day.

Since his graduation from NDSU in 1954, McCoy has been active in the University's Alumni Association, holding the offices of president (1958-61), executive vice-president (1961-63) and vice-president (1957-58).

He has also been a member of the NDSU Teammakers Club, and has been instrumental in soliciting student scholarships.

Since 1963, McCoy has served as executive vice-president of the Association of General Contractors for North Dakota.

Queen Voting Places Set

Each student will have the chance to vote for the 1965 Homecoming Queen on Oct. 15, according to Gaylen Taylor, AS 4, member of the commission of campus affairs.

Candidates for queen are: Jeannine Hagen, AS 4, Siri Spong, AS 4, Wendy Pile, HE 4, Georgia Jonasson, HE 4, Janna McCoy, AS 4, Karen Dietrich, AS 4 and Sara Gildersleeve, AS 4.

After the Homecoming convocation on Friday morning, Oct. 15, polling places will open at the library, Festival Hall, Reed-Johnson complex and the Memorial Union.

"Since this is a student election, the commission of campus affairs is making the arrangements," stated Bob Hendrickson, commissioner of campus affairs.

The commission members and student senators will man the polling stations until 5 p.m. Votes will be tallied by the commission after the polls close.

The results of the election will be announced by President H. R. Albrecht at a formal coronation during intermission at the Mitchell Trio concert Friday evening.

The Homecoming Queen will reign over the remaining Homecoming activities.

Union Thefts Climb

Students are jeopardizing their college careers by stealing from themselves. Articles placed in the Memorial Union to serve the students are being stolen. Coats, billfolds and purses have been taken from the Ballroom check room. The manager of the Varsity Mart and many students are reporting books and other articles missing.

Roger Wehrle, assistant director of the Memorial Union, has listed some of the items stolen since the beginning of fall quarter.

Three floor ash trays costing $20 apiece have been stolen. A $60 rug was taken from the base of the stairway leading from the south entrance of the Memorial Union to the hall running adjacent to the Varsity Mart. Two coats valued at $75 apiece have disappeared from the Ballroom check room and a number of billfolds and wallets have been rifled in the check room.

It should be noted that a theft of $50 or more constitutes a felony, and the gravity of such an offense should cause a potential thief to pause and reflect.

The return of the stolen rug caused Wehrle to say: "I'd like to thank the person or persons responsible for its return and to assure them that no further action will be taken in this particular case. This is not to say that any items stolen in the future will be forgotten so easily.

Since stealing of coats, rugs, etc., is considered a criminal offense by the law, this will be the basis of our action on items stolen in the future."

Wehrle added that if the other articles that have already been stolen are quickly and quietly returned, no action will be taken.

Richard Kasper, manager of the Varsity Mart, reports an annual total of over $1000 worth of merchandise stolen from the store. Students have attempted, and at times succeeded, to steal anything from nickel pencils to expensive books.

Kasper remarked, "I don't understand how a student can jeopardize his entire college career for a pack of cigarettes."

Kasper also mentioned that the Varsity Mart has had a measure of success in getting back stolen books. He urges any student who loses a book to report it.

In the past, thieves have been caught trying to sell to Varsity Mart books that have been stolen from students. These books have been returned to the students. Kasper says students will continue to be helped in recovering their stolen books.

Dean Scott, assistant dean of students, stated that the action taken against thieves in the future will depend upon individual cases, but in all cases action will be taken, and it will be swift and harsh. Suspension from the University is a possibility.

Sixty-five Cars Impounded

The strict enforcement of campus traffic regulations has resulted in the impounding of approximately 65 cars this quarter.

Ron Corliss, North Dakota State University assistant business manager, explained the system used to assess the violator. Any student who has a bison sticker but who does not have a parking permit is charged $18.50: $15 for parking permit, $2 for the parking ticket and $1.50 for the impounding fee. Any student who parks on campus without a bison sticker is charged an extra $10 for a late registration fee.

"We have sold approximately 800 parking permits this year," commented Corliss, "and the number will continue to rise as long as there are violators. We don't like to take the student's money anymore than he likes to give it, but we will continue until the students abide by the regulations."

Corliss mentioned that some people have questioned the legality of campus policemen opening cars in order to pull them away. He said that they have the attorney general's ruling declaring the procedure legal and in no way questionable.

Dr. Stanley Murray, chairman of the Campus Committee of University Senate, stated, "The traffic regulations have been on the books for some time, but haven't been strictly enforced. Parking violations became so out of hand that the impounding of cars had to be introduced."

"Enforcement of regulations is solving some of our traffic problems, but it is also creating a new problem," continued Murray.

"Students or teachers from other schools in the community studying or taking evening classes at NDSU, may have their cars impounded. We do not intend to fine them; however, it is fortunate that they must through time-consuming channels to get their cars back.

During the day it is possible for the campus officers to check car registration through the business office. In the evening, however, it is very difficult to obtain this information."

Senator To Go To Conference

Student Senator Roger Zel will represent the North Dakota State University student body and student government at the National Associated Student Governments Conference to be held at Purdue University Oct. 14 - 16.

The purpose of ASG is to assist member schools in improving their student government and to keep pace with rapidly growing student bodies in all of the institutions of higher learning throughout the country. NDSU joined ASG last quarter.

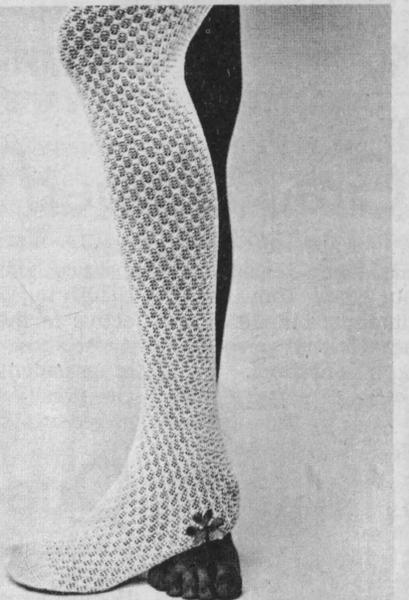

About 200 schools are expected to attend the conference.

Combat Paintings To Be Shown

"Operation Palette", a traveling exhibit of outstanding Navy combat paintings, will be on display in the Alumni Lounge of the Memorial Union the week of Oct. 24.

