Fuglesten And Anderson Win Administrative Positions

by James V. Glynn
Larry Fuglesten was elected Student Body President by more than a two to one majority over Marilyn Mathison. The final totals are Fuglesten 1220 and Mathison 503. "I'm very happy," commented Fuglesten Monday night, "I've worked a long time for this." He added, "Marilyn had me worried." He stated that the first thing he would like to move on is the reorganization of student government. He stated, "We're (Student Senate) setting on a little island." Fuglesten mentioned that the Legislative Research Commission would play a key role this spring quarter in collecting information on reorganization. "We have a lot of places to go for ideas," he explained.

When asked about appointment of commissioners he answered that he had several people in mind but had not yet definitely selected any of them.

Mathison commented, "I would like to thank those who faithfully supported me throughout the campaign and to extend my congratulations to Larry. I hope the interest generated in the campaign will have a positive influence on interest in student government."

The most unique feature of this year's race is that it was the first time in the history of North Dakota State University that a coed was a serious candidate for the presidency.

With the results as they are at least another NDSU tradition remains uncomplicated. What would a woman president do about pants if the University of North Dakota defeated NDSU's football team in the fall?

Mike Anderson comfortably won the title of Student Body Vice President with 856 votes. Dale (Doc) Buchanan followed with 517 votes. Greg Kapaun received 309 votes.

As Fuglesten and Anderson vacate a second year of their two year senate seats, eight positions will be filled by those who ran for one year senate.

The eight in order of votes received are: Linda Nelson 1040, Janet Olsen 768, Robert Keogh 763, Terrence Grim 725, Chuck Gress 662, Bob Hanson 639, Jeanette Ulfers 615 and Robert DuBord 597.

Voting for the other campaigners for one year senate seats was as follows: Glenda Brown 549, Doug Christianson 493, John Garrass 420, Marlow Nelson 359 and Gary Krump 318.

The six two-year seats were filled by Nelson Berg 1002, Mel Nelson 863, Jim Johnson 787, Donald Hagen 720, Rodney Link 617 and Daniel Devlin 609.

Roger Beaver was seventh by only six votes with a total of 603. Election officials recounted ballots and were convinced that there were no errors that would cause different result on such a small margin.

The other votes ran: John Mason 515, James Hauge 494, Dale Carpentier 490, William Harbeke 480 and Rodney Hegvik 450.

The constitutional amendment to create a Student Activities Board independent of the vice presidency passed by a vote of 1475 yes and 422 no.

The change to a Board of Publications passed by a vote of 1340 yes to 538 no.

The amendment to remove the requirement of Student Senate having faculty advisors failed by 1030 against and 904 for. Also failing was the amendment which would have made it possible for a sophomore to become Student Body President. The vote was 846 yes and 1103 no.

Little I Draws Near Capacity Crowd

A capacity crowd witnessed the showmanship contest at the 41st Little International held Saturday evening in Sheppard Arena. The Showmanship event climaxed the two day affair which included the Hall of Fame banquet, various livestock and crops judging contests and an engineering show.

Larry Griffin AG 4 won the Grand Champion Showman award ahead of Darryl Lutovsky AG 3. Griffin won his way into the finals with an Angus beef animal while Lutovsky won the Duroc swine division.

Also included in the Saturday night activities were the sorority cow milking contest which was won by the Kappa Delta sorority and the calf tying contest. Churchill Hall won the calf tying event.

The annual Agricultural Engineering Show which is held during Little I included more than 40 displays. Over 500 people toured the Agricultural Engineering building Saturday.

The Hall of Fame Banquet held Friday evening at the Food Center honored R. D. Magill of Verona, N. D., as the Man of the Year in N. D. agriculture.

Clark Robinson, the banquet's principal speaker, related incidents in Magill's past relative to his accomplishments in becoming Man of the Year.

Larry Wollmuth AG 4 won the animal science department livestock judge of the year award and was given recognition at the banquet. Members of the livestock and meats judging teams were introduced by their coaches.

Students Get Chance At Teacher Evaluation Plan

by Glenn Solberg

A teacher evaluation system; the results of which will be tabulated, published and distributed to faculty members and students by early in spring quarter, will be conducted Monday through Wednesday, Feb. 20-22.

Evaluation booths will be set up in Minard Hall, the Union and the Food Center and will be open from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. each of the three days.

Each student will present his activity ticket at the booth, which will be staffed by members of Libra, the sophomore coed service honorary organization, and will be given one IBM card for each instructor he has during this present quarter.

Along with this card will be given a list of evaluation questions and a list of numbers designated to individual instructors.

He will then fill out the lists which will then be placed in a sealed container.

Student will not be required to sign their names to any of the attached material.

Bob Challey CH 4 outgoing student body vice president, has spearheaded the evaluation program, since the authority to carry out such programs was vested in the office of the vice president last November.

