Upon arriving in Jamaica, they immediately left for Florida where they lived for two months until the Faith Methodist Church of Fargo, sponsored them and brought them here.

Tony, ME sr., spent his freshman year at the Central University located in Santa Clara, Cuba. Since coming to NDSU he has been very active on campus. He is a member of Tau Kappa Epsilon fraternity, Alpha Phi Omega, the Rahjah Club, Student Senate and the YMCA.

Tony said that he likes it in the United States, but that he would like to return to Cuba someday.

This could be the start of something . . . BIG!

If you are completing your BS or MS degree in EE, ME or Physics, AC-Milwaukee's "Career Acceleration Program" is the perfect way to launch an exciting career . . . and keep it moving! You will work on important inertial guidance and navigational system projects for Titan II and III, the Apollo Navigation-Guidance System, B-52C&D Bombing-Navigation Systems and other guidance and navigation projects for space vehicles, missiles and aircraft.

In AC's "Career Acceleration Program," you will spend one hour daily in formal class work, the remaining seven hours on a specific project. Courses include: ADVANCED THERMODYNAMICS, INERTIAL INSTRUMENTS, DIGITAL COMPUTERS, GUIDANCE EQUATIONS, BASIC ASTRONOMY, TELEMETRY and DATA ANALYSIS, plus mathematics and undergraduate disciplines, as required.

In addition, AC-Milwaukee's Tuition Refund Plan enables you to improve your skills through additional education. You will be reimbursed for all tuition costs on satisfactorily completing college-level course of study when undertaken voluntarily. AC also offers an "in-plant" evening educational program for additional technical improvement.

Positions also exist for recent graduates at AC's two advanced concepts laboratories:

BOSTON—Advanced Concepts Research and Development On-the-Job Training Program—AC's Boston Laboratory is engaged in research projects in avionics, space navigation and inertial instrument development. This laboratory works from theory to prototype, advancing the state of the art in navigation and guidance.

LOS ANGELES—Advanced Concepts Research and Development On-the-Job Training Program—AC's Los Angeles Laboratory is occupied with advanced guidance research for space vehicles and ballistic missiles, plus research and development in special purpose digital computers.

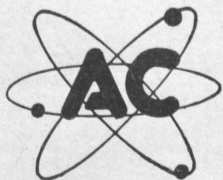

For further information on AC's "Career Acceleration Program," contact your placement office or write Mr. G. F. Raasch, Director of Scientific & Professional Employment, Dept. 5753, AC Spark Plug Division, General Motors Corporation, Milwaukee 1, Wisconsin.

PhDs, please note: Positions are available in all three AC locations for PhDs, depending on concentration of study and area of interest. You are invited to contact Mr. Raasch for further information.

Lutheran-Catholic Panel Presents 'Christian Unity'

Students of the Newman and the Lutheran Student Association will hold a second joint meeting Wednesday, Dec. 11 at 7:45 p.m. at the University Lutheran Center. Approximately 120 students attended the meeting held on Nov. 6, and there was considerable student participation and interest. This second encounter will be similar to the last one, where students and chaplains from both groups engage in serious theological dialogue on matters of vital importance for both communions.

A panel made up of Fathers William J. Durkin and Robert Hovda and Pastors Richard Elliott and Stanley Kvinge will discuss the topic—"Christian Unity." Father Hovda and Pastor Kvinge will present the Catholic and Lutheran positions on the subject, and the panel will discuss the matter briefly before inviting the comments and questions of the students.

Joint activities of this kind are a major part of the Council of Religious Staff, made up of all religious center directors, and the Inter-Religious Council, a group of student delegates from the various centers. The groups collaborate their programs and jointly sponsor lectures and seminars during the scholastic year.

This meeting is open to the public, and the panel has expressed the hope that the event will interest many students of other denominations.

N.D. State Holds Memorial Services

Special services were held on Monday, Nov. 25, at North Dakota State University's Festival Hall. The students, faculty and their families, and the University religious heads gathered to pay final respects to our late President, John Fitzgerald Kennedy, thirty-sixth President of the United States of America.

Messages of tribute were spoken by the clergymen at State University, and prayers were spoken for our late President, his family, and his country.

*Assignment: design a car for tomorrow...

Result: Allegro, an experiment in advanced automotive ideas that are practical for the near future

Allegro means "brisk and lively," which certainly describes Ford Motor Company's new dream car, a handsome fastback coupe. More than that, Allegro has unique functional features that could be adapted for future production cars. (This has already occurred in the case of retractable seat belts!)

A major innovation is a cantilever-arm steering wheel with an electronic "memory." The steering wheel is mounted on an arm that extends from a center-mounted column. The wheel swings upward for easy exit, returns automatically to its former position at the touch of a button. Power adjustment enables it to be moved three inches fore and aft and five inches vertically. This, plus power-adjustable foot pedals, permits use of a fixed seat design for low overall height.