The collection, worth approximately $300,000, includes 120 original paintings and on-the-spot drawings by U. S. Navy combat artists. They were selected from the $1 million Navy art collection, a portrayal of the Navy's role in war.

The first showing, a reception and a ribbon-cutting ceremony, may be attended only by invitation on Oct. 24. Armed guards will be on duty during the entire week.

The exhibit is sponsored by the Student Union Activities Board in conjunction with the Naval Training Center in Fargo, according to Roger Werle, assistant director of Memorial Union.

Fellowship Tests Scheduled

Two Arnold Air Society/Link Foundation Fellowships of $1500 each will be awarded to members of the society at its National Conclave in April. All Air Science IV cadet members of the Arnold Air Society who are qualified by academic grades and recommended by the professor of aerospace studies are eligible to compete.

To qualify, a cadet must be scheduled to receive his commission in the 1965-66 academic year.

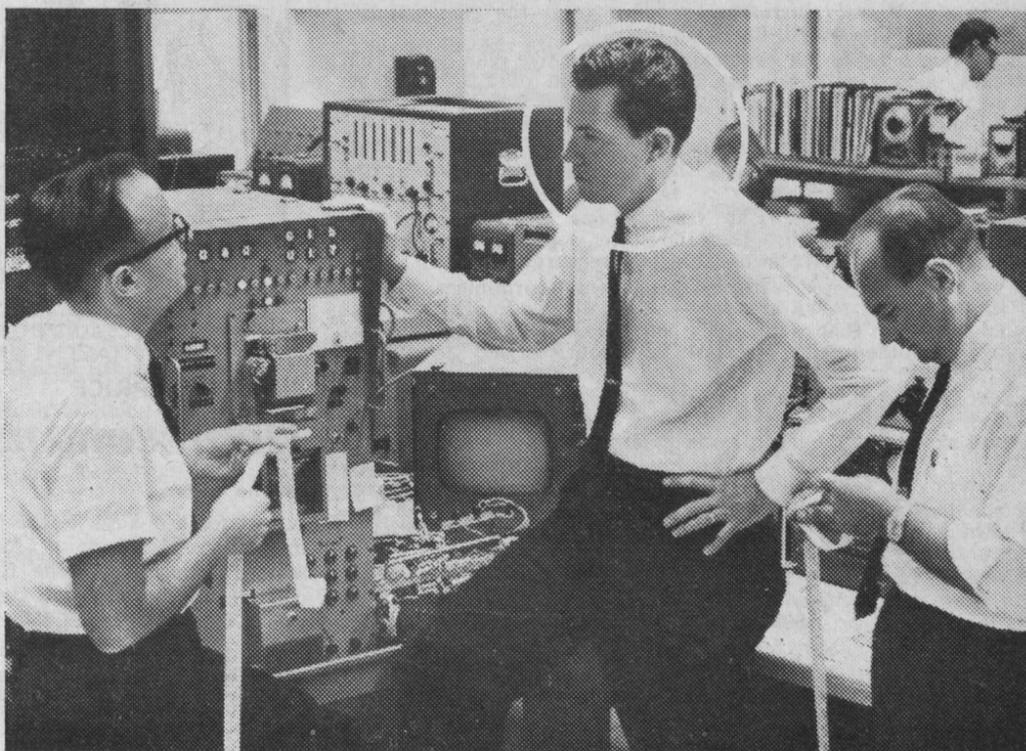

Cadets majoring in engineering, mathematics or physics are preferred, though all may apply.

Application must be made for both aptitude and advanced tests in the student's major field of study. Two testing periods are scheduled, the first for Nov. 13, and the second for Jan. 15.

Further information may be obtained from the aerospace studies Department at North Dakota State University.

John Lauritzen wanted further knowledge

He's finding it at Western Electric

When the University of Nevada awarded John Lauritzen his B.S.E.E. in 1961, it was only the first big step in the learning program he envisions for himself. This led him to Western Electric. For WE agrees that ever-increasing knowledge is essential to the development of its engineers—and is helping John in furthering his education.

John attended one of Western Electric's three Graduate Engineering Training Centers and graduated with honors. Now, through the Company-paid Tuition Refund Plan, John is working toward his Master's in Industrial Management at Brooklyn Polytechnic Institute. He is currently a planning engineer developing test equipment for the Bell System's revolutionary electronic telephone switching system.

If you set the highest standards for yourself, both educationally and professionally, we should talk. Western Electric's vast communications job as manufacturing unit of the Bell System provides many opportunities for fast-moving careers for electrical, mechanical and industrial engineers, as well as for physical science, liberal arts and business majors. Get your copy of the Western Electric Career Opportunities booklet from your Placement Officer. And be sure to arrange for an interview when the Bell System recruiting team visits your campus.

Change Of Attitude Observed By Editor

A noticeable change is taking place among the student body at North Dakota State University.

We're not referring to the increasing enrollment, nor to our winning football team.

The change is more basic - it is in the attitude of the student body. The typical North Dakota attitude of allowing things to be done this or that way, because they have always been done this or that way, does not seem to be present in this year's upperclassmen.

A questioning awareness appears present.

What does the University do for me — and why?

What can I do for the University?

What more can the University do for me?

No person on campus, up to and including the highest official, is treated with awe simply because of who or what he is or represents, but for what he does.

In short, we believe that the student body of NDSU has grown up.

In 1960, NDSU became a university, at least in name. Now we believe that the students are ready to accept the responsibility that goes with the name change.

But are faculty and administration willing to let the students take their rightful place on campus as a third voice of power? Of course, students must be willing to take the consequences of their own decisions.

Students in this University can no longer accept spoon-feeding.

We pay the way; we want a say.

Increasing NDSU Enrollment Points Up Revenue Demands

Reprinted from the Fargo Forum

When enrollment at North Dakota State University in Fargo set an all-time record of 5,006 after three weeks of the fall quarter, NDSU supporters and Fargoans were happy to note the continued growth of the local institution of higher education.

By passing the 5,000 mark in enrollment, the University has fulfilled earlier predictions and makes it certain that we can expect a student body of around 7,500 in the not too distant future.

If the student body increases by 500 a year—the gain this fall was 536—the enrollment will top 7,500 in 1970.

This would be a 50 per cent expansion in a five-year period, but percentages don't really tell the story. A gain of 2,500 students would mean the addition of as many students as are currently enrolled at Concordia.

