Allocation Of Student's Activities Fees Examined

Where does your tuition and activity fees money go? Students at North Dakota State University pay $120 per quarter for in-state tuition and activities fees. This money is allocated in the following ways:

Activities Fund
- Athletics: $179,000
- Music: $128,000
- Student Senate: $885
- Student Activities Board: $19,000

Unallocated
- Approximately $290 remains.

Activities fees are to be used for student service fees (including $300 for student services per year), the total amount to be used for student services there remains about $179,000. This is distributed approximately as follows:

Next year's budgets are now being prepared and figures will be available later in the quarter.

On April 17, the Student Activities Board will present the third Special Interest Day, this time dealing with Sex Education. The title for this project SID will be "Sex in the Sixties" and will include two guest speakers, a presentation of the film series dealing with birth titled "Nine to Get Ready," and a panel discussion.

Series On Sex Education Begins Today

The two guest speakers are Lester A. Kirkendall, professor of family life education at Oregon State University and Jack Stotts, professor of Christian ethics at McCormick Theological Seminary. Both Kirkendall and Stotts will present a seminar open to faculty and students at 10 a.m. in the Prairie Room of the Union.

At 12:30 p.m. Kirkendall will attend an informal discussion at Weible Hall Lounge; this is open to men and women. During this same period of time, Stotts will be at either Dinan or Ceres Hall.

At 1:30 p.m. they will exchange places and continue the discussion.

A complete listing of the program schedule is available in the KDSU monthly program guide. Copies of the guide are available, free of charge, at the radio studios on the second floor of the Union. KDSU maintains a broadcast schedule from 3:30 - 12 p.m. Sunday through Friday, in stereo FM on 91.9.

KDSU Campus Radio Station Begins Expanded Program

KDSU, the stereo FM radio station at North Dakota State University, adds another day and several new programs to its broadcast schedule this week. Effective Sunday, April 2, KDSU will maintain a 3:30 - 12 p.m. broadcast schedule.

The Minneapolis Symphony Orchestra will be featured exclusively on KDSU, airing at 3:30 Sunday afternoons. Following the Minneapolis Symphony will be a new program of Broadway music, entitled the "Great White Way."

Host Rick Hamilton will feature the music of "A Day in May" on April 9 and "Damm Yankees" on April 16.

Following the "Great White Way," Dave Carter, KDSU News Director, will host a 15 minute program reviewing the week's campus news. At 8 p.m. "Something Different," a new program of music and commentary, will be hosted by Michael Geller.

Mondays at 3:30 p.m. will also find a new program on KDSU. Entitled "Civil Liberties," this program will deal with such topics as "Eavesdropping" (April 10), "The Choice to Fight" (April 17) and "Freedom of Opinion" (April 24).

Anthony Oldknow, assistant professor of English, will be the father of Broadway music, entitled "Strictly Speaking." This new program scheduled to air on Wednesdays will be introduced, "Diary of Samuel Pepys." This series of 13 programs introduces the life of Samuel Pepys, from the first year and a half of the day he kept during the 1660's.

Promotions in academic rank have been awarded to 30 faculty members at North Dakota State University, announced President H. R. Albrecht, following approval of the promotions by the State Board of Higher Education.

Promoted to the rank of professor emeritus in the Department of Horticulture, from the rank of professor, was Harry A. Graves. Graves retired from the department last December after 29 years on the horticulture staff of the Cooperative Extension Service.

Facility members promoted from associate professor to professor include: James R. Reik, philosophy; Joel W. Broberg, chemistry and physics; John Broughton, geology; Albert D. Francis, mechanical engineering; Glenn A. Peterson, agronomy; Robert H. Peterson, chemistry and physics; Richard W. Peussey, pharmacy; James T. Rudefill, economics and physics; Fred H. Sands, history and politics; Virgil L. Weiser, soils department, Cooperative Extension Service.