"Material from nine colleges and universities with reputable evaluation programs was obtained, with the results from the University of Washington, North Carolina University and Morris Harvey University used as final criteria for the local plan," stated Challey.

Dean of Students, David Young, worked with Challey in selecting fourteen questions to be used as a basis for the system.

The questions were submitted to the counseling and testing department for approval as to their validity and usefulness.

According to Challey, "the teacher evaluation system has been applied on this campus for the last two years, but efforts to reveal the results to students were blocked by Faculty Senate, which offered the results only to faculty members.

The object of this year's program is to perfect the system used during the previous years and to give the students an accurate evaluation of their instructors. This includes verified statistics concerning student opinion of classes and teaching methods to instructors.

"The success of the program depends completely on the number of students that take part in the evaluation and in the sincerity

Sharivar Has Chairwoman And Plans

by Mike Kihne

Due to much controversy concerning Sharivar, this year's event will be undergoing several changes.

Carol Gellner AS 3, chairman of Sharivar '67, stated, "Sharivar must include not only aspects at which students, parents, faculty with which the instructors are judged by these students," stated Challey.

He added that "students have been campaigning for a program such as this. Here's their chance to participate."

and others can be spectators, but also activities in which they can participate."

Miss Gellner added, "Sharivar is an opportunity to look at the campus as it really is, a unique integration of educational and extra-curricular activities."

As funds have not been appro-riated for this year's Sharivar, President Albrecht will appropriate the funds necessary for this year's event.

Next year Sharivar will be budgeted for and controlled by Student Activities Board. Sharivar this spring will act independently with some communication with SAB.

Cited as one of the major problems of last year's Sharivar was the lack of communication between students and faculty.

Also a problem was the fact that student participation in the past, for the most part, terminated with the display building, etc., with only minor involvement during the actual duration of Sharivar. This problem will hopefully be eliminated this year by a trend toward actual student participation in Sharivar.

No definite plans have been set for promotion of student interest in Sharivar as yet, however this may come about through student participation in departmental activities during Sharivar, with less emphasis placed on departmental exhibits.

The dates set for Sharivar this year are May 5-6.

Retraction

The phrase "corrupt local politicians" which appeared here February 1 was an unfair and unfounded indictment of Fargo's chief public officials.

The Spectrum editorial staff deeply regrets any distress to the city commission and others caused by this indefensible remark.

An interesting sidelight to last week's report on streaking has recently been unearthed. While streaking itself is a stupid form of rebellion and an asinine form of behavior, some of the onlookers acted in an even less intelligent manner and hence got struck.

A Gamma Phi happened to be seated in a car in the Dinan lot with several friends when one of the bare bodied whizzes zipped by and like a nice, clean-cut, moralistic coed she immediately zipped into Dinan to report the incident.

After informing the omnipresent defender of law, order and virtue, the campus cop, about the presence of the athletes, she returned to the car to await the arrival of justice's defender. While waiting the group got somewhat thirsty so they tested the new, improved pop tops on several beer cans.

STRUCK OUT

When the law did arrive they, not the bare-bottomed streakers, were in trouble.

A streaker also commented this week that there was a practical aspect behind the sport. He defended the activities on the grounds that to be a top notch streaker, i.e. not get caught, one has to be in top physical condition hence promoting physical fitness.

HOW TO MISSPEND MONEY

Money is always a problem even to institutions such as ours, or maybe especially to ours. With this in mind the administration should be chastised for the ways which it is spending what little it has available.

Take for example the expenditure of more than $22,000 to air condition Burgum Hall. This residence needs the comforts of artificially cool air for only a few months of the year, and then only provides this luxury for a limited number of students.

IF YOU'RE COMFORTABLE, WHY LEARN?

In the summer it is hottest during the day and in the day most students are in class or elsewhere away from the dorm. If any place needs cooling in the summer it would be the windowless library, but one cannot expect the campus planners to realize this.

And what the library needs more than air conditioning is more books, more lights and better organization, not to mention more money. The $22,000 squandered on Burgum could have gone a long way to restore the library budget which was cut by nearly an equal amount.

The Experiment in Living, vast expenditures on KDSU, tremendous losses sustained annually by SAB and the purchase of the little-used ambulance are all luxuries which this University can not afford at this time. All would be needed in time but while North Dakota State University is still suffering the transition to a University someone somewhere should be more critical of how the too-little funds are spent.

SLAUGHTER HOUSE?

Talking of squandering coins, the Union has recently embarked on the building of a beauty salon. Just what this place needed!

It has been suggested that a slaughter house may have been a better idea aside from the fact that it would be used more often.

SHE'S A FINK

Keeping faith has shown signs of finally paying off. In a three hour session last Friday the Student Affairs committee of Faculty Senate approved a major portion of the proposed rule changes.

The committee, by a 4-2 vote, placed fraternities and sororities with University resident halls, thereby not allowing liquor in the houses. This was a particularly bitter defeat since a negative vote was cast by a coed who during debate was concerned by the accurate representation of student wishes.

