

All-out Competition With Greeks
Stressed By Dorm Government

By John Schneider

A new form of dormitory government which will increase the involvement of students in university activities was presented by President John Schneider at the Homecoming banquet on October 14, 1964.

The new system, the Student Senate-

Government, is designed to give students a more active role in campus life and to reduce the burden on the Dorm Government.

"The key to this system is the Student Senate," said Schneider. "It will provide a forum for students to express their views and for the administration to hear those views.

The Senate will be made up of representatives from each dormitory, as well as from the Various student organizations, such as the Greeks and the Fraternity Congress.

The Senate will meet monthly, and its decisions will be subject to approval by the Dorm Government.

This new system is expected to stre-es the amount of time and effort required of the Dorm Government, although it may require some initial planing and coordination.

Schneider emphasized that the new system is designed to be flexible and to adapt to the changing needs of the student body.

"The Senate will be a dynamic and pronactive body," he said. "We expect it to evolve and change as circumstances require.

The Senate will be a particularly important body in the area of student Organization, as it will provide a forum for the various groups to express their views and to work together on common goals.

The Senate will also play a key role in the area of student activities, as it will be able to coordinate and prioritize the various activities of the student body.

The Senate will be an important part of the university's overall governance structure, as it will provide a voice for the students and a means through which their views can be heard.

The new system is expected to be implemented gradually, with the first meetings of the Senate scheduled for early in the new school year.

It is hoped that the Student Senate-

Government will be a success, and that it will help to create a more active and participatory student body.

Further details on the new system will be provided as the implementation process proceeds.

ternationalization of the student body. The new system is designed to reflect this change and to provide a more active role for all students.

The new system will be introduced gradually, with the first meetings of the Student Senate scheduled for early in the new school year.
Young GOPs and Dems Launch Drive To Inform New Voters

Cass County's Young Republicans and Young Democrats have launched a bi-partisan drive to alert first-year voters in the coming presidential election so they will be better prepared to vote.

A first-year voters' seminar will be held in the Prarie room of the North Dakota State University Memorial Union Tuesday at 7:15 p.m. The program, although aimed at first-year voters, is open to the public without cost. Persons who are not of voting age are invited to attend.

Co-chairmen for the event are Sherry Bassin representing the Young Democrats and Dennis Olsen for the Young Republicans.

On the committee are Tom Wold, Young Republican president; John McMerty, Young Democratic president; Juli Noble, representing Moorhead State College's Young Republicans and Gary Olson, Concordia College Young Democratic president.

Keynote speaker for the evening is Cass County States Attorney Eugene Kruger, who will discuss the mechanics of politics. Also, each party will provide a speaker to present its ideals and philosophies.

Some artists work in oil, watercolor, clay; some work in Duco cement, roofing plaster. Some work in crepe paper and wire. Probably in a year, more people see creations in crepe and chicken wire than visit all the art galleries in the world. If you want to be an artist, get into homecoming business. You don't make a go of it, you can always raise chickens. I don't know what you can do with the crepe paper.

There were some good things in the parade. There were smiles on the faces of every politician in the state, all alike. You could tell the difference by the signs on their cars. Queen candidates smiled differently, but the signs were alike; they all said "P. Mandels." We weren't told who these lovely ladies were or who was supposed to represent. But the commercial came through.

The same problem was true with the floats. Perhaps some houses didn't want to admit ownership, perhaps the signs didn't agree with the crepe paper; perhaps we just have crepe paper whole thing and had four men carrying a sign reading: "Homecoming Parade—look nostalgic please."

The Kappa Psi float did show some engineering virtuosity; fraternity threw a crimp into any blanket condemnation of the entire parade. The Peanuts thing was amusing, but poor Charlie Brown didn't have to get along with the artistic strata to homecoming parade at the bottom, one of his round head and hopes that in time people will steal free scenes. The Theta Chi junk wagon was perfect punctuation for sentence.