You don't have to build a whole new college to take care of this many students but, you do have to provide classrooms, faculty, library and dormitory facilities.

Such a projected growth at NDSU is one of the reasons The Forum has accepted the idea that the state is going to need more revenue than is available from existing tax measures.

If we are confronted with a 50 per cent enrollment gain at NDSU in five years, there are only two regular legislative sessions scheduled prior to that date—1967 and 1969. These two sessions would be confronted with the task of financing the faculty and plant expansion.

We are afraid that North Dakota will not be able to meet its obligations to its young citizens if every tax measure—or most of them—passed by the Legislature is referred and defeated by the voters.

The time will come when the problems will have to be taken out of the hands of the politicians and the job of selling an adequate solution will have to be taken over by persons dedicated to building a greater North Dakota.

Letters to the Editor . . .

Reader Dislikes Russian Role In UN

To the editor:

Since the only response to criticism in the Sept. 22 Spectrum of the Model United Nations was a phony letter from a Mr. Isolation, we'll assume that the "One Worlders" were stumped. Let's turn to the UN itself and see what happens.

I, for one, base my opposition to the UN as presently constituted, on a few very specific and basic points.

If the UN were really interested in human rights and human dignity, then why is Soviet Russia, the most brutal, cold blooded, organized tyranny ever directed against the human spirit allowed to be a member?

This is like organizing a crime fighting commission in Chicago and having two of the leading gangsters of that city serve on the board of directors! The commission would not only be ineffective, it would be downright dangerous to law abiding citizens.

Yet, this is the type of situation we see in the UN. Every person to hold the office of Under Secretary-general for Political and Security Council Affairs since the inception of that office, has been from a communist country - Sobolev, USSR; Zinchenko, USSR; Tchernyshev, USSR; Protich, Yugoslavia; Dobrynin, USSR; Arkadev, USSR; Riselev, USSR; Suslov, USSR.

This is not a minor office, this is the office that coordinates all military, disarmament and atomic energy matters for the Security Council.

If the UN were really interested in human rights and individual dignity, then why is there only silence while hundreds of men, women and even children are machine-gunned every year attempting to escape communist terror by climbing over the Berlin Wall erected by communist East Germany?

CHEAPEST PRICE

Homecoming Ticket Price Is Explained

To the editor:

Last week on Oct. 5, the Commissioner of Campus Affairs started action to get the Homecoming allocation from student funds increased by $1,050.

This money would have brought the Homecoming dance price from $3.50 per couple down to $2 per couple.

The action was taken directly to the Board of Organizations and Activities based on a motion passed at the May 20, 1965, meeting of Student Senate giving authority for such a request. BOA had acted during final week last spring on the budget, as it was revised. They said that Homecoming must have $2,250, which is the price for which the Buddy Morrow band was contracted.

Arriving back on campus this fall, I instructed my secretary to locate the approved budget, but it was not available. On Monday, Oct. 4, I received a copy of the budget as approved by BOA. It was then that I initiated the above action. BOA approved the request and I carried the letter to the President's office last Wednesday afternoon, but Dr. H. R. Albrecht was out of town and Vice President James Nickerson was not in the office.

Tickets were to be on sale Monday but the sale was postponed until Wednesday. I then decided to put them on sale for $2 on Thursday without the President's approval. These tickets had to be put on sale to allow students enough time to purchase them.

Thursday afternoon, I was informed that our request was turned down by the Vice President.

His reasoning was as follows: "Budgets for student activities were approved last May and it is incumbent upon all student agencies to live within these budgets. Requests for additional funds during the budget period should be reserved for emergencies beyond the control of pointed to the menace of Soviet Russia to a peaceful world which he said in "Our Sunday Visitor" a few years ago, "While empires are still held in slavery without anyone coming to the assistance of the oppressed; while years after the Hungarian Revolution the bloodletting still continues with the condemnation of students, peasants, and workers guilty of having loved a freedom that was stamped out by foreign tanks, without the world showing any horror at so great a crime while such things persist, it is impossible to speak of peace but only of a consent to a massacre."

Vice-President James Nickerson raises an interesting point in letter in last week's Spectrum. Obviously there can be no peace without order — but there can be no order acceptable to freedom if there is no justice, as having open Communists sitting in key peace-keeping positions like letting gangsters run the police department, or judge their own trials!

If this is "our last, best hope for peace," we have lost our sanity.

I would have second thoughts about the UN if the general assembly would entertain a motion that free elections be held in Hungary, East Germany, Cuba or a host of other communist satellite nations. It would give most people food for thought if the UN put successful pressure on Soviet Russia to tear down the Berlin wall. Fat chance!

The point is, the real issues involving the fundamental precepts of a world order are ignored in the UN. The point is the real menace to peace and security sits on the Security Council.

I for one regret that the administration and Student Senate have seen fit to officially endorse, let alone sanction, the MUN. Dr. Nickerson may speak for himself, but not for the entire student body.

Our Mailbag Runneth Over

"Isole Lashun" Is Severely Criticized

To the editor:
The Oct. 7 issue of the Spectrum had a very interesting letter against the Model UN. Ostensibly, this letter is written by a typical member of the right wing. This person is very much opposed to the MUN on the grounds that "Commsymp" on campus seek to corrupt the minds of American Youth. This person manages to show the world he has the courage of his convictions by signing himself "Isole Lashun".

I suspect, and the facts will bear me out, that this letter was not written by a responsible member of the right wing. The writer, though himself a "liberal", seems to display to the world his own irresponsibility and, to anyone who chooses to examine the letter carefully, he succeeds admirably.

The writer implies that all right-wingers (conservatives, if you will) feel this way about the UN and the MUN. Note well that I said "imply", for nowhere did he expressly state such a thing. Nonetheless, the implication is clear.

This is a flagrant abuse of academic responsibility. It can be shown that there are many conservative students on campus who do support the MUN. Yet this writer seems to speak from within his own gross ignorance and to imply that the views of a small minority of the right wing are the same as those held by all.

It might do the writer well to remember that there are left wing extremists who are equally irrational in some of their views and statements as he purports the entire right wing to be. It is a little difficult to understand what point "Isole Lashun" is trying to make in his letter. Is he saying that because a person recognizes the faults and limitations of the UN he would necessarily be against the MUN? Or is he saying that any academic exercise, including having an idea "challenged by a bunch of intellectual nuts" is repugnant to a conservative?