Basically a two-seater in present form, Allegro has rear floor space that could be converted to carry two additional passengers. The car could be powered by either a V-4 made by Ford of Germany or by the domestic 144- or 170-cubic-inch Sixes.

Allegro is one of a series of Ford-built dream cars which will be shown at the New York World's Fair to test consumer reaction to styling and mechanical innovations. This will help determine which of their forward-looking features are destined for the American Road—as further examples of Ford Motor Company's leadership in styling and engineering.

THE BELL TELEPHONE COMPANIES SALUTE: JOHN M. CORUTHERS

A challenging job dealing with people and figures—that was John M. Coruthers' career goal when he left college seven years ago with an electrical engineering degree.

And John found the job, responsibilities and long-range career opportunities he wanted with the Illinois Bell Telephone Company.

His first assignment was supervising telephone installation and repair crews. Recognizing his leadership abilities, John's company promoted him to District Installation Superintendent. And in only a short time, he was advanced to his present position of District Plant Manager—an even more responsible job.

But does the job deal with people? Well, thousands of businesses and residences in the heart of Chicago depend on John, and the more than 200 people he supervises, for the smooth flow of communications.

John M. Coruthers, like many engineers, is impatient to make things happen for his company and himself. There are few places where such restlessness is more welcomed or rewarded than in the fast-growing telephone business.

Students Profit From Part-time Jobs

Part-time jobs on the campus and in the community netted North Dakota State University students more than a quarter of a million dollars last year.

The figure is based on a "conservative estimate" by NDSU Placement Director Gale Smith, whose office alone placed 712 students in on-campus jobs which brought in more than $200,000.

"When you add to these the many students who work in clothing stores, supermarkets, filling stations, and other community businesses without going through our office," Smith said, "the figure would easily surpass the $250,000 mark."

Smith's office, which is located in the Student Union Building, is primarily concerned with placing graduates in full-time positions in business, industry and other professional fields. However, because of the great interest in part-time jobs on the part of students, much of his time is devoted to making contacts between students and prospective employers.

Surprisingly, perhaps, although most students look upon their part-time jobs largely as financial aids to their education, many people on campus and in the community find them an economic asset.

The NDSU campus, which is a community of 5,000 persons, generates numerous part-time positions which could not support a full-time person. These include jobs as file clerks, departmental librarians, laboratory assistants, clerical help, dormitory counselors, etc.

In the community, many of the businesses which cater to the college trade find that student employees help attract student customers.

Not all of the student jobs are necessarily of an unskilled nature. According to Smith, many students bring useful training and skills with them to college, while others quickly acquire certain skills in the process of getting an education. These include welders, draftsmen, surveyors and mechanically-oriented students who find a ready market for their skills in the construction trades and commercial enterprises.

The going rate for part time student jobs is about $1.25 an hour, Smith said. "Of course we have a few who live in Fargo and attend the university part-time, who earn as high as $5-6,000 annually while getting an education." He added, however, that the average student works about ten hours a week.

An innovation in the art of "working your way through college," which has been pioneered at Harvard University and currently being considered at NDSU, is a program of "assured student employment."

Under such a program, according to Smith, a student who is considering college but will need financial assistance could apply for a part-time job just as he would apply for a scholarship or loan. The function of the placement office would probably be to put him in contact with prospective employers. If he is accepted, he can then complete his plans for going to college, secure in the knowledge that a job will be waiting.

According to President H. R. Albrecht, the plan helps fill an important need because it removes some of the risk involved for the student who needs financial aid but cannot get a scholarship and prefers not to go into debt.

With the continually rising costs of education, apparently more and more students are feeling the need for financial aid. Placement Director Smith estimates that 70 per cent of the NDSU male student body sought some form of part-time employment last year to assist in meeting their expenses. In addition, practically all of the 631 married students on the campus find it necessary for one or both members of the family to work. The placement office filled 86 secretarial jobs last year, most of them with student wives.

During the summer, Smith receives numerous inquiries, from students considering going to college, but who need a job to keep them in school. It is with this latter group that the proposed assured employment plan could be most useful.

Gymnasts Meet 9

North Dakota State's first venture into intercollegiate gymnastics is already underway with 15 prospects reporting to Coach Erv Kaiser.

The Bison will meet nine opponents, including two meets each with North Dakota, Concordia, and Bemidji State. They will also enter the rugged Northwest Open at Minneapolis later in the year.

"We have some good experience on this first year team," said Kaiser Friday, "But many of the participants haven't faced very much competition. Our strongest opponent will be Mankato State."

The sport of skill, coordination, and stamina is scored on a ten point basis. Judges watch continuity along with form and "break". "Our athletes participating in gymnastics are in great physical condition," Kaiser continued, "and must constantly practice to remain that way."