The administration, though, has the final say on these matters and it is hoped that by the end of the year some solution to all problems will be worked out.

COME TO SENATE

Along these lines, senate next week should prove to be more interesting than usual. AWS plans to be there in force (all several members) to present its views on something or other. It is assumed that the members will defend their stand, though it has not yet been made public. The group's advisor has declined to announce the findings of the poll and of course her little robots won't either.

A LIBRARY NOT FOR STUDENTS

Now that final time is nearly here once again the ever-present problem of library hours surfaces. The present regime in that ugly building is showing as little imagination in coping with the facility's staggering problems as the last one did. All that the new head has done has been to slap a new coat of paint on the whole mess.

Since the quarter system is conducive to procrastination and the majority of the students have the majority of their work to do in the remaining time, now more than ever the building of books should open earlier, close later and remain open ALL NEXT WEEKEND. But do not expect this for it may be considered promoting academic work and who would want this University to become known for that?

Literary Magazine

Scopcraft Proving To Be Successful

Scopcraft, the campus magazine, is already proving very successful according to Editor Kathy Tietgens AS 3 and Antony Oldknow, advisor. The magazine is the brainchild of Oldknow, who was formerly at the University of Leeds, England. Oldknow stated, "I had seen the idea of a literary magazine work at Leeds which is close in size to this University. I thought if the magazine could work there, it could work here at North Dakota State University." Oldknow added that he was very pleased with the efforts of the magazine staff. "Without dictatorship they have made a running organization that works." The magazine is not the first of its kind to be tried on campus. Its predecessor titled "Volume Six" was only published irregularly because of a lack of material. According to Miss Tietgens, the purpose of Scopcraft is to serve as a means to present both student and faculty works to the public. The magazine is published on campus, but it is distributed at all the Fargo-Moorhead colleges and various sites in the community. Scopcraft is entirely self-supporting and is not under specific University jurisdiction. The name of the magazine was originated by students in an Anglo-Saxon class fall quarter. Scop was a court poet and craft means art or craft. "Scopcraft has been very popular here and on the other campuses," stated Miss Tietgens, "in spite of a lack of publicity." The magazine staff welcomes any contributions by students and faculty members. A screening committee composed of five to seven different members of the editorial board read each piece of material and rate it. The best works appear in the subsequent issues of Scopcraft.

All types of writing are sought including poetry, short stories, essays, critiques, drama and expositions. Contributions may be sent to Antony Oldknow, Dept. of English, NDSU. Scopcraft is available on campus in the library, Union information desk and Varsity Mart.

Union Art Committee To Accumulate A Collection

Kay Dorrance The Union is establishing an art collection, thus far consisting of sculptures, graphics, prints and paintings. These art works by such artists as Douglas Eckhart, Gari Burkhardt and Richard Lyons are located in the Dacotah Inn, Ballroom, Music Listening Lounge and other places throughout the Union. Art specimens are purchased by an art acquisition committee consisting of Marvin Johnson AR 4; Leo Johnson, art instructor; Catherine Cater, professor of English; George Schmidt, director of the Union; and Tom Gunkelman. This committee is always in the market to buy good works by students and local artists, according to Kril. It will have option to buy more prints at the Student Art Show to be held later this month. Included in the collection are 40 prints representing various states. Works such as the 14 metal sculptures on loan from Thomas Koehnlein are now being shown. The sculptures by Koehnlein include the "Building" and the "Crucifix." An art exhibit was held last year with the idea of buying some paintings. One painting of an old German WW II fighter pilot by Robert Nelson, University of North Dakota, was slashed. According to Kril, it was probably slashed because many of Nelson's paintings tend to have homosexual themes. In spite of this, Nelson is scheduled to speak here March 9. Kril also said that controversial themes, as Nelson's, have limited the art market, since there is risk in displaying controversial subjects. Since the Union is a public thoroughfare, care must be taken in selection of prints, he concluded. The locations of the art exhibits are not permanent; they will be rotated throughout the Union.

University Undergoing A Peaceful Revolution

Inhabitants of this campus are trading in their second-class citizen cards. No demonstrations or protest marches are needed. Instead we are reaping the benefits of the sit-ins, walkouts, etc. of other campuses.

But even more important, we are reaping the benefits of a wide-awake administration. An example of this is the letter from President H. R. Albrecht that was printed on this page in last week's edition.

Although the letter was written to clarify the University's position on the Bond issue, it brought out a point worth repeating. "The University reaffirms its belief that when its faculty, staff and students participate in off-campus affairs they do so freely as their conscience dictates, and unhampered by whatever University policies or philosophies upon the issues may be."

An important first step is taken when members of a university can express their opinions and legally act according to their beliefs without fear. Students can be confident that administrators will not be pressured into instituting disciplinary action against students who are opposed by powerful private citizens. Faculty need not fear delays in promotion because they have spoken against the status quo of the state or city.