If this is his point, then let it be made quite clear that no responsible conservative will deny anyone the right to rationally examine any view or idea whatever, in any light in which a person wishes to discuss it.

Mrs. Dillon expressed a valid misgiving in her letter when she

Error Disappoints Economics Prof

To the editor:
With much glee and anticipation I quickly read the Oct. 6 issue of the Spectrum but alas, to my disappointment, now don't tell me wrong; it's no reflection on the usual sterling qualities of this award winning paper. It's just that I had expected to see a retraction printed concerning the willful distortion you had of me in your issue of two weeks ago.

This quotation was false. I never talked to a Spectrum reporter after the tax election and no article could not have been quoted. Also, the factual information which followed the quote was completely inaccurate.

Now that I have set the record straight, may I suggest that in future articles the Spectrum reporters keep in mind the "Peach" cartoon outside the communications lab, Minard 403.

said that it would be unfortunate if students in the MUN became merely "parrots" of the country which they represent. Surely there is much opportunity in such an undertaking for individual thought. If this thought does not show itself, then the MUN has been a wasted enterprise. What is the matter with this objection?

If the first letter were well-written sarcasm it might be worth taking seriously on its literary merits. It is not. Such feeble tries can only be laughed at and pitied a little.

CAMPUS CUTIE this week is Pam Palmer, freshman in Arts and Sciences from Fargo.

Senate Cuts Ticket Prices; Administration Vetoes Plan

To the editor:

The ticket price for the Homecoming Dance this year is $2. The same dance last year cost the student $4.

The credit for this price cut must go to Student Senate, and to a few of its members who have worked very actively for the cut. The cut is significant in that it came about despite objections from two sources. Last spring Senate tried to appropriate money to lower ticket costs, and found that this action was turned down by the Board of Organizations and Activities because of changes in the Homecoming budget submitted by Senate.

Last week Senate tried once again to get an appropriation of student fees to lower the cost; this time BOA found it acceptable—even though it amounted to the same request.

After tickets had gone on sale it was learned that Dr. Nickerson, vice president, had vetoed the money. This left Senate "holding the bag". The senators now feel they must make up the difference between costs and ticket sales from some yet undetermined source.

So it seems that the students want a dance at a reasonable cost but must fight every administrative roadblock right up to the President of the University.

This will be done. I don't think it is too much to ask, considering that it is our student fee money that was requested in the first place. It seems that such an obviously just request should be heeded by those who are in power.

No Ann Landers; Just Isole Lashun

To the editor:

I would suggest that Mr. Isolation come out from behind his curtain of anonymity and show himself as the true liberal that he is. I would also suggest that in the future, the editors refrain from printing letters which bear fictitious signatures.

After all—this isn't an Ann Landers column.

Fashions Have Total Look

Grandma wonders what happened to those old creamy lace curtains up in the attic, father wants to go fishing but he cannot find his fish net, mother sings, "Where Have All The Flowers Gone?", brother hunts in vain for his checkerboard.

These mysteries are solved when one walks across the North Dakota State University campus and sees the various styles in women's stockings.

According to recent issues of Mademoiselle and Glamour, the "sweater leg" or "total look" is one of the main fashion features on college campuses this fall and winter. So girls, there is no need to be alarmed when an approaching male refuses to look into your eyes, because he is obviously aware of fall fashion which begins at the "ground".

Shoes are also a special attraction with detailed straps, laces, bows and buckles, rounded toes and colors to match the outfit. High boots will again keep legs warm this winter and will feature the new back zipper closing.

Knock knees and bowlegs are more evident with the skirt length three to four inches above the knee. Long, fitted sweaters come down over the skirt, repeating the pattern of the skirt and stockings to give that "total look."

Students have definite opinions on this year's fashion trends. Bonnie Heskin, HE 3, says, "Well, I think the stockings are cool. The total look is all right except that it sometimes looks too extreme. A lot of our fashions are going back to old times; my mother will soon be able to wear some of her old dresses."

Byron Bollingberg, AG 4, said, "Naturally, I like short skirts and I understand that textured stockings go with them. However, I don't like the textured stockings."

Karen Loberg, PH 4, sums it up by saying, "I think that most of the new fashions are cute, but not all of them are becoming."

ISA Students Plan Policy And Name Change

The Independent Student Association plans a name change.

With this name change a new group may develop, which will be a more functional association than is ISA.

Beulah F. Gregoire, chairman of women's physical education, suggested a name change, leaving out the word "independent." She said that a few students, for the most part freshmen, should represent each class, and that the organization should consist of about 20 members. Miss Gregoire also said, "The organization should be campus-wide and should not compete with the Greeks."

Dr. Catharine Cater, professor of English, suggested that ISA send representatives to various organizations such as Student Senate, Blue Key, Student Union Activities Board, and to religious organizations. She also suggested an inter-coordinating council. She said that the organization should take a firm stand on campus, and should act as a clearing house for independents.

Phil Hetland, professor of physics, suggested that faculty members attend the meetings. Students would be able to question them about controversial issues on campus.

Mike Geller, AS 3, suggested that the new organization should investigate places such as the Memorial Union and the Varsity Mart to see how our money is used. These findings could then be reported to the Student Senate. Tuition rates, approved housing, campus activities and the student regulation book could also be investigated.

Geller stated two main purposes for an organization of this type:

1. To enable college students to learn how NDSU functions.
2. To provide a representative voice for all students in policy-making commission. A block of 500 students more should have representative.

ISA President Roger Va-Greek said, "An organization must represent the students, not the Greeks or the Independents. We want to work with the Greeks and the administration and not want to antagonize them. The feelings of the student body must be brought to the attention of the administration. This way a stronger spirit could be promoted on campus."

AMBUSHED patrol takes cover from "snipers" during weekend maneuvers.

CADET Captain Leroy Also communicates to headquarters by walkie-talkie.

Army ROTC Holds Weekend Exercise

A convoy of four Army trucks left campus early Saturday morning bound for Detroit Mountain ski area. The cargo of the vehicles was approximately 70 students enrolled in the advanced Army ROTC program. According to Sheldon Halvorson, cadet commander of the men during the exercise, the purpose of the training maneuver was to acquaint the cadets with combat situations and responsibilities.