The same problem was true with the floats. Perhaps some houses didn't want to admit ownership, perhaps the signs were alike; they all said "P. Mandels." We weren't told who these lovely ladies were or who was supposed to represent. But the commercial came through.

The American impressions were another problem. They mostly made of slab-sided buildings framed by a couple of against a bland blue sky. There was nothing of the emotional power of the artist in these paintings; they were done to fulfill an a

Perhaps we should apply the final American criterion to paintings: two were sold—for real money. Therefore, they were best. Both were Indian subjects. How much more proof could need that the Indian subjects were most American?

Special Show Friday; Mantovani At NDSU

A concert by the Mantovani orchestra of London, England will be the second in a series of special attractions this fall at North Dakota State University. The concert will be given at 8:15 p.m. Friday in the Fieldhouse.

Tickets for the concert are available at $4, $3.50, $3, $2.50, $2 and $1.50; they may be purchased at Daveau's in Fargo and Moorhead or at the Little Country Theatre. They also will be sold at the door.

The orchestra's Fargo appearance is part of a fall tour of the United States.

Noted for its string-filled renditions of such classics as "Green leaves," "Wyoming," "Always" and "Song of the Moulin Rouge," the orchestra's record sales have passed the $30,000,000 mark. It was the first recording group to sell a million stereophonic recordings.

The organization's Italian leader Anmunisto Paolo Mantovani grew up in London, where his father led a hotel salon orchestra. Although he studied engineering briefly at the University of Padua in Italy, his first love was the violin. He began his musical career in the early '20s.

The Mantovani orchestra has been popular in England since the early years of World War II but achieved its greatest popularity after the war when it recorded a series of waltzes released in the United States.

HE Grad To Win Executive Position

A 1965 home economics graduate will win a first job as junior executive with a major food firm. How? Through the Pillsbury Awards Program which annually selects the year's top home economics graduate to become associate manager of the Pillsbury Company's educational program for one year.

In addition to her starting salary of $4,800, the top Awards Winner will receive a $500 cash prize, plus a $2,500 scholarship for graduate study — or a permanent position with Pillsbury — following her year of executive training.

Travel will be among the winner's duties when she represents Pillsbury at the National Convention as official hostess to junior contestants at the annual Bake-Off and as a foods demonstrator on television shows throughout the country.

Four other Awards finalists — selected, like the winner, on the basis of scholarship, extracurricular interests and personal suitability — will receive grants of $150 and two-day, expense-paid trips to Minneapolis.

Success Depends On "U"

"The 'U' in this University is you students and only you can make the Memorial Union's activities succeed," said Andrew Bushco, assistant director of the Memorial Union and chairman of the Student Union Activities Board, at the first meeting of the newly reorganized SUAB Oct. 6.

In his brief remarks Bushco said that SUAB's primary function will be to provide a form of education to the student that cannot be learned in the classroom or from books. This will be accomplished through various social activities ranging from dances and games to discussing thought-provoking movies sponsored by SUAB.

The meeting was to acquaint the 20 new SUAB members with other members of the committees on which they will serve during the year.

During the informal coffee hour new members were told of their roles in the regional conference of the Association of College Unions to be held on the NDSU campus Nov. 5-7.

The Spectrum
New Dispensers Adopted

One of the newest methods of packaging milk in milk dispensers, called Poly-Gal containers, has recently been adopted by the North Dakota State University Dairy according to Dr. Christian Jensen, chairman of the dairy husbandry department.

Poly-Gal containers replace the dispenser cans which were previously used to supply the cafeteria and Memorial Union with milk. The new containers hold six gallons and consist of a sterile polyethylene bag inside a corrugated paper box.

Poly-Gal containers are convenient to handle and store. They save time and labor and are only used once.

The polyethylene bags are also sanitary because they are sterilized; only entrance for the milk is a small rubber hose used for filling. The rubber hose is plugged after the container is full and is not reopened until the carton is used.