A second step that is closely intertwined with the first is the attitudes of the administrative staff.

When these staff members begin to think of the students as free thinking individuals with the same inalienable rights as others, the populace of North Dakota State University gains new dignity.

There are indications that members of the administrative staff not only believe this but also are willing to make new efforts to protect the rights of the individual student. The new policy in the Admissions and Records Department of not releasing a student's records to anyone until the student has expressed his permission is one example of their concern for students' rights.

Indeed, it appears that as the students indicate that they want to be responsible for their legal freedoms, they will get these freedoms.

No regulation changes instituted by students will serve as the best example here.

Although it seems that the changes are a long time in coming, many of them will come through. There has been no conscious effort by anyone to hold them up indefinitely in some committee. If the time lapse is to be blamed on anything it should be the complex machinery of approval that the regulation changes must go through.

Perhaps the next step is to change the machinery of policy and regulation to make it more efficient. It will then be able to keep up with a rapidly growing and changing University.

Without this new attitude the campus would either erupt with protest, as have many campuses throughout the country or it would become sluggishly restrictive. JVG

Theme Is Ridiculous

What do the Red Guards in China and Student Activities Board have in common? They both are using titles of 4,000 words to describe what any other person could name in a handful.

Take the Chinese description of Americans for example. Instead of calling us Americans or United States citizens, we are the decadent, Wall Street Capitalistic, barbarian war mongers; uncivilized mass murders of the sweet, kind, considerate, underprivileged, anti-revisionists, underdeveloped, fledging peoples of the nations of Asia, South America, North America, Europe, Southeast Asia, Australia, Africa and the people's honest-to-God democratic republic of all the people of the sovereign, most populous state of China.

In line with this ridiculousness, SAB has entitled the upcoming Winter Weekend "The History of Conquest, or the Rise and Fall of the Sioux Empire."

If this trend continues can you imagine what the theme for Shari-var will be if it is finally held this spring? It may turn out something like: "The life of the naive, young, uneducated, irresponsible and ignorant students who are being taught by the wise, old, ambitious, concerned, kindhearted polymen who make up the large, distinguished, underpaid but unswervingly loyal faculty under the guidance of the everpresent know-it-all mature, honest progressive revisionist administration as seen through the eyes of the rich, powerful, concerned, progressive, loyal, giving, thoughtful and trusting parents." Letters to the Editor . . . Senate Has Positive Points Writer Berates Negative Senate Views

To The Editor:

In answer to Ardell Faul's letter to the Editor last week I say: North Dakota State University's "chronic problem" isn't student senators, but the Fails whose "valuable time" is so limited that in two years they haven't had time to find out what student senators are.

We do know, however, that they "are a nuisance" because they "plaster their names all over the campus, in some of the most annoying places." How else would the "valuable time" students see them?

Does Mr. Faul consider local, state and national elections annoying also, with billboards, radio and T.V. advertising? Possibly he needs some "bright red letters" to awaken him to the fact that campaigning and elections are a necessary part of our system of government.

I'll grant him the fact that Student Senate probably isn't all it's made out to be, but that still doesn't justify giving up on the system and crawling into a cave.

The people running for office should at least get some credit for taking some of their time and trying to improve the system.

Lastly he contends that "student senators are nothing." Why are they nothing? Is it because some of the people they represent are so busy digging in their caves with their "valuable time" that they see fit to abandon a system without even trying to better it?

I admire Mr. Faul for supporting his beliefs, but I can't admire his negative attitude on Student Senate elections!

Dean Young Says Paper Misreported

To The Editor:

Although the similarity between what I actually said and the puerile remarks attributed to me by your reporter is certainly a vague one, her intention hardly seems obscure. The entire package of misquotes, quotes out of context and manifest fabrications is delivered with a grand sneer.

I think this is particularly unfortunate in view of my efforts to work constructively with the Spectrum and to keep all communication channels open. However, aside from my no less than ordinary vulnerability to gratuitous disrespect, there is the more serious vulnerability of student government. You are entitled to know that I am not inclined to risk its sincere attempts in any more so-called "interviews."

Members of my staff may continue to take their own chances. But those who are familiar with your legacy of journalism by deliberate provocation consider me the slow learner.

Opinions Expressed On MUN Conflict

To The Editor:

I wish to take this opportunity to tell you how much I enjoyed my visit to your campus. I attended the Model United Nations, as an observer, in my capacity as Regional Director for the Collegiate Council for the U. N.

I feel that the efforts of Dr. Hayat and the students of the MUN staff were the main reasons for a most excellent conference. If I would not have known it was only your second one, I would never have guessed it. Everything ran very smoothly and the enthusiasm of the participants as well as that of the student body, something uncommon the host campus, could have only been possible through the work of the staff.

I think that you can be very proud of the MUN staff and the superb job that they performed.