Halvorson said that there were two basically different functions. The seniors directed operations and the juniors followed the plans of the day. One phase of training during the day was a mile and a half march to the ski area from the paved highway. During the march cadets were subjected to "hit and run" harrassment by "enemy snipers." Cadet Lt. Col. Ron Morsch said that these "snipers" were supposed to illustrate the methods used in attacking a patrol on the move. After the trek the "men in green" set off into the woods on a path-finding mission which was an exercise in map and compass reading. After a quick lunch including any number of combinations of the Army's answer to the TV dinner (C Rations), a demonstration of a frontal attack was given by the seniors. This involved the assault of an "enemy" machine gun nest by troops armed with M1 rifles and grenade launchers. The rest of the afternoon was filled with class activities involving physical training, bayonet practice and troop leadership. Captain Donald Rumpel, USA, said that the training exercises were planned to give benefits that would help cadets perform better in both their Army and civilian lives.

South Engineering Has Changing Role

Computers, drawing rooms and welding laboratories are things of the past for South Engineering. In two months these will be replaced with music rooms, weaving laboratories and seed storage area.

Dave Ledet, chairman of the music department said, "part of this department is moving to South Engineering to meet the obligations to 173 students of music."

"The percentage increase in total students in the University is the same as the percentage increase in enrollment for this area of study," says Ledet. "I feel that by remodeling South Engineering and Putnam Hall, we are expanding to adequacy."

The bad acoustic effects now experienced because of the closeness of the choir room and band room will be removed by moving to South Engineering.

Risers and acoustical treatment will be added to the former computer room for instrument rehearsal. Space for instruments and uniform storage, a library, new recording equipment and offices has been provided in South Engineering.

For each student to do his required vocal and instrumental practicing, 25 rooms are necessary. Only five are in use now.

The new plan will put 15 of these in South Engineering and 5 more in Putnam for a total of 25. A record library and approximately 20 listening stations will be built in Putnam Hall to be used for music study. Turn tables and a tape deck will also be stalled there.

Ledet stated, "Twenty-two pianos are on order and records and scores (music to be along with the record) will be purchased."

The choral groups, voice and piano lessons, and music office will remain in Putnam Hall. The cost for the purchase of instruments and remodeling is estimated at $54,000.

Approximate breakdown of expenditure will be $12,000 for instruments, $20,000 for pianos, $10,000 for sound equipment and the remaining $12,000 for remodeling.

Student Movement Is Started Frowns On Asinine Movement

SPASM, Society for the Prevention of Asinine Student Movements, has made its appearance on the North Dakota State University campus.

Don Homuth, AS 2, started the idea here. He stated that the idea was not original on his part, but started last year at the University of Chicago and is now nationwide.

About 50 SPASM buttons are circulating in the area, most of them at NDSU, one at Moorhead State College and a few at Wahpeton State School of Science.

Explaining about the "society," Homuth said, "We are not 'anti-' anything specific. We are not politically, socially, educationally or religiously biased. However, we are against irrational, irresponsible conduct and thought."

Homuth declared that there has been "a proliferation of student movements on college campuses and some are ridiculous." He stated, however, that he thought NDSU was a fairly stable campus in this respect.

"We are not trying to promote apathy, but rather to stimulate students to keep a rational outlook and to think before joining a movement." According to Homuth, "Education through stimulation" is SPASM's purpose, maybe to "inject a little humor which can always be used."

"SPASM buttons are worn by a representative cross section of NDSU students. Both girls and guys, Independents and Greeks are wearing them," Homuth said. He added, "It is surprising how much interest has already been generated." He has been approached by four or five students every day who ask about the button and what it means.

Jon Houtkooper, AS 3, a member of the SPASM button, stated that he was offered 75 cents for a button by a student who thought they were all sold out wanted one.

SPASM at NDSU has not been organized and does not plan to. "We have no formal meetings and are not in any way connected with SPASM groups on other campuses," commented Homuth. He feels organization might destroy the idea. "If we organize we might become another asinine movement," he concluded.

Parks anywhere

A Honda needs a mere 3'x6' space to be perfectly content. And that puts a spot, about a mile away from space to be perfectly content. And that puts an automobile on its destination.

There are other sides to Honda, too. Hondas are fiendishly frugal. A gallon of gas will carry you up to 200 mpg, depending on which of the 15 Honda models you're driving. And insurance bills shrink to practically nothing. As for upkeep, a Honda needs little.

The shining example above is the remarkable Honda 50. It sells for about $215*. And there are 14 more models to choose from. Look them over.

Smorgasbord is featured at Monday and Wednesday noon luncheons for added variety.

Dacotah Inn, operated by the North Dakota State University Food Service, is open Monday through Friday, serving lunch from 11:30 a.m. until 2 p.m. and dinner from 5 p.m. until 8 p.m. according to Robert Schlaerth, food service manager.

"This dining facility is for the student, faculty, parents and campus visitors, but at present is used mostly by the faculty," said Schlaerth.

Schlaerth commented that there has been some misunderstanding about the use of the Dacotah Inn. "It is hoped that in the future more students will dine here," he said.

The smorgasbord includes prime roast beef on Monday and a variety of meats on Wednesday for $1.25. The Tuesday, Thursday and Friday lunch costs 90 cents including beverage.

The evening menu features choice inspected beef cuts of the highest quality, plus chicken and sea foods. The dinner menu is equal to those of the finest dining facilities in Fargo.

College Courses Given In Four Cities

University Extension courses in geology, sociology and engineering are set to get underway in four North Dakota cities, under the auspices of the North Dakota State University General Extension Division.

Beginning in Wishek and Linton, Oct. 15, Dean Seth Russell and Dr. Carle Zimmerman will teach a sociology course, "The Changing Rural Community."

The following morning, Oct. 16, a refresher course for engineers will get under way in the NDSU College of Engineering and Architecture in Fargo.

On Oct. 18, Dr. John Brophy will teach a geology course, "A View of the Earth," in Wyndmere. Dr. Brophy is an associate professor of geology at NDSU.

All three courses have been designed to meet special needs and interests of various adult groups. The engineering course is planned primarily to help engineers prepare for professional licensing examinations. It will consist of twenty three-hour sessions held on Saturday morning.

Dr. Brophy's course is a course in geology, dealing minerals and rocks, fossils, forms and their history, special emphasis on the geology of the local area. It can be taken for three hours of graduate undergraduate credit, or as a noncredit course.