Promoted from assistant professor to associate professor were Ralph Engelt, English; Duane Erickson, animal science; Melvin Forbush, mechanical engineering; Douglas Foster, architecture; Harald J. Eikens, architecture; Thomas McGrath, English; John L. Nalewaja, agronomy; David C. Nelson, agricultural economics; Ralph Potter, art; Edward W. Price, mechanical engineering; Jordan Saharieff, electrical engineering; Thomas Serrin, industrial engineering; Edward Wasylyk, soils and Marion Walker, home economics.

Promoted to the rank of assistant professor from the rank of instructor were Kenneth Ebeling, industrial engineering; Dennis Irow, men's physical education; Daniel Krause, electrical engineering; Ronald Mraak, speech and drama and Georgia Smith, home economics.

Minstrel Tickets Are Available

Tickets go on sale Friday, April 15 for "Oklahoma." Blue Key's spring musical. Presently on sale are tickets to the New Christy Minstrels who will appear here on April 24.

Both the production and the Christy Minstrels will appear in the Field House. The dates for "Oklahoma" are May 4-6. Tickets will be available at the Union and at the usual downtown ticket sales points.

Students at North Dakota State University can receive a 10 percent discount on their tickets to the Christy Minstrels. The Student Activities Board (SAB) has signed a 90/10 per cent split on the total gate for the performance.
Newspaper Photographs On Display

The best photographs from the 27th Annual Newspaper National Snapshot Awards will be on display through April 18 on the main floor of the Union.

There are 60 prints included in the exhibit, which brought more than $50,000 in travel and cash to the amateur finalists in the annual competition.

Ten of the exhibited prints are from top prize winners awarded trips to Europe, Mexico, Hawaii, the West Indies and two around-the-world tours. Both color and black and white photographs are included in the exhibit.

Other prints in the exhibit were selected for their humor and colorful appeal. These include snapshots of babies and children, scenery, fast-action pictures and eye-catching human interest studies.

The photographs shown were judged by nationally-known photographers and leaders in the field, and represent the best of a field of more than 35 million entries received by 79 metropolitan daily newspapers in the U.S., Canada, Mexico and Puerto Rico in 1966.

A second art exhibit on display in the Union hallways through April 13, "Haiku of the Four Seasons," is an exhibit of 20 lithographs by Arthur Flory. These prints illustrate a group of Japanese poems.

"A haiku" is a Japanese poem composed of 17 syllables. As a rule Japanese poems have a seasonal reference, and so it is routine to group poems in seasons. Such short poems are difficult to translate, according to background material received with the exhibit, but are intended to suggest more than they say and to leave one something to think about.

Briefs Air Force Group

Professor of psychology, James Whittaker, presented a brief Friday, April 7, in Washington, D.C., to personnel of the Air Force Office of Scientific Research. Whittaker discussed some of the problems he and five other members of a Massachusetts Institute of Technology research team faced last summer in Vietnam. He also proposed a future research project on combat effectiveness to Air Force officials at the meeting. The stop in Washington was made by Whittaker while enroute back to North Dakota State University from the annual meeting of the Eastern Psychological Association in Boston.

Annual Turtle Race Scheduled

The second annual Turtle Race will be held April 15 in the Field House with elimination heats beginning at 1 p.m. The race is divided into elimination heats with a division for men and women. The winners of each heat will compete for the division titles and then for the Grand Sweepstakes Championship.

WILD NEW SOUND!

Ma Bell

And The Computers

A far-out group of Bell Telephone Labs scientists have come up with a great new sound... a singing computer!

It began several years ago by singing "Daisy, Daisy." Hardly a folk-rock smash, but lately its voice has been improving. And even though you may not care for the sound, it's big in the scientific field.

Simply put, our scientists study speech and express the way we speak words by means of numbers, then make a computer process the numbers. The final result is a tape of music you could play on your tape recorder.

Giving voice to a computer may mean a lot in providing better communications services. The more we learn about voices and tones of all sorts, the better we can make your telephone and other communications services.

