GERMANS FROM RUSSIA
GRHC
HERITAGE COLLECTION

The Germans from Russia Heritage Collection (GRHC) at the NDSU Libraries in Fargo reaches out to prairie families and former Dakotans. In various ways, it affirms the heritage of the Germans from Russia as an important part of the northern plains culture.

Holiday Regards to each of you and your families during this Yuletide Season.

In time for the holidays, GRHC has published an important new cookbook, "Cookbook for the Germans from Russia", by Nelly Daes, translated from German to English by Alex Herzog, and edited by Janice Huber Stangl. Daes was born in Friedental, Ukraine. Her family decided to flee toward the West in 1935. Their wanderings and flight was to last as many as ten years, and Nelly finally ended up living close to her family's origins in West Germany. Colonist women in their various settlement areas would "peek into the pots" of their Ukrainian and Russian neighbors and, in the course of time, adopt certain dishes from them. Nelly Daes comments: "All of the recipes have been tested by various cooks and should be applied under the following motto: 'In cooking, you make use of...whatever you have on hand!'"

Janice Huber Stangl writes: "This book contains not only recipes, but also humorous and heart wrenching anecdotes from the German Russian diaspora. It is essential addition to every household."

Alex Herzog writes: "What I like about Nelly's cookbook is her inclusion of at times amusing, and at other times very sad and tragic anecdotes, as well as the descriptions of the Black Sea Germans customs and folkways - all woven between and around the recipes. Also, the recipes she presents are more inclusive than the title indicates, because they stem not only from the Black Sea area, but also from Asia and Germany." The new cookbook is available at: library.ndsu.edu/grhc/order/cookbooks/das.html, or contact GRHC.

We have prepared a listing of items of highly recommended books, maps, videotapes, and cookbooks on the subject of Germans from Russia. The list provides valuable items suggested for families, schools, and libraries for research and reading. We can send you this listing or you can go to this website page: <http://library.ndsu.edu/grhc/files/recommended.pdf>.

"German Food & Folkways: Heirloom Memories from Europe, South Russia, & the Great Plains" by Rose Marie Gueldner continues to be one of GRHC's most popular books available and is now in its seventh printing since publication in February, 2002.

GRHC has published "East German Fate by the Black Sea" by Johannes Florian Mueller. This book is an important contribution to the Germans from Russia community, and especially for the Bessarabian Germans covering the villages of Krasna, Emmental and Karamurat as well as the Dobrudscha region of east Romania and its German inhabitants. The book is available at: library.ndsu.edu/grhc/books/order/general/muller.html, or by contact GRHC.

Prairie Public's award-winning "Prairie Crosses, Prairie Voices: Iron Crosses of the Great Plains" is receiving a terrific response from viewers. Be watching for this third documentary of PPTV's Germans from Russia series on other PBS stations in 2003. Iron Crosses stand as sentinels on the prairie landscape, framed by vast expanses of grass and sky. Although they stand silent, behind each cross is a story.

The award-winning documentary videotapes, "The Germans from Russia: Children of the Steppe, Children of the Prairie" (1999) and "Schmeckfest: Food Traditions of the Germans from Russia" (2000) continue to draw much viewer interest and have been shown on many PBS stations. Each videotape includes bonus video footage not shown in the one-hour documentary.

Plans have begun for Prairie Public Television's 2005 documentary on the music of the Germans from Russia. This program will be the fourth program in the Germans from Russia Series. The concert choirs of Jamestown College, Jamestown, ND, and the University of Mary, Bismarck, ND, will be closely involved. More information will appear in future columns.