Muhlenberg College Evaluates Unlimited Class Cut Program

(I.P.) — The unlimited cuts system at Muhlenberg College is currently being evaluated both by the faculty and by the Student Council. Several professors suggested departmental standards on attendance while holding as closely as possible to the philosophy of the unlimited cuts program. A few indicated concern over the students (though admittedly a very small minority) who have been hurt by the system.

Judging from the results of a poll by Student Council, the students are very much in favor of the program. Responses from 555 were received and of these 98 per cent were in favor of continuing the program, 97 per cent felt that it had not hurt their grades and 73 per cent said they cut about the same number of classes as under the old system. 13 per cent said they cut more and 14 per cent said they cut less.

Student Council also recommends that the faculty consider the possibility of adopting an Interim Program. Such a program would last approximately one month and would separate the fall and spring semesters.

The Interim Program aims to correct the routine regularity, fragmentation of time and energy, and overload of the present curricular program by: 1) Giving both students and faculty an increased flexibility within the academic framework; 2) Encouraging innovation and experimentation among students and faculty on all levels; 3) Giving all students the opportunity to pursue single-mindedly a topic of their own interest and to do in-depth study in a creative and adventuresome way and 4) Involving students in other educational resources beyond the campus and their culture.

To The Editor:

What kind of hoax is a Model United Nations that sanctions the role of the United States in the Vietnam War? MUN delegates should put aside their own patriotism when they agree to represent a foreign country. MUN should not be a sounding board for American jingoism.

Is not the purpose of MUN to foster understanding and tolerance of the policies of foreign governments, even when they conflict with our own foreign policy? If so, MUN, 1967, was a failure. We can only hope for better results next year.

Dance dominates the Fine Arts Festival this week with concerts by Orchesis Dance Society and the Jose Molina Dancers.

... AND ALL THAT JAZZ

Orchesis presents its dance production entitled "Catalytic Cadence . . . and all the Jazz" at 8:15 p.m. Thursday in Festival Hall. Tickets are available from members of Orchesis, at the Union Information Desk or at the door the evening of the performance for $1.

Variety is the key word in the 20 original dances choreographed by the members of Orchesis. Among the tough-provoking dance titles are "Green Onions," "Free X," "Protest," "The Three Faces of Eve" and "Kigmies." Numbers include solos, duets, group dances and an opening and finale by the full cast.

Two dances, "Latin Jazz" and "Heat Wave," choreographed by the well know jazz choreographer-dancer Gus Giordano will also be performed. Giordano was the choreographer for the Perry Como television show as well as for movies, night clubs and Broadway.

Led by advisor Marillyn Nass and Orchesis president Jill Johnston HE 3, the 23 selected dancers have spent an average of 30 to 40 rehearsal hours for each three-minute dance they perform.

BAILLES ESPANOLES

Spanish dancers move onto the campus scene Friday when the Jose Molina Dancers present a program at 8:15 p.m. in Festival Hall.

Their repertoire is diversified and includes songs and dances from all of the Spanish provinces, the court of Charles III, Spanish operas and ballets and from gypsy camps. Dancers, singers and instrumentalists make up the troupe which boasts an $80,000 wardrobe of costumes.

For a promising, colorful and spirited performance, see these dancers, free to all North Dakota State University students as a part of the 1967 lyceum series.

POETRY NORTH

In conjunction with the Student Activities Board, Poetry North will present Donald Hall at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday in the Union. Hall is a poet, playwright, short story writer, essayist and editor.

Billed as "a major new voice in American letters," Hall is probably best known for his poems which have appeared in all the major magazines of America and England, and have been translated into five languages.

A Harvard graduate, Hall attended Oxford University on a Henry Fellowship. At Oxford he won the Newdigate Prize for Poetry. He was later a Creative Writing Fellow at Stanford and a Junior Fellow at Harvard. In 1963 he was a Guggenheim Fellow.

COAXED OUT from behind the pillar is this week's campus cutie, Penny Robson.

Choir Plans Schedule Of Three Tours

The Concert Choir has completed the first of three scheduled choir tours. They leave tomorrow for their second in-state tour of the month.

Charter buses took the choir to northwestern North Dakota where they sang at Kenmare, Mohall, Bottineau, Minot, Velva and New Rockford. They returned to Fargo on February 7.

The second tour will be February 16 and 17. Valley City, Jamestown, Steele, Mandan, Beulah and Glen Ullin are the performance stops.

During spring quarter the choir plans to take a trip to the Minneapolis area. Concerts at St. Olaf and Mankato State College will be included on this tour. The date for this tour has been set for April 1-4, according to choir director Robert Godwin. A home concert will follow this tour, but no definite date has been set.

The choir has hopes of making another European tour in the summer of 1968, according to Godwin.

Campus Center

Wesley Foundation Serves Methodists

FIRST!

IN A SERIES!

by Rosemary Neuman

Wesley Foundation serves as the religious center for the 400 Methodist students on campus. It provides a religious and social atmosphere through various activities and facilities.