And our curiosity may find uses for computer speech that nobody's thought of yet. That's the way it is with a lot of basic research; it can lead to some far-out ideas, that end up way in.

At Bell Labs, and throughout the Bell System, we find it pays to be curious about everything.
Letters to the Editor . . .

As I See It

"Blatant Censorship" Appalls Reader

To The Editor:

I was appalled when I picked up my copy of the Spectrum last Wednesday and turned to page two as I always do. Here for all to see was one of the most blatant examples of censorship that this area has ever seen. I do not agree with everything the columnist said, as a matter of fact, I disagree with a lot of it, but it was refreshing to see that someone had enough guts to speak exactly what was on his mind. It just so happened that he had enough guts to write it down, and this recent column was too easy to bring his silencing.

It is ironic as well, that the downfall began shortly after Rockwell came to campus and pointed out exactly how difficult it is to challenge the pyramid of power. Now the paper will again settle into the doldrums of mediocrity. Students, like myself, will return to the time-proven custom of picking up the sterile, eyeless, and staffless Spectrum, and staff.

To The Editor:

I disagree with what the man says, but I will die for his right to say it.

This patriotic defense of free speech was not considered when the North Dakota State University Board of Publications told Tanfield Miller AS 4, on April 5, 1967, that he no longer could write his column "As I See It." Miller in the future must write only news stories. Only one question remains, why was Miller given this ultimate censure?

Although many of us didn't always agree with or like Miller's column, we did accomplish something. It made the students sit up and take notice concerning the organizations that the student body and role of the University. He made many of us think about how things could be different around this institution and he made suggestions on getting these changes.

Certainly it can be stated that only the things that some students knew about this school they could not know. It is not up to the Board of Publications to censor Miller. It is up to the students of NDSU to do so.

For whether we agreed with what was stated in that column or not, we must all defend his right to say it. Anyone who is a member of the Spectrum staff and as a student of NDSU.

Staff Member Defends Varsity Mart Policy; Says Criticism Stems From Single Incident

To The Editor:

I would like to respond to the letter by8ackett, professor of English. Speaking as a staff member and graduate student at North Dakota State University, I was both disappointed and alarmed to read of the situation discussed in his letter.

I am alarmed because I am aware of the volume of service which the Varsity Mart must handle and for the two years I have been here, I have been impressed with the conscientiousness of the VM staff and its ceaseless attempts to please its patrons.

The VM has a unique policy rarely found in campus stores. It deals on a personal basis with so many individuals. I have first-hand knowledge that the VM staff is continuously striving to improve its service to students and faculty alike. I feel that the focus should be on broader and more efficient service to each individual.

I am disappointed (and surprised) with his letter, not because I should not have been written, but because it tears down and strikes out with blind emotion and uninformed criticism. For one single incident, it attempts to generalize and unfairly place VM in the wrong.

I feel that for this one episode pointing incident, there must be far more satisfactory and far fewer instances of similar events.

Unfortunately, these are the situations we hear about or see in the papers. The incidents that we hear about, the incidents that happen every day in the VM, that we take for granted. I have grown to work with other bookstores and I appreciate the VM service and staff.

Paper Said To Be Improving; Negligent In Handling Picture

To The Editor:

I am surprised by the good work. Annual NCC Art Exhibitions Planned

Students from the art department at North Dakota State University will participate in "Fine Arts Festivals" at Valley City and South Dakota State University during April.

The SDSU exhibition, April 18-21, is the first of its kind and will include student and faculty works from all seven North Central Conference schools. Planned as an annual spring event, the Central Conference Visual Arts Exhibition will rotate among the seven schools.

Cast Is Chosen For Spring Little Country Theatre Play

An off-Broadway play, "The Days and Nights of Beebee Fencentaker," which broke a record for total performances during the 1964-55 season in New York City, has been chosen as the third major production of the Little Country Theatre. The contemporary play, written by William Snyder, is the story of a smalltown girl - freshly graduated from a college where she was recognized for her creative writing ability - seeking to make her mark in the big city, and gradually accepting complete responsibility for her own actions.