Strength of the polyethylene bags is reinforced by a double wall of plastic to make them leakproof. The box surrounding the bag aids in protection and makes handling and storing easy.

Poly-Gal containers are filled by a machine loaned to the dairy by Poly-Gal Corporation. The machine fills a six-gallon container in 55 seconds and shuts off automatically when the carton reaches the proper weight.

Dr. Jensen said that smaller containers for family use were being considered.

Studant Wins Scholarship

At a brief ceremony at North Dakota State University last month, Ardell Hoveskeland was presented with the first Western Electric Fund Scholarship.

The scholarship, a tuition-fees-books arrangement amounting to about $400, was awarded to New Rockford senior last summer. Formal presentation of the scholarship was made by K. M. Forni, Omaha, Neb., a University representative of the Western Electric Company.

Also at the presentation was Dean Frank Minyard of the College of Engineering and Architecture. Edwin Anderson, chairman of the department of electrical engineering and Gale Smith, director of placement services. An electrical engineering major, Hoveskeland is a member of Omega House, Phi Kappa Phi, Beta Pi, Eta Kappa Nu and Arnold Air Society. After graduation this spring he plans to spend a time with the Air Force and do graduate work in engineering.

Bishop's Company To Stage Shaw's Play "St. Joan"

The Bishop's Company will appear in person, sponsored by the Dakota State University campus ministries, this Saturday presenting highlights from George Bernard Shaw's classic play Saint Joan. The play deals with the problems and questions of the modern world, as an inspiration to anyone whose concern with conscience becomes a motivation in life.

Saint Joan is the story of the country girl who through inspiration of her own faith overcame a king and saved France, her historic identity. Passionately dedicated to her purpose on earth, she led the nation to victory and herself to martyrdom.

The light of her achievements is shown through the centuries as inspiration to anyone whose conscience becomes a motivation in life. The play will be presented at 7:30 p.m. in Faith Methodist Church. Tickets are 50c per person and may be obtained at the offices of the YMCA, Wesley Foundation, Newman Foundation, USA or at the Little Country Theater.

Bishop's Company, founded in Los Angeles in 1952 by Phyllis Beardsley Bokar, has achieved a record of 12 years of consecutive national touring bringing drama to churches in 50 states and five Canadian provinces.

The role of Saint Joan will be played by Renee Roux; other main actors are Clifton Scott and Paul Caruso.

The R. G. Shanks home in north Fargo was furnished in French Provincial style on the first floor. Other features included a fireplace, built-in cabinets and a collection of cut-glass, china and antique pieces.

A spacious and functional four­bedroom rancher is the home of C. E. McDonald in north Fargo. Built on a central hallway plan there is a formal living room, fam­ily room, kitchen and dining room plus three bedrooms and one and a half baths on the main floor.

In south Fargo the Milton T. Williams home is a two-story New England colonial home. Through­out the house many natural ma­terials were used such as a red slate floor, wide oak woodwork, beamed ceilings and rustic brick. Another home included in the tour belongs to the E. G. Freedom Workers Address Group

It was hard to believe that we were still in America! This was the undertaking of Dean Zimmerman and Lester Galt, special students at North Dakota State College. From their recent trip to Mississippi, they reported that the goals of the project were accomplished to a limited extent only.

Difficulties confronting Negro registration are almost unbelievable according to the two men, but some progress was made. The work is on a continuing basis and the experience, said the speakers, was tremendous.

They plan to return next summer; they are recruiting other students for the project. Galt's brother is in Mississippi now and keeps them posted on latest developments.

When asked whether there was any real progress in working for civil rights for all citizens in Mississippi, the speakers reported that there was. A blackboard listing incidents of violence done to workers was almost always full. In one part of rural Mississippi, the southwest corner of the state, witness to belief in civil rights for all men must be carried out on a hit-and-run basis. One states his conviction and then leaves — if he values his safety.

