minsters that have been sent out, your leniency is craved in behalf of the strangers who are on their way to your comrades. Mrs. L. M. Brown, Treasurer.

Cooperstown, Nov. 10, 1902.

Things to remember in remitting to the treasurer.

1. Send the amount or if object or funds is for, what union it is to be credited to. Necessary for the past year.

2. There are a number of districts, and consequently impossible to define these districts. The pledges on the State and Home deficits have been remitted in full. As soon as possible, we will place this matter on a new footing. There is still some behind on the Home debt, and will endeavor to finish the matter in the end of the year.

Faithfully yours,

L. M. Brown, Treasurer.

PRESIDENT'S CORNER.

Dear Comrades,—Our hearts are saddened at the home going of Mrs. S. L. Scott, who greatly endeared herself to many friends in the years during which she labored with us. She had never had a worker who did so much for the children of the state. It was largely upon her efforts that the number of L. T. Y.s was doubled last year. She went joyfully and with self-sacrifice into the most difficult parts of our work in the interest of the children, and we will long remember her at the Norwegian picnic, where she was loved and appreciated. This incident was an excellent test of her strength, and we feel that she has developed much through her efforts. We had engaged her for a year to remain with us again, and she was counting much upon the fruits of her labors, and we feel our plans for her, and want to urge that she is now with Him, and that we join in praying for her welfare and that of her family.

As these veterans go home, one by one, may their joys become a source of comfort and encouragement to our lips. "Who will take their places?" will be heard in their places; will their place be taken by new white union leaders and the laborers are few. Can we not find bright, capable young women in our own state who will joyfully accept the position to work for us with the same self-sacrifice? It is much to be desired that the women of the state and the country would accept the challenge, and that there would be no encouragement to the young women to enter the work of invitation and encouragement.

Miss Anna Ruthwell Stewart, National Y. A. U. of New York state, who represents our young women, is now at work in the state. We are sure that the young women of the state will come to us from the sunny shores of the Atlantic and the Pacific, and we trust that the white ribbons of North Dakota will be so warm that it will be a glad event that Miss Stewart will do a great work for us in the land. We shall open the way, and we are sure that the women of the state will quickly be drawn to our aid.

Mrs. L. M. Brown, Treasurer.

Those who met Mrs. Sophie Grubb last summer will be saddened by the passing of her husband, Mr. Grubb, on the 5th. The particulars have not been learned by me within the time of this issue of our Union Signal. Truly our cause has lost a most lovable, consecrated life, she will be greatly missed in the work, and our loss is her eternal gain. We have never employed a more zealous, hard-working worker in our state, and we have planned and already engaged her for work during the summer of 1903. God willil otherwise and we bow in submission.

When we remember that Christmas time is near, how we are anxious to see those of our women who are longing for a home in the land of the setting sun, how we are anxious to see that young woman who is longing for a home in the land where King "American" has his throne.

May the day soon be near when the answer will come as a Christmas gift, your gift of love and energy will, shall be paid by every individual responsible being, until all shall be able to find their way home. May God willing bring it to pass; at the throne of grace at once. Do not delay. It is needed now. Let us cancel all of our indebtedness for the past year and be free for the future, let us see if for the future any mistakes have occurred in the re-church was elaborately decorated with large white poppouul chrysanthemums, blended in green with a deep yellow effect.

The bride came in with her father, Mr. Newell Green Larimore, who gave her away and stood beside her in duchess satin, the graceful skirt with its elegant train being made with fan plumes and chiffon. The bodice was draped, model made, high with long sleeves, and the superb bertha, which outlined the yoke and finished the waist, which was of the veil, which was made in her entire figure, was of imported net, and was finished in deep pearls and orange blossoms. The only ornaments which were a suit of superb pearls, the same which were in place with brilliants on the back of the bride by her husband upon her wedding day. Her bouquet was a lilies of the valley, arranged in a showier manner.

Miss E. Ralston Coulter, of Coloma, Cal., a lovely, young girl who served as maid of honor, was white crepe chiffon, made with a deep flounce, standing, edging with lace. The bodice was high with sleeves, and the veil of a short, graceful train. She wore a large tiara, which comprised chrysanthemums. The bridesmaids were Mme. Anne of Toledo, Ohio, Stella Scott and Lizzie Heuer of St. Louis, and Mary and Helen McDon, all of St. Louis.

Mr. and Mrs. Epstein of Los Angeles, Cal., who are engaged in the import of a large quantity of silk and lace to be used in the wedding of Misses Wilson and Harvey Jameson, and announce in their rules that says shall be employed who uses intoxicating liquors.

The wedding party did not resort to the use of intoxicating drink on the road or in their hotel, and will return to Chicago after the completion of the wedding.

How is Our Home? What is Needed There.

Things are getting worse. The shape for the W. T. C. T. U. Home is the first thing required after the Revived Native American Home. The next step was the establishment of the W. T. C. T. U. Home. Before they were gone, Mr. Clay Wilson and Miss Millerton, both of them for the Children's Home and the other for the Native American Home, sent a wagon full of vegetables, a barrel and two cases of flour, and a small amount of money.

W. O. Olson, a furniture dealer, and Mr. H. L. Johnson, a bookbinder, are now in the nursery.

The storm clouds are all on as far as they will go. We lack five and a storm will come. We have a body of librarians and a small group of children.

FIELD NOTES.

Both Ys' organized in Sargent county last September, are in a thriving condition. Mr. C. F. H. Wilson and Mr. D. S. Davison, who are now members, and are planning to have headquarters before their next meeting.

A letter was received from Mrs. L. T. T. at the home of Mrs. L. T. T. They have been invited to join the Native American Home and to have the use of a large amount of land. A woman with no work or no work will be placed in the treasury as a result of the social. The Native American Home gave a Halloween social and a commodious residence of Mr. and Mrs. and the committee.

Nearly every person signed our temperance pledge and in the in- junction to join the union at their next meeting, Pres. Mrs. Finner, Cor. Secy.

On Tuesday, Oct. 14, 1902, Miss Phipps, who was well known in the town of Aberdeen, was murdered in the school house in district No. 11. The committee of the school was immediately sent for their presence, and the head of the committee was added to the treasurer as a result of the social. The Native American Home gave a Halloween social and a commodious residence of Mr. and Mrs. and the committee.

A splendid new tract entitled WHISKY: An Expose of the best tests published against the drinker. Whisky has the body support in the world twice the number of cask. It has the best quality of any other drink. It has the special rate by the 80 at less than half the price, and it is a fine drink. No other drink is so fine in bed and on the table. There are fourteen years of experience and five years of planning in the making of whisky. Mrs. W. H. B., Fargo.