Seven events are held during a meet. These are tumbling, free exercise, high bar rings, parallel bar, horse, and trampoline.

Pollock's Pitches

by Dave Pollock

Basketball Well Underway

Last season, the Bison basketball team ended with 8 wins, 18 losses. In the North Central Conference we were 3-9-0 at the end and in 7th place.

This year, the NDSU fans will not see a better season than 1962-63. Lack of height and inexperience will handicap the Bison throughout.

It has been evident in the Moorhead game and in the Montana invasion that confidence needs to be gained. We can improve over last year's record if this is developed.

In the current light, all SU athletics are in the rebuilding stage and this year is not the year for conference championships. In 1952 and 1954, the Herd won the NCC Basketball title. This year, good basketball will be played and enjoyed.

The season record this year stands 3-0. The Bison dropped their opener against Moorhead by one point, lost to Montana State 72-60 on Friday and Montana University 76-51 on Saturday night. The last two games should have provided improvement and added confidence for the halting Herd. They should improve steadily as the season progresses.

This weekend marks the beginning of the NCC games. The Bison fieldhouse will be invaded on Friday night by State College of Iowa and on Saturday night by Morningside. Both teams will be tough and action will be the word.

Two On Herd Get Honorable Mention From AP

Bison end Ron Hanson and running back Bill Sturdevant received honorable mention on the Associated Press Little All-American Team.

John Neumann, guard, was recently elected to the All-Opponent team of the State College of Iowa along with teammate Ed Pflipsen. Neumann also was placed on the University of North Dakota All-Opponent team.

This is the last pitch — The Red River Classic will start on December 26. NDSU opens against St. John's University, Minn.

57 Men Out -- Coach Optimistic

NDSU Wrestling Coach, Tom Neuberger, starting his seventh season as grappling mentor, looks at his 1963-64 team with "optimism."

"One can't help but feel optimistic with having 57 young men out, an additional mat for practice use, and some assistance in coaching the team," he pointed out Tuesday.

Fifty-seven varsity and freshmen prospects reported for practice this week. This is equal to the number reporting for service in 1957, the second year of wrestling at NDSU. Captained by Ron Hanson, a 130 pound junior from Hawley, Minn., the Bison will have a grappler in every weight class. Neuberger cited Hanson, Joe McCormick, 157 pound sophomore from Fargo, and Murray McIntyre, a 177 pound junior from West Fargo, as his top performers.

"Our biggest weakness will be inexperience. The fourteen meet schedule will provide us with an opportunity to get some competition and enable the men to improve quickly. Both Moorhead State and the Air Force Academy were ranke last year, and Washington State along with Montana State will certainly provide some stiff tests. Dickinson State will be real tough as an entry from the North Dakota Athletic Conference," he continued.

The Bison will have a second new wrestling mat which will enable the workouts to be done on a group basis. Before, split practice sessions had to be held because of the lack of facilities. Neuberger also said that Ron Erhardt, defensive football coach, will help with the wrestling duties this winter.

The varsity squad has three seniors, nine juniors and thirteen sophomores listed. They are Dave Dingfield, 170, soph; Dale Hovde, 170, jr; Harold Kegley, 147, sr; Mike Linder, 150, sr; Joe McCormick, 165, soph; and Don Miller, 118, soph; Murray McIntyre, 177, jr; and Leo Rodriguez, 167, sr.

Other varsity wrestlers include Don Buerkley, 140, soph; Jon Colebank, 146, soph; Doug Daniels, 180, soph; Dick Eagleson, 150, soph; Stan Erickson, 190, jr; Mike Harper, 147, jr; Jerry Hicks, 157, soph; Ed Labonte, 130, jr; Lynn Ranum, 158, jr; Cecil Schimke, 156, soph; Jim Schindler, 177, soph; Jerry Schlicht, 191, jr; Dennis Schneekloth, 140, soph and Clark Sheldon, 140, jr.

Varsity Grapplers Lose, Frosh Win

by Lynn Leavens

NDSU Varsity Grapplers lost an eight match encounter with Gustavus Adolphus Dec. 6, in the NDSU Fieldhouse. Total score was 24 to 6.

Joe McCormick, CE soph, outpointed his Gustie opponent 8-5 in the 157 pound class for one of NDSU's two victories. Dean Dormanen, AAS soph, won in the 177 pound class, 4-0.

NDSU forfeited the 130 pound weight. Other wrestlers who competed were Don Miller, 123 pound weight class; Joe Colebank, 137 pound; Jerry Hicks, 147 pound; Cecil Schmike, 167 pound weight class and Murray McIntyre, heavy-weight.

The Frosh had better luck. They took Concordia's B team 19-11. Dave Humphrey and Clyde Vollmers were two of the better Frosh on view as they both quickly pinned their opponents.

Coach Tom Neuberger says that the squad will improve as the season progresses. Many of the varsity team members are now wrestling out of their weight class.