Few work-study plans in this section of the state for more than two weeks.

Students interested in the Mississippi Project will have a chance to talk with Galt and Zimmerman when they return to the campus Nov. 22. They speak at the United Campus Christian Fellowship House that evening.

North Dakota State University had 54 and Mayville 78. Roger Groeters of NDSU won the college division individual by running the 3.4 mile course in 16 minutes, 31 seconds. Regarding his team's performance he said, "Our kids looked better than last week. I think we are coming along real well and should have as good a chance as anyone to win the conference championship." Conference favorite South Dakota State was defeated by the Bison in the South Dakota invitational earlier this season. Coach Novacek reported that Jim Svobodny ran well in the Blue meet and has recovered from the injury that slowed him down earlier in the season. Next action for NDSU cross country men will be Saturday at Grand Forks when they take part in the Sioux invitational held in conjunction with the University of North Dakota's Homecoming.

Bison Celebrate Homecoming

by Allan Peterson
North Dakota State University celebrated its Homecoming Saturday by smashing Augustana College 42-7. For the first time in 18 years NDSU has fashioned a win over the unranked South Dakota State and Moorhead State Teachers College. Bison of the street-car days stoped Concordia, Morninggrade, highly-ranked South Dakota State and Moorhead State Teachers College. They tied the University of North Dakota and went on to finish the season with wins over Omaha, South Dakota University and Winchita. For instance, NDSU had a strong passing team of the previous year turned out for action in September. That year, the 35th season of Bison football, they took first place with no losses in the conference. They tied the University of Minnesota pulled it out, however, with a superb passing attack to win 26-6. Bison's main weakness was a lack of reserves. Returning to the Dakotas, the Bison of the street-car days stopped Concordia, Morninggrade, highly-ranked South Dakota State and Moorhead State Teachers College. They tied the University of North Dakota and went on to finish the season with wins over North Dakota and went on to finish the season with wins over Omaha, South Dakota University and Winchita. Comparing sports news of the 1935 Spectrum with this there are several similarities in the hardenenss? For instance, NDSU had finished its Mornin grade and going to Memorial Stadium Grand Forks to help the celebrate theirs. Also, the old side and South Dakota State. A little over a year ago NDAC journeyed to Minneapolis for the first game of the 1935 season. They gave the powerful Big Ten Gophers a scare the first three quarters, trailing by one point going into the fourth quarter.

1964 Herd Similar to Bison of 1935

by Bill Howell
Will the Bison take the conference this year? It has been 29 years since North Dakota State University was conference champ. The Herd's prospects are looking good as it leads the four conference teams. What was the season like 29 years ago? According to a 1935 Spectrum it was full of surprises for the North Dakota Agricultural College, Robert Lowe and Athletic Director C. C. (Casey) Furnege handled the football team. Ten lettermen from the conference runner-up team of the previous year turned out for action in September. That year, the 35th season of Bison football, they took first place with no losses in the conference. The Buffalo men from NDAC journeyed to Minneapolis for the first game of the 1935 season. They gave the powerful Big Ten Gophers a scare the first three quarters, trailing by one point going into the fourth quarter.

PHONE THE HOUSE OF DIAMONDS

605 N. P. Ave. — Fargo, N. Dak.
North Dakota State University will have a double incentive for victory when it invades Grand Forks for the University's Homecoming Saturday. Uppermost in the minds of Bison footballers is the chance for the conference championship that has eluded an NDSU football team for 29 years.

Also, members of last year's squad still feel the sting of the Herd's 1963 Homecoming when the Sioux drubbed the Bison 21-7.

Last Saturday's contest against Augustana was the first foray into the high atmosphere for backfield men used by Coach Darrell Mudra.

It did prove, however, that coaches and team were taking nothing for granted.

Late-game play of Evenson and Showers was a bright spot for the Herd Saturday. Mudra commented that his sophomore backs have the ability to be some of the Bison's greatest in the next two years.