The sociology course is planned to be of interest to farmers, businessmen, teachers, clergy, professional agricultural workers and to be of equal interest to men and women. It will deal primarily with the causes and effects of social factors in the rural community.

A fee of $30 will be charged for the engineering course, and to those taking the sociology and geology courses for credit, an additional $6 is charged for enrolling for the first time credit at NDSU.

Students who take the course without credit will pay $5.

Further information about courses is available from County Extension Agents, or by writing Dean Arthur Schulz, University Extension Division, NDSU.

Weekend Seminar To Be Held; Religious Groups Are Invited

The staff of the Ecumenical Institute of Chicago is conducting a weekend seminar Friday, Nov. 5, through Sunday, Nov. 7. The conference will be held at the Moments of Meditation Camp, which is located approximately 30 miles east of Moorhead, Minn.

Religious organizations from the University of North Dakota, Moorhead State College, Concordia College and North Dakota State University have been invited to participate.

Cheryl Lahren, registration chairman for the seminar, stated that all religious organizations at NDSU are invited to participate in this event.

The theme of the conference is "Significance in the Human Adventure." The course discussions will center around self-understanding, decision making, vocational significance, human relations and creative participation in society. Miss Lahren said, "The purpose is to enable one to find oneself and therefore get involved in the present age."

Total cost will be $15 per student; a $5 pre-registration fee is required with each application. According to Miss Lahren, the camp can accommodate only 100 students, and additional applications will be rejected.

Registration deadline is Oct. 25; the pre-registration fee will be refunded only if the applicant has been rejected.

It is suggested that students planning to attend the seminar prepare by reading "One Flew Over the Cuckoo's Nest", by Ken Kesey, "The Sybil" by Par Lagerkvist or "The Secret" by James Drought.

Preferred backgrounds of training are electrical, mechanical and industrial engineering in addition to physics. Citizenship is required for most positions.

Westinghouse Electric Corporation will be represented by Earl Johnson, Assist. Manager of Professional Employment. Johnson has indicated primary interest in electrical, mechanical and industrial engineering.

Phillips Petroleum Company, Atomic Energy Division, Idaho Falls, Idaho, will seek campus interviews with chemistry, mathematics and engineering students at all degree levels. Interested students are invited to register for a personal interview with T. W. Hawksworth.

U. S. Army Material Command, representing 30 civilian research and development laboratories of the U.S. Government will send Charles Gott to our campus seeking interviews with senior and graduate students.

Horvick Appointed Physics Chairman

President H. R. Albrecht announced the appointment of Eivind Horvick as acting chairman of the North Dakota State University Physics Department. Horvick is an associate professor of physics.

The new appointee takes the post from Dr. F. L. Minnear who asked to be relieved of assignment during his first year with the University. Minnear is scheduled to retire in 1958. Until a year ago Dr. Minnear was dean of the College of Chemistry and Physics.

Horvick, a native of Norway, has been a member of the NDSU faculty since 1952. He came to the United States and NDSU in 1948, and earned bachelor's and master's degrees at NDSU. Since then he has attended summer institutes at the Brookhaven National Laboratories, the Argonne National Laboratories, and the Sellaer Polytechnic Institute. Horvick was previously acting chairman of the department in 1958.

Student Senate Debates Ticket Price

An emergency request from Student Senate for $1,050 to help finance the Homecoming dance at North Dakota State University has been denied by NDSU Vice-President James Nickerson.

The money is needed to help defray the $2,250 expense needed to pay the Homecoming band. Originally this cost was to be taken care of by the sale of dance tickets; however the Commission of Campus Affairs voted to lower the cost of the dance tickets from $3.50 to $2 making it impossible to cover expenses by ticket sales alone. The maximum number of tickets that can be sold is 800.

The request for funds was first approved by the Board of Organizations and Activities. From there it went to the administration where it received its veto from Dr. Nickerson. Dr. Nickerson, acting in the absence of NDSU President Dr. H. R. Albrecht, said the matter didn't constitute an emergency and that the funds should be taken from another source.

Senate discussed the administration's veto Thursday night. Commissioner of Campus Affairs Robert Hendrickson said the administration is legally bound to pay the bill. He added that half of the money was paid to the band already and the other half is to be paid at 10 p.m. the night of the dance.

A motion was then made to push the request for funds and to call a special meeting of Senate if necessary.

STUDENT SENATE ALSO:

- * Accepted the resignation of advisor Eldon Walker
- * Approved a $70 request for the purchase of uniforms for the pom pom girls
- * Announced that the University Food Complex, Festival Hall, the Library and Memorial Union will be polling places for voting for Homecoming Queen

FINANCE REPORTS are given to Student Senate by Finance Commissioner Lionel Estenson.

Alumni To Hold Reunions

Alumni of North Dakota State University classes of 1940 and 1955 will hold reunions on Oct. 15-16 as part of the 75th Anniversary Homecoming celebration.

Jerry Lingen, alumni association executive vice president, noted that it is traditional to honor the 25-year class, but that this is the first time at NDSU that a reunion of the ten-year class will be held.

Festivities for the two groups will begin with a 4:30 p.m. social hour on Oct. 15 at the Oak Manor Motel. From there they will go to the Memorial Union Ballroom to attend the 75th Anniversary Awards Banquet.

Saturday's activities include a 9 a.m. coffee hour, attendance at the Homecoming Parade, and a noon luncheon in the Memorial Union. That afternoon, the visitors will attend the Homecoming football game between the Bison and the University of North Dakota.

Play To Be Given Oct. 27-30

The play "The Days Between" will be presented at the Little Country Theatre Oct. 27-30.

Robert Anderson, author of "Tea and Sympathy", has given permission through the American Playwrights Theater to have his best play produced in 50 colleges and universities before it produced commercially.

The play centers around a college English instructor who wants to write. Several of his former students have published novels. His envy of their fame and recognition influences his life until he is forced to choose between writing and his marriage.

Balanced Offense Paves Way For Win

Balanced rushing and passing efforts by Bison backfield men sparked the top-ranked Bison of North Dakota State University to a 47-7 victory over the Augustana Vikings Saturday in a game played at Sioux Falls, S. D.