The play will be directed by Albert E. Erickson, assistant professor of speech, who recently directed "Rall y 'Round The Flag, Boys." It is a production of Max Shulman's book, "Rally 'Round the Flag, Boys!" The cast chosen for "Beebee Fencentaker" is as follows: Judy Weiss (Beebee's mother) AS 3; Dawnette Holt (Virginia - Beebee's aunt) AS 1; Patricia Griffith (Betty - Beebee's aunt) AS 2; Richard Kurkowski (Ed Busby) AS 1 and James Leintz (Tom Smith) AS 1.

Beginning next fall the works chosen for the exhibition will be sent on a tour of the other six NCC colleges participating in the event for month-long showings.

Participating NDSU students at the SDSU exhibition opening April 18, are Jill Johnston HF 2, Mary Ann Myhra HE 2, Ginger Eichorst HE 3, Al Fitterer AR 4, Cheryl Frueh HE 2, Nancy Reed HE 3, Frances Payne HE 2, Mary Schlecht HE 1, Nancy Friesen AS 1, Gary Groeters AR 4 and John Schmidt AS 1.

Faculty participants are Ralph E. Peotter, Jr., coordinator of art, and Anupam Banerji, instructor in architecture.

The Valley City College exhibition is being held in connection with the college's Fifth Biennial Fine Arts Festival at the Valley City Auditorium, April 12-15.

Two sections, the invitational, open to various colleges and universities in the area, and the juried section, open to all artists, are planned at the show. The juried section will be judged by Frederick D. Lasch, director of the school of painting, Ohio University, Athens, Ohio, and approximately $850 in purchase awards and prizes will be made.

Students represented in the invitational section from NDSU are James S. West AR 4, John Renhoue AR 3, Melvin Tanger AR 2, Miss Reed, Connie Doeling HE 4, Miss Frueh, Wanda Schumacher HE 2, Richard Dietrich AS 2, D. Jean Anderson AS 3, Miss Myhra, Miss Johnston, Beverly Miller AS 5, Delores Dahl HE 3, Susan Moore HE 2, Renee Gall HE 4, Nancy Van Dyke HE 2, Cheryl Cordes HE 1 and Laurel Minsel HE 2.

Three Games

Augustana Is First Conference Game

Augustana will be the first North Central Conference opponent for the Bison baseball team when they meet in a weekend series at Sioux Falls this Friday and Saturday.

The team will leave Friday morning and will play one nine-inning game that afternoon at 3:30. On Saturday they will meet in a double-header beginning at noon. Each game of the double-header will run seven innings.

Coach Ev Kjelbertson has named Orell Schmitz, Russ Auen and Bob Kutzan as the starting pitchers for the three game series but did not list them to pitch in any order. Kjelbertson stated that the pitcher whose arm felt best would start the series on Friday.

Kjelbertson will go with Gary Anderson at shortstop, Al Arneson at third, Larry Mollins at second, Larry Ellingson at first, John Renhow in right, Glenn Ingnell in center and Jim Liberda behind the plate. The starting candidate for the left field spot was still undecided Sunday.

The team will be strengthened by the return of Dan Loose, Mike Belmont and Ollie Cornelius when spring football finishes up. Cornelius will add depth to the pitching staff, and Loose and Belmont will bolster the outfielding corps, according to Kjelbertson.

Kjelbertson expressed pleasure in the showing the Bison hitters have made so far this season. "Our hitting is much better this season than last year," he stated.

Bad weather conditions kept the team indoors much of last week and hindered the progress which the team had made before and during the opening road trip. A game which the team had scheduled last Friday was cancelled due to wet grounds.

Brian MacLaren was the meet's top individual, collecting 12 points for the Bison. Bob Parmer was second with 12% points. Mike James, winner of the pole vault at 12' 9½" gained 9 points for the Bison.

