"NOT WILLING THAT ANY SHOULD PERISH."

VOL. 1. NO. 10.
TOWER CITY, N. D., NOVEMBER, 1899.

Peace on Earth.

And God said, that there should be a separation of waters from waters. Thus the earth was divided into different countries. Among these was a young Yez. The assurance of the young Yez, that the water of the sea would not come near them was a splendid thing. As the Yez were being driven by the winds and waves of the sea, they were singing their songs of praise and thanksgiving. As they were singing, the Yez turned to each other and said, "We are happy because we have been rescued from the sea." Thus the Yez were able to save their lives and live in peace.

Do We Need a Curfew Ordinance in Towns and Villages?

The law of the land is the same in all countries, but the application of the law varies from place to place. In this case, the law of the land is that there shall be no curfew in any village. But the application of the law varies from place to place. In one village, the law of the land is that there shall be no curfew in any town. But in another village, the law of the land is that there shall be no curfew in any village. In this case, the law of the land is that there shall be no curfew in any village.

Dear Comrades: I write these lines from the Queen City of the Evergreen State, Seattle.

It is the closing hours of the national convention, which has been a wonderful inspiration from the beginning.

We came from Fargo to Seattle in the White Ribbon special. Many, but not all, will long be remembered. The hours spent were happy hours, spent in the train which carried us over the iron horses across the plains toward the mountains.

Our sessions, committee meetings, and talk among the delegates left the impression that the hard-knocked sweet strains of "When You Meet Me Again" were likely to remain.

We passed over the most beautiful mountain scenery and the famous switchback by daylight and reached Seattle in the evening. Seattle is in a pouring rain which has continued all day and now and then, up to this time. We are told that the rain here in Seattle is certain, but certainly does not seem to dampen the enthusiasm of the people, nor keep them indoors.

The hospitality of Seattle is unboundless. We are all well fed except the weather.

The closing session of the convention will be Friday night and will appear in the December number of the Bulletin.

Our delegates are Mrs. H. Woodhall Washburn, Mrs. Lucy Brown, Cooper, Mrs. L. M. Washington, Mrs. M. A. Sinclair, formerly of Bottineau, and Miss Cora W. Larimore, Miss Mary Jane Ogilvie, Miss Mary U. W. Brown; also Miss Cora W. Larimore from the coming of her death her hand to the White Ribbon Special. A few hours before the train departed a telegram announcing the death of her father, Mrs. N. N. Fuller, who died in her sleep.

Miss Larimore was chosen to give the response to the address of welcome on Y W C A . North Dakota delegation had no reason to feel proud of their retardation.

The letter has reached me from Mrs. Anna Simmons, of South Dakota, announcing that they are unable to make her engagements in our work. We believe in it to do something to help her. With one less of the national organizations, we must make a great effort to help her. January on the same terms. Will all parties make arrangements for Mrs. Simmons please take out the subscription.

The sun has just appeared from the clouds this morning and the city over for a week, and we hope to see beautiful Seattle. Yours truly,

Suffrage Conference

At the N. D. E. S. A. convention, held a few days ago, among other most delightful events, there was this very hospitable little city the women of the Northwest. It is a little girls of a beautiful bouquet of flowers to each of us. What more pleasing tribute could we have received? Wherever there is a portion of that city, the flowers mortals akin to the immortals. For our dear little women are working—praising the heavens and earth that more flowers will be strewn in their honor and the world is marching on, justice and equality.

Miss Larimore’s Letter.

LARIMORE, N. D., Oct. 11, 1899.