Weekly events include Sunday morning forum, Sunday evening program, Wednesday evening fire-side, Thursday council meetings and Friday evening socials. Facilities include a student lounge with record player and AM-FM radio, piano, fireplace and study room with a library of reference and religious books.

Director of the center is Rev. James Farnham. Student officers are Howard Anderson PH 4, president; Donald Mink AS 3, vice president; Geraldine Ault HE 4, secretary and Loyd Toffe AS 4, treasurer.

Since January 1967, United Campus Christian Fellowship has been meeting jointly with Wesley for programs; this is only experimental. In the past, UCCF had trouble with attendance at its meetings, so it asked to meet with Wesley to promote better attendance.

The merger "won't come about for positive until next fall," said Mink. "Both have so much in common and often their programs are duplicates." They still have two boards of directors but there is a joint council consisting of members from both organizations. Anderson is president; Lynn Redington EE 3, vice president and Judy Sheppard HE 4, treasurer.

Children's Village is a pet charity of Wesley; February 12 they held a Valentine's party for the children. Another coming event is the State Methodist Student Movement Convention which will be held here the last weekend in April.

Although the center does not have regular church services students go to either First Methodist or Faith Methodist churches in Fargo. The Sunday evening program features a brief worship service and the Sunday morning discussions involve religious topics.

The current topic is "Who's Killing the Church?" featuring a series of essays written by ministers and politicians. Past topics have been "Book of Revelation," and "Book of John." Friday night socials are usually impromptu recreation — cards, etc.; there are also planned parties.

Wesley is sponsored by the local Methodist Churches through their Board of Education, which was also responsible for its building erected in 1963.

Winter Weekend Planned For Follow-up Of Quarter

Winter Weekend will be held on campus March 3-4. Numerous events have been scheduled, beginning with the Joe College and Betty Coed tea on Thursday at 7 p.m.

One of the highlights of the weekend will be the Bison encounter with the University of North Dakota Sioux on the basketball court.

This year's Winter Weekend Theme is "The History of Conquest, or The Rise and Fall of the Sioux Empire."

Dances will be featured throughout the weekend. On Friday at 9 p.m., the Joe College and Betty Coed dance will be held. Each dormitory, sorority and fraternity nominates a candidate; the men choosing a coed and the women selecting a male representative.

Candidates will be voted upon and crowned at the dance Friday evening. Last year's Joe College and Betty Coed were Larry Fuglesten AS 3 and Chris Larson AS 3.

Saturday afternoon the Mauler Ball will be held. After the basketball clash, the Rahjabs will sponsor a dance at Fraser Armory and Student Activities Board will hold a Groovy Dance in the Union.

Another feature of Winter Weekend is snow sculpture. Each sorority, fraternity and residence hall has been invited to participate.

Prize winners for the best snow sculptures in last year's competition were Phi Mu and Sigma Phi Delta for their entry "Pink Panther."

Groups may work individually or in cooperation with another group. First and second place trophies will be awarded to the best snow sculptures.

"Rally 'Round"

LCT Production Was Enjoyable Comedy

by Sandi Scheel

Thoroughly enjoyable comedy was in store for audiences as the curtain rose Wednesday through Saturday, Feb. 8-11, on the Little Country Theatre production "Rally 'Round The Flag, Boys."

The actors were well-rehearsed and knew all their lines perfectly. Especially appealing in his role was 8 year old David Fitch as Danny Bannerman.

Carol Bakke AS 2 as Grace Bannerman and Clive Rosengren AS 6 as Colonel Thorwald gave life and credibility to their roles of the committeewoman-housewife and the stuffed-shirt colonel.

The only sour note of the play was the role of Maggie Larkin. While the character was very limited in personality and action, Roberta Lindemann AS 1 did nothing to relieve the monotony.

Larry Remele AS 4, Jim Leintz AS 1, John Gustafson AS 2 and Mel Faulk AS 3, who played the "fine upstanding young men" of Putnam's Landing, were well versed in their roles down to the last swagger and baleful glance.

Comfort Goodpasture (Judy Hemminger AS 3) was a hip teenager whose adoration for Ringo and any musician alive was reminiscent of every teen-age girl.

The additional supporting characters added to the entertainment of the play, though Sally Fertig AS 2 should have been more Betty O'Sheel and less Phyllis Diller.

Weekend Road Games Are Disastrous

by Neil Thomas

The Bison title ambitions received a killing blow the past weekend when they absorbed double defeats at the hands of Morningside Friday night 85-67 and the University of South Dakota Saturday night 69-55.

These losses dropped the Bison to a three-way tie for third place with State College of Iowa and Augustana, all three teams sporting a 4-4 record.

Against Morningside, the Bison held leads of as much as seven points in the first half and led at intermission by a 34-33 margin. But in the second half the Chiefs took a permanent lead and outscored the Bison 52-33.

Gerry Suman led the Bison with 23 points, followed by Ron Schlieman and Bob Maier with 11 each. Palma Chandler was the fourth player in double figures with 10 points.