MacLaren posted two fields as well as meet records in the 440 yard run and in the 980 yard run. He bested former Bison great Bruce Airhart's record in the 440 with a time of 50.7, and devoured his own record in the 880 with an indoor time of 1:57.2. Another meet record was set by North Dakota State University's Rod Landblom with a 6' 3" effort in the high jump. Landblom held the previous record of 6' 2î½", which he achieved in 1964 while competing for Moorhead State.

Those attaining first places for the Bison were Russ Gustin — Thinclads Sweep Triangular.

Bob Parmer and Brian MacLaren carried the Bison to victory in an indoor triangular at the University of North Dakota last Saturday.

Parmer and MacLaren accounted for 48 of the Bison's 85 points while UND finished second with 49 2/3 and Bemidji State third with 28 1/3.

Parmer picked up firsts in both hurdle events and the long jump and took second in the triple jump and 440 to finish the day with 21 points.

MacLaren totaled 20 points with wins in the 60, 440, 600 and 880.

Other first-place winners for the Bison were Bill Haugen in the mile, John Haskins in the two mile, the mile relay team of Dave McDowell, Chuck Ormiston, Rod Landblom and Roger Olson and Landblom in the high jump. Landblom's jump of 6' 4½" broke his own indoor mark.

Thiniclads will travel to Aberdeen, S. D., for the Northern Relays. The next home meet for the Bison will be the Bison J. C. Meet in Fargo on May 6.

Intalmurals May Get Wrestling

The intramural program may see the addition of another sport to its list next year. Director Bud Bolk and his assistant are currently working with Coach Bucky Maugh to install wrestling to the program. The sport of wrestling would be worked through the varsity wrestling department for the use of mats and all facilities needed for it.

The sport would not have all the weight classes which the varsity contains but would have possibly half a dozen weights.

The program could also be used to discover anybody with potential wrestling ability.

GYMNASTICS SHOULD BE REINSTATED

Lack of interest after 1965 forced the elimination of the varsity gymnastics team and it has not reappeared on this campus since. The team finished the season with 13 team members but last year the disinterest forced the remainder of the team to go out on their own and work under the auspices of the local YMCA.

It is unfortunate that a school of this size cannot have a sport such as gymnastics. Small state colleges in North Dakota, Dickinson and Minot for instance, have quite respectable teams in relation to the size of the schools.

Schools in the Minnesota MIAC conference have strong teams which are supported by the school's athletic program. The answer could lie here. North Dakota State University has the equipment, and with a little work and some help from the budget, it could be brought back.

CLOSING NOTE

A reminder is issued to organizations that rosters for golf, track, tennis and softball are due this Monday, April 17, at the intramural meeting.

The Concert Choir Will Present its annual home concert Tuesday, April 18, at 8:15 p.m. in Festival Hall.

The choir recently completed a four-day Minnesota tour. In January and February they toured North Dakota extensively.

Under the direction of Robert Godwin, choral director, the 44-voice concert choir will sing a program designed to please European as well as American audiences.

Last summer the group toured Europe, singing in Germany, France, Italy and three other European countries.

The program will be in three parts:

1) Full choir singing music from the Renaissance and Baroque periods;
2) Sacred and secular works from the contemporary period; and
3) a 21-voice “Modern Choral” group.

Part I includes Palestrina’s “Regina Caeli,” “Ave Maria,” Des Prez, and J. S. Bach’s “Missa in G Major.”

This concludes this section of the program.

Five American folk songs and spirituals, which the choir feels particularly pleasing to European audiences, will be sung in full choir.

The 21-voice “Modern Choral” will sing five short choruses. “The Star That Shone Adapted from poems written by Leigh Hanes, and especially written for the North Dakota State University choir and dedicated by Edwin R. Fisinger, dean of the music department of the University of Illinois at Chicago.

The program concludes with a number of popular American lads sung by the Modern Choral.