Terry Hanson and Jim Carlson, Bison quarterbacks, shared duties while guiding NDSU for 448 total yards, including 231 yards passing and 217 yards rushing. Bison coach Ron Erhardt called the offensive performance "our best, most balanced of the year."

Hanson, a sophomore, hit two touchdown passes while Carlson, a junior, pitched one scoring pass. The two Bison quarterbacks completed 14 of 19 pass attempts in the best Bison aerial attack this season.

Vance Connor and Ken Rota, Bison halfbacks, continued their steady ground gaining. Rota ran for 129 yards in 15 carries while Connor gained 81 yards in 17 carries. Connor scored two touchdowns while Rota, the nation's leading small college scorer, rushed for one.

Rota's touchdown upped his nation-leading total to 60 points in five games. The Bison sophomore has gained 523 yards in 76 carries for an average of 6.7 yards per run. Rota's longest carry of the year came Saturday when he broke away for a 66 yard touchdown jaunt in the third period.

Augustana found the Bison defense permeable for only 221 yards in the North Central Conference contest. NDSU defenders allowed Viking backs 93 yards rushing, while the Bison gained possession of the ball three times on fumbles.

Gary Sandbo, the Viking heralded quarterback, hit on 8 of 27 passes for 128 yards. Sandbo, a sophomore, engineered a 43-0 upset over the University of South Dakota last week with 256 yards passing and rushing. Coach Erhardt commented, "He's as fine a quarterback as we've faced this year."

Bison linebacker Gene Gebhardt scored his second touchdown of the season by kicking off a Sandbo pass and running 63 yards for the score. Gebhardt intercepted a University of Wisconsin (Milwaukee) pass in the Bison opener and scored.

Augustana homecoming fans found reason to cheer when the Vikings scored their touchdown. Sandbo hit Viking end Werner Schwab on a 14 yard scoring play with two minutes remaining in the game.

Lowell Linderman, the Bison's split end, caught five passes for 85 yards and two touchdowns in the contest. Linderman, a 6'1", 180 pound Bison track star, teamed with Hanson on a 33 yard scoring pass in the second quarter, and later with Carlson on a three yard scoring play. Erhardt described Linderman's play. "He was our offense for a big part of the game. Linderman has now caught 10 passes for 172 yards and four touchdowns in the five Bison games."

This week's SPECTRUM Player of the Week award goes to Linderman for his play in the Augustana contest.

Viewing the over-all performance of the Bison, Erhardt commented, "We're real pleased with our performance at Sioux Falls. Our offense was the best it has been this season. Ardell Weigandt, Gene Gebhardt and Steve Irgens gave us real good games in our defensive line."

FROSH SPEEDSTER Glenn Nevils shows the form that helped him score two touchdowns against Concordia frosh Thursday.

Lettermen Boost Wrestling Hopes

A corp of returning lettermen give Bison varsity wrestling coach Bucky Maughan hope for a good season. Joe and Steve McCormick, Tom Gilmore, Dean Dormanen and Dave Humphreys will serve as lettermen on this year's wrestling team.

"Personnel-wise, the varsity won't be changed much from last year, but the added year of experience and our strong freshman group should greatly improve our team over-all," Maughan commented. According to the wrestling mentor, six transfer students will help the team a great deal and bolster our freshman unit.

Last year's wrestling team had an 8-5 record. Maughan explained his pre-season views of the upcoming Bison schedule. "It's going to be hard to improve our season record this year with three tougher teams on our schedule." St. Cloud State College, Minot State College and Omaha University have been added to year's schedule. Maughan pressed optimism that the tougher schedule would improve Bison's chances in the National Collegiate Athletic Association.

Freshmen Bill Lawson 120 and Dick Lundstrum 180 leading prospects for this year. Maughan hopes that freshmen gridders can supplant a heavyweight wrestler for year's squad.

Terry Nowinski 250 pounds and Mike Birdis 275 pounds Maughan's hope of filling a position that the Bison were weak last year. Maughan commented the presently successful Bison football team for their winning efforts and commented, "The gridders help stimulate a winning spirit in our wrestlers."

North Dakota State University grapplers begin practicing Oct. 15, an NCAA rule. Maughan's wrestlers will have 14 regular scheduled meets, one North Central Conference meet and NCAA meets.

Grooters First; Bison Cop Second

University of Manitoba country runners won first place at the Sioux Invitational meet Saturday in Grand Forks by edging North Dakota State University. UM totaled only 65 points for the win while the Bison earned 65, followed by the University of North Dakota with 73.

Roger Grooters, the Bison number one runner, won first place individual honors at the event. Eight collegiate runners were entered in the event.

This Saturday the NDSU athletic department will host the Bison Invitational cross-country meet. Coach Larry Knoblich pressed optimism in Bison chances of winning their own "Mankato will bring a tough team here, and a lot of other good teams will be here but with a strong effort we have a fairly good chance."

1952 BISON who last won the Nickel Trophy by defeating the University of North Dakota Sioux 14-13.

Bison Stake Everything Against Sioux

Unbeaten records, the nickel trophy and probably the North Central Conference title go on the line Saturday at Dacotah Field when the Bison meet arch-rival University of North Dakota Sioux.

Sioux gridders are unbeaten by four NCC schools and Bemidji State College while the Bison have beaten two non-conference opponents and three NCC foes. Forecasters see the game as a battle of offenses. Sioux depend on their aerial game for important yardage while Bison gridders have used a running attack most advantageously.

Some see the game as a defensive battle. Sioux defenders have allowed their four NCC opponents a total of 34 points while the Bison defense has allowed 27 points in three NCC contests. North Dakota State University has allowed its NCC opponents an average of 154 yards per game while UND gave up 216 yards per contest.

Sioux gridders played their closest contest of the season last Saturday when they beat the South Dakota State University Jackrabbits 14-7. The Jackrabbits

Football Continues

With more than half of the scheduled games already played, touch football moved into its fourth week Tuesday. Erv Kaiser, intramural director, hopes the remaining games scheduled will be completed by the end of next week.

Three team positions remain in the five brackets of the IM bowling league. Interested organizations may still enter teams in bowling by contacting Kaiser at the fieldhouse.