John Vermilyea, who earlier scored 35 points against the Bison, threw in 26 points to take game honors. Paul Splittdorff and Ray Lill got 19 and 17 points respectively.

Against USD Saturday night, the Bison held Jack Theeler below his 35 point per game scoring average which he had last week, but were unable to come up with anyone who could score more than 13.

Schlieman led five Bison players in double figures with 13 points; Suman and Maier got 12 each and Ron Waggoner and Chandler each scored 10.

The Coyotes, who made good use of the Bison's 27 turnovers, were led by Theeler with 25 points.

The Bison will try to regain some lost prestige this weekend when they meet the league-leading Sioux at Grand Forks.

The Sioux, who hold a 7-1 record in the NCC are led by Little-All America forward Phil Jackson. The 6' 8" senior is the current scoring leader in the NCC and also leads in rebounding.

The Sioux will probably go with 5' 11" Jerry Schultz and 5' 11" Rod Herring at guards, 6' 4" Jim Hester and 6' 5" Vern Praus at forward and the 6' 8" Jackson at center.

Tickets For Sioux-Bison Game Available At Wrestling Match

Tickets for the Bison-Sioux basketball game March 4 will be given out at the Field House on February 22 at 7 p.m. with the presentation of a student activity card. This will be during the University of North Dakota - North Dakota State University wrestling match and only one ticket will be given per person. There are 3,200 seats in the Field House. Tickets will be divided up as follows: band members - 100, reserve seats - 480, conference seating - 10, UND - 100, cheerleaders - 6, and two to each basketball player - 30, for a total of 726.

Approximately 2400 tickets, therefore, will be given out by presentation of an activity card.

Any tickets left after February 22 will go on sale to the general public at the Business Office.

However, any student who still wishes a ticket may pick one up by presenting his activity card at the business office.

It is doubtful that many tickets will be left after February 22 so students are urged to pick them up at the wrestling match.

The game will also be televised on Channel 4.

Grooters Named To Position

Roger Grooters has joined the athletic staff as an assistant in track at North Dakota State University, according to an announcement by Athletic Director Dick Koppenhaver.

A graduate student in counseling and guidance at NDSU, Grooters will have charge of the Bison indoor track squad and will handle all track duties until Dick Borstad joins the staff and Jim Walker completes his work with basketball.

Borstad will become head track coach at NDSU in March with Walker and Grooters assisting him.

Grooters earned a bachelor's degree in physical education from NDSU in 1966. He is a graduate of Turtle Lake High School, where he captained both the football and basketball teams and competed in track and cross-country. Enrolling at NDSU in 1962, he participated in track and cross-country under Coach Tom Neuberger and captained the Bison harriers who won the 1964 North Central Conference title.

During his senior year, he was an assistant cross-country coach. That spring, Grooters placed 6th in the mile run at the NCAA National College Division Track Meet, breaking Oddvar Helgeson's school record of 4:17.2 during the preliminaries.

WARMING UP for the game are this group of intramural basketball players.

Bison Coaching Staff Is Filled

The Department of Athletics and Physical Education has announced the appointment of Ross Fortier as an assistant professor of physical education and assistant coach.

The appointment was announced by Dick Koppenhaver, director of athletics and physical education.

Fortier is currently on the athletic and physical education staff at Moorhead State College. He plans to make the switch to North Dakota State University at the end of the current quarter, sometime early in March.

According to Koppenhaver, Fortier will have charge of the NDSU freshman activities program in physical education, supervising all freshman physical education.

Fortier and Dick Borstad, another recently hired assistant will be responsible for the Bison football defense under head football coach Ron Ehrardt.

A 1960 physical education graduate of NDSU, Fortier was co-captain of the 1959 Bison who finished second in the North Central Conference.

Both Koppenhaver and Ehrardt expressed great satisfaction with Fortier's appointment. Koppenhaver said he was pleased to add a Bison alumnus to the staff, particularly one with Fortier's background.

Ehrardt echoed Koppenhaver's comments and said he feel Fortier has proved himself an outstanding young coach. Both men commented on the assistance Fortier will give to NDSU's vital recruiting program, with his wide acquaintance in west central Minnesota.

Commenting on his decision to take the job, Fortier said he was elated at the prospect of returning to his alma mater, "I'm happy to be joining such an outstanding group of young coaches."

Grapplers Split A Pair Of Conference Meetings

by Noel Jordan
 Coach Bucky Maughn's wrestling team split this weekend's two matches at Morningside and the University of South Dakota. They defeated a stubborn USD team Saturday 19-14, but were edged 23-18 a day earlier by Morningside.

Dick Ovsak closed in on disabled John Hollman's 11 straight victories, a North Dakota State University record and came through with two victories this weekend to extend his winning streak to 10. In his matches this weekend, he pinned one opponent in 48 seconds and won the other by forfeit.