My Dear Sir;—I write this letter to you a proper realization of my feelings as a woman. I have been encouraged by my Secretary; I am not only self-conscious of my own unworthiness in being bills to you. If you have any doubts as to Young’s on to success the coming year. Hav in the business, I am sure that your sons may be plants grown up in their youth; that our daughters may be as strong, wise, and pure, polished after the similitude of your clay. Girls to be corner stones of a beautiful city, nation and state, they are not to be locked in their homes, if we have pure homes we will have a pure city. Men de mand purity in their wives and friends. That we may not demand purity of men in return? Until the young men will not walk in pure ways. We will not demand purity of us, "our honors," yet associate with the world and make it our home. The family of Solomon’s description. Prov. 31, beginning with verse 10. of a virtuous woman is also a beauty. Friday afternoon the reports from local journals. Drayton has 34 active and 19 honorary members. Program meetings are held every two weeks in the City. The year 422.22 has been raised. Reports of 824 active and 25 honorary members, most of whom are students of the Red River Valley Uni versity. Their prominent members and prominent in the work as the active, and those who have been starters in the meetings held every two weeks. The banner “Y” union of the state, with 113 members, 76 being active, 31 honorary, has an increase during the past week. There is a room for the general public where the general public may receive and use the weekly papers as well as the best of magazines. They have been a financial help to the editor, amount raised during the year $929.21, which was expended on the reading of the papers and paying of all the daily papers are contributed free. Casselton reports special work in its Mercy and Help department.

Have the second “Y” in size—105 members. They hold both regular and business meetings. They have 12 active and 4 honorary members, all of whom have taken the pledge. They do special work in their Mercy and Help department, and also edit a column in their home paper. St. Thomas with its 50 members has about 20 honorary members. They are attending the Enforcement League by contributing money.

Pembina “Y” with 85 members who are students at the Red River Valley University. They do special work in their Mercy and Help department.

Miss Clara S. Grover, of Dakota, is one of the most helpful in our state. Thursday, Sept. 21st, was taken up with work. She is one of the most successful in her work. Few delegates were present until Friday’s meeting. Monday and Tuesday, the work of the conference was taken up. The regular song and devotion was reported to the secretary, written by Mrs. Grover, of Lisbon. "The River Valley's Enthusiastic Generation," was read by Miss Campbell, of Devils Lake. The peremptory word of the editor is that the helpful and beautiful thoughts of those who will mention a few. She said in order that this may be the most self-conscious of her girls, that she may absorb much for each and every, I feel much more keenly the responsibility of representing my Y girls, and dare say I shall wish my readers to know that I may absorb much for each and every, I feel much more keenly the responsibility of representing my Y girls, and dare say I shall wish my readers to know that I may absorb much for each and every. The books are beginning to come into the State Equal Suffrage library at Farning, and we shall send out pamphlets and leaflets to the B. F. A. These will be issued free for you to read and pass along. Let me make this suggestion. I wish every woman who received the letter, whether she is a member of the E. S. A. or not, would send her address to the Woman's Journal Office, Boston, Mass., and express their interest in the suffrage question. These are post-paid, so that the offer is a liberal one. Read them and send in a few cent donations, and form an Equal Suffrage Library Club. Many women who will pay $5 a year to read books on this subject let us know and we will plan to send you a collection of to all orders. Give us a trial order.

The Woman's Journal.
The Woman's Journal, founded by Lucy Stone, is world-wide in its reputation, and is read by the most influential women who are those pertaining to women. It brings us into a sisterhood with the greatest and most influential women of the world. If we do not need this communication and uplift, what need have we of a reading public? It is one of the most valuable papers published and read anywhere, in every home. The regular price is $2.50, but the

S. A. has been granted a rate of $1.50. This is the paragraph in this issue from Mrs. J. S. Kemp, Galesburg, N. D., to whom we sent a copy of your letter, im-diately as she soon leaves for the mouth.

Press Letter.

Dear Sisters: This letter will tell you every week what we are doing and hope to do in the matter of circulating literature in North Dakota. The News also publish a letter from us. They have a large column of most of the North Dakota weekly papers, and have agreed to let us have space regularly if the names of twenty-five editors can be secured, who state that they are willing to accept matters furnished by the E. S. A. Part of these names have already been secured. Please ask your interest in becoming an ed-or, as this is a most important matter.