Touch football scores for the past week are:

- Alpha Tau Omega (1) 12 — Churchill 0
- Sigma Alpha Epsilon (1) 24 — Sigma Chi 0
- Sigma Alpha Epsilon (2) 12 — Kappa Psi (2) 0
- Kappa Psi (1) 12 — Alpha Tau Omega (2) 0

- Sigma Alpha Epsilon (1) 24 — Reed (1) 0
- Theta Chi (2) 2 — Ceres Hall 0
- Alpha Gamma Rho 12 — Sigma Phi Delta 0
- Sigma Nu 2 — Reed (3) 0
- Sigma Chi 2 — Reed (1) 0
- Sigma Alpha Epsilon (2) 6 — ASCE 0 took an early lead with the passing of Ron Meyer who hit 17 of 39 passes for 184 yards.

Missing from the Sioux squad when they play here Saturday will be Ron Green their leading pass catcher. Green broke his collar bone in the Sioux's 34-0 rout of State College of Iowa. Dave Line and Dennis Olson, two 6'5" ends, team with flanker back Stan Wright as receivers in the crucial NCC contest Saturday.

Wright, Green's replacement at flanker, caught a 52 yard Corey Colehour pass for the winning margin in the Sioux-Jacks contest. Colehour leads all NCC quarterbacks with 56 completions in 93 attempts for 810 yards.

Head coach Darrell Mudra commented, "The Bison will have to key on Colehour's passing although the Sioux running attack is strong too. It should be a real tough battle."

Defensive line coach Ron Erhardt stated, "We'll vary our drills this week, hoping to get the guys up by Saturday's game. I think last year our men were more ready to play Wednesday than Saturday because of advance publicity for the game."

Bison gridders suffered a 20-13 loss to the Sioux last season, dropping them into a tie with SCI and UND for the NCC title.

Baby Bison Drop Opener 24-14; Nevils Makes Impressive Showing

Concordia Cobber freshmen defeated the Baby Bison 24-14 Wednesday evening at Dacotah Field in the season opener for the North Dakota State University frosh.

The Cobber frosh, despite a 122 yard rushing effort by Bison halfback Glenn Nevils, scored twice in the final quarter to take the victory. Nevils, a 5'8" 175 pound halfback who played his prep football in Minnesota, scored two Bison touchdowns.

Fans, 1000 strong, saw the fleet halfback gain an average of 10.2 yards per carry. Nevils, a ten second flat 100 yard dash man, is the first Negro football player in NDSU's history.

Both freshmen units ranked closely in the statistics columns. The Cobbers had 220 total yards while the Bison had 247. Each club had 12 first downs.

Several fourth quarter interceptions by the Cobbers set up the game winning scores. Concordia quarterbacks passed 17 times with eight completions for 85 yards. Charles Rathert, a Cobber end, scored two touchdowns.

Dick Koppenhaver, Bison freshmen grid coach, commented, "Our boys didn't function very well under pressure. Our receivers dropped several punts and their were a lot of mechanical errors that will have to be worked out."

Varsity defensive line coach Ron Erhardt viewed the game optimistically, "They made mistakes but their a hard hitting team. They'll improve a lot before they come out for spring practice next year."

Local Bookies Pick Bison

Las Vegas oddsmakers at the Rendevous Race Track declined to comment to the Spectrum on Saturday's battle between the University of North Dakota Sioux and the North Dakota State University Bison.

Downtown Fargo bookies pick the Bison as a three to six point favorite in the traditional contest. However, the fierce battles which characterize the long-time rivalry make odds highly unreliable. Many times in the past, the favored team has lost.

Last year for example, Bison gridders were slightly favored to beat the Sioux but a 20-13 loss ruined NDSU's bid for an undefeated season. Regardless of previous performances, Sioux and Bison footballers seem to meet their arch rivals with greater incentive when the Nickel Trophy game begins.

Despite the fact that UND holds a 25 game edge in the total wins column of the rivalry, each year brings increased interest in the contest. The type of battle waged by Bison-Sioux gridders is best demonstrated by the fact that 19 of the last 50 contests have ended with less than ten points separating the two scores.

Evidently, two evenly matched Bison and Sioux squads took the field in Grand Forks in 1952 when the Bison edged the Sioux 14-13. North Dakota Agricultural College needed a missed extra point attempt from a Sioux kicker to gain its first victory in five years.

Statistically the 1952 battle was very close. Sioux gridders compiled 17 first downs compared to 16 for the Bison. UND quarterback Dick Koppenhaver spearheaded the Sioux offense for a total of 276 yards compared with 266 yards for the NDAC squad.

Offensively, this Saturday's game could have a similar outcome with UND relying mainly on its passing game and NDSU doing the rushing. Corey Colehour, UND quarterback, is considered one of the best in the league and presently leads the nation in pass completion percentages. Colehour, like Koppenhaver in the 1952 battle, is a letterman and an established signal caller.

Bison offensive duties rest in the hands of Colehour sophomore quarterback Terry Hanson and his two halfbacks, Ken Rota and Vance Connor. The Bison running backs in the 1952 battle were freshmen John Sowa and Dick Wallentine. Freshmen were eligible to play varsity football until 1955.

Sowa scored both Bison touchdowns in the 1952 battle while quarterback Frank Esposito added the extra points. Koppenhaver directed both Sioux marches that ended in touchdowns.

Mac Wenskunas, head coach of 1952 Bison, described his views on the 14-13 victory, "It was as even a contest as I ever want to coach in. With every personnel change that I made, I worried that I might be making a move that would lose the game for us."

The 1952 Bison victory had no effect on the NCC championship however. State College of Iowa won the title with a 6-0 record. Bison finished their season with a 4-2 NCC mark while the Sioux dropped to sixth in the conference standings with a 2-4.

Observers say this year's Sioux-Bison clash has had greater publicity than any of the past contests. Several reasons for the build-up are sighted; NDSU and UND finished in a tie last season, the Bison's rise to the number one small college team in the nation and the string of 12 wins over the Bison, the Sioux will attempt to maintain add collar to the contest.

UND is the only NCC foe that Darrel Mudra hasn't beaten in his two years as NDSU's head football coach. At the same time, UND's head coach Marv Helling will seek to maintain his unbeaten status against the Bison. Helling has coached eight victories over NDSU.

BASKETBALL CALL ISSUED

Head coach Doug Cowman announced Monday that varsity and freshmen basketball practice will begin Oct. 15. All interested students are requested to see Cowman. A new feature of this year's basketball schedule is the NCC tournament to be held in Sioux Falls, S. D. Dec. 28-30.