POST SEASON GAME

POSSIBILITY FOR BISON

There is a possibility that NDSU will be invited to a small-college bowl game. This would mean that the Bison would have to win the conference and perhaps remain undefeated.

Coach Mudra said that he thought the conference winner would have a good shot at getting a bid.

MCKEE SCOUTS UND

Vern McKee, freshman head coach who scouted the Sioux last week, concluded that the Sioux "must have had a bad day against SCI (UND lost 34-0). UND is an exceptionally strong, big team, with a tremendous line."

"Saturday's game will likely be won or lost in the line," McKee observed, "and they have good agility and pursuit defensively and a strong ground game offensively."

UND SPORTS EDITOR MAY SWALLOW MORE THAN FOOD

THIS WEEK

In the recent issue of the UND newspaper, the Dakota Student, a column appeared bemoaning the fact that they absorbed from SCI.

The writer said that "We were sitting around eating dinner when I realized that NDSU and SDS were playing in Fargo. A few more mouthfuls of food and off we went to the cow college."

He continued, "The Sioux could beat either of the two teams I watched that night with a performance that would equal that of the St. Thomas game. I saw nothing that indicated that NDSU or SDS was a better team than the Sioux were the same afternoon."

At this point NDSU had just beaten the defending conference champions and also had beaten the team that had recently trampled the Sioux 34-0. If UND supporters can clear the haze from their eyes next Saturday they will see the best team in the conference, maybe not on paper but where it counts—IN THE WON-LOST COLUMN.

NDSU BEST PHYSICALLY SINCE START OF SEASON

Bison will be at their best personnel-wise for the UND game. Returning last week were halfback Ed Pflipsen, and Ron Hanson and guard John Neuman. All three played creditably against Augustana and are expected to be in top shape for the UND tilt. Also returning against the Sioux is guard Ardell Weigandt.

Hentges was proficient in the passing department against Augustana. He tossed six counters for 760 yards last year. The physical education major completed 53 passes for 48 of the needed 55 yards, including the final loft to Billy Sturdevant for the score.

Cichy, a major in arts and sciences, is considered an excellent defensive blocker.
Campus Review Committee Organized

Campus Review Committee Organized

A Board of Organizations and Activities to review finances, constitutions and by-laws of all student organizations has been formed.

It will also coordinate student activities, set up and administer the Student Activities Calendar and perform other duties as determined by the President of the University or other administrative officers.

The board will derive its authority from the Faculty Senate Student Affairs Committee. Chairman of this 12-man board is Evan H. Pepper, assistant professor of plant pathology. Members include six students (four appointed by Student Senate and two appointed by the Dean of Students) and six staff members (Dean of Students, Union Director—nonvoting; Chairman of the Student Affairs Committee and two faculty members appointed by the President).

The board is now reviewing financial requests submitted by Student Senate and is to approve disbursement of funds derived from student activity fees and other sources, Pepper says that it will audit all financial books of student organizations.

Also, board members are now receiving, reviewing and processing constitutions and by-laws of student organizations. This includes Greek organizations.

Setting up the Student Activities Calendar they will only have jurisdiction over all-University activities, although they may advise organizations regarding other activities.

Rhodes Scholarships Offered

Elections to Rhodes scholarships will be held in all states in December. Scholars-elect will enter Oxford University in October of 1965.

Appointment to a Rhodes scholarship is made for two years in the first instance with a possible third year if the scholar's record at Oxford and study plan warrant such an award. No restriction is placed upon a Rhodes scholar's study choice.

A candidate may apply either in the state in which he resides or in the state in which he has received at least two years of his college education. Applications must be in the hands of the secretary of the state committee not later than Nov. 1.

Names and addresses of secretaries of state selection committees are printed in the Memorandum of Regulations. Institutional Representative in this University from whom copies of the Memorandum of Regulations (including application blanks) and other information may be obtained is Dr. Leo Hertel, Minard 317.