In the USD meet, Dennis Alfstad and Ovsak won by pins, Jack Skjonsby, John Kucenic and Larry Mollins won by decision.

Against Morningside four Bison grapplers were victors. Ovsak and John Kucenic won by forfeit, Larry Mollins by a pin and John Kreamelmeyer by a decision.

This weekend the Bison will host South Dakota State at the NDSU Field House. The freshman meet will start at 6 p.m. and varsity at 7:30 p.m.

SDSU, usually a strong title contender, will field an exceptionally strong team, with strength forming in every weight class.

Wednesday, Feb. 22, the Bison will entertain arch rival University of North Dakota on the home mats.

DETERMINED Gerry Suman seems to have this rebound under control.

Good Showing By Wrestlers

Neil Thomas - - -

This year's wrestling team is doing well in spite of adversities it has suffered.

At the beginning of the season the Bison were rated definite contenders to unseat winner South Dakota State. Dick Lundstrom 191 pounder, 130 pound Phil Detore and 145 pound John Hollman were rated as certainties to take conference titles in their respective divisions. But then Detore dropped out of school, Lundstrom quit the wrestling team and it appeared that the Bison chances were wrecked.

As the season progressed, several wrestlers came along well and the Bison will again be strong at tournament if Hollman's broken elbow is ready. The injury to Hollman, the Bison's most recent casualty, came at the moment when the team captain was about to have his best season as a collegiate wrestler.

Hollman had won 13 matches in a row without a loss, set a school record in the process and appeared a good bet to go undefeated, a feat no Bison wrestler before has ever accomplished.

This past weekend the team split a pair of dual matches with Morningside and the University of South Dakota, losing to Morningside 23-18 and beating USD 19-14.

Besides Hollman, the Bison were also without the services of 177 pound Fred Schroeder, who had to stay on campus for the Little International showmanship contest. Schroeder, a member of the 1966 football team, lost close to 30 pounds to get down to the 177 pound class and has been a pleasant surprise, winning eight straight matches.

Dick Ovsak and Herb Schmidt have also compiled impressive records so far, Ovsak winning 11 straight and Schmidt with an 11-4-1 record. Team fortunes will rest heavily on the shoulders of Hollman, Schmidt, Schroeder and Ovsak but it will be no surprise if fine performances are turned in by wrestlers like Larry Mollins, Jack Skjonsby, John Kucenic or Emery Knudson, to name a few. They have shown their capabilities on occasion.

The Bison will get a crack at defending NCC champion South Dakota State this Saturday when they host the Jackrabbits in freshman and varsity duals.

As of now, the Bison's NCC record in dual meets stands at three wins and two losses with two conference meets remaining on the schedule.

Freshman Win A Tight Decision

by Neil Thomas

The Baby Bison wrestling team emerged victorious in a close 18-17 dual meet with the University of North Dakota freshman team here last Tuesday.

It was the first win of the season for the freshman team and their second meet overall. Earlier this season the UND frosh took a 22-14 decision from the Bison team at Grand Forks.

The Bison picked up a win and two draws in the early rounds when 123 lb. Tim Morgan of the Bison drew with Roger Brist of UND 1-1; Ron Schmidt decisioned Stan Bjornstad 7-3 in the 130 pound class and Lewis Hoffman drew with Tom Koytnski of UND in the 137 pound class.

The Bison then fell behind 7-9 but consecutive decisions by Vince Detore 2-0, and Dave Ahonen 7-0, in the 150 and 160 classes gave the Bison a 13-9 lead going into the 167 pound class.

Bison 167 pounder Russ Benson pinned his UND counterpart Larry Olsen to give the Bison an 18-9 margin.

As it turned out the Bison needed the five point pin for the UND frosh took the next two matches, one by a pin and the other by a decision but fell one point short 18-17.

This Saturday the Bison frosh will meet the South Dakota State freshman in a dual meet at the NDSU Field House. The match is a preliminary to the Bison-Jackrabbit varsity meet.

Lost And Found Has Various Articles

A dozen squinting people are walking around campus, or they might have spent a few dollars on a new pair of glasses, not knowing that theirs is one of the 12 pair of eyeglasses that has been turned into the lost and found department at the information desk in the Union.

Have you been locked out recently? The information desk has about 15 sets of automobile keys and a wide selection of other types of keys that have been lost on campus.

In the men's department is a Jantzen sweater and a top coat.

Forgotten and lost by both men and women are numerous and assorted gloves, five scarves, plus an assortment of paperbacks.

The absent-minded coed might retrieve her boots or wristwatch. One of the three pairs of shoes or the single shoe might be hers.

Another lost and found department is located in the South Engineering Building behind a door marked physics office, on the second floor.

In stock there are about 20 books, both paperbacks and hard bound. Also numerous notebooks have been found in the area and turned into the office.

Earmuffs, men's gloves, scarves and a thermos bottle round out the collection of unclaimed items in that office.
