Some Signs of the Times. I think we are now looking at an era of reforms and progressive legislation. As regards the liquor traffic, we have seen the introduction of the Temperance movement, with its various phases, such as the Women's Christian Temperance Union and the Anti-camping law. These movements have had a significant impact on society, particularly in terms of public health and morality.

The Anti-camping law, as it is known, was introduced in the United States in 1852, as a provincial secretary, Postmaster General, and Premier. The law was designed to prohibit the sale of intoxicating liquors on public premises. Post Exchange remained policy, despite the fact that many canteens and saloons had been established in the United States in the early 1800s. The law was later amended in 1865, after the Civil War, to give more power to the enforcing agencies.

The Anti-camping law was a significant step in the history of liquor control in the United States. It helped to reduce the number of saloons and canteens, and thus had a positive effect on public health and social order. The law was later supplemented by other regulations, such as the Volstead Act of 1920, which prohibited the manufacture, sale, and transportation of alcoholic beverages.

The liquor traffic has been a major issue in the history of the United States, and the struggle for control of alcoholic beverages has been a long and complex one. The struggle for control of liquor has involved both governmental agencies and private organizations, such as the Women's Christian Temperance Union.

The Anti-camping law was a significant step in the history of liquor control in the United States. It helped to reduce the number of saloons and canteens, and thus had a positive effect on public health and social order. The law was later supplemented by other regulations, such as the Volstead Act of 1920, which prohibited the manufacture, sale, and transportation of alcoholic beverages. The struggle for control of liquor has involved both governmental agencies and private organizations, such as the Women's Christian Temperance Union.
To Cals to. Up. Medical

PRESIDENTS CORNER

Dear Committees—Two important Resolutions of interest to every member of the Medical Community, which should be observed by every member of the Medical Community are:

I. MEMORANDAL DAY. The second Friday in February.

II. MEMORANDAL DAY. The second Friday in May.

Cap we not have in every venture some type of a memorial to the men and women who have served in the United States Armed Forces? We have had many resolutions to that effect. Perhaps the most significant of these resolutions is the one that was passed by the Senate in 1916, which established the Memorial Day in the United States. This resolution was subsequently adopted by the House of Representatives and became law. It is now observed on the second Monday of May each year.

The Senate Committee on the Budget and the District of Columbia have recently repealed the 1916 resolution, which established the Memorial Day. They have also reversed their earlier position and have decided to observe the Memorial Day on the same day as the Memorial Day in the United States.

In this political climate, it is important that we continue to support these resolutions. Our country's military heroes have given their lives for our freedom, and it is only fitting that we honor them on this day.

Yours sincerely,

Life Patrons.

Dear Sisters of the N. D. C. T. U.:

I am writing to you with the intention of describing a particular area of interest to our organization. It is the desire of our State President, Mrs. Anderson, that we all be aware of this topic. For the first time, Mrs. Anderson has requested that each of us write a story about our experiences in this field.

I would like to share with you a recent experience I had while working with a patient who was suffering from rheumatoid arthritis. The patient, a middle-aged woman, had been relying on painkillers and corticosteroids to manage her symptoms. However, these medications had caused a number of side effects, including weight gain and increased risk of infection.

In an effort to find a more natural and effective approach, I decided to explore alternative treatments, such as acupuncture and herbal medicine. Through this journey, I was able to provide the patient with a more holistic approach to managing her condition.

I hope that this experience will encourage others to consider the benefits of alternative therapies. It is important to remember that every patient is unique, and what works for one person may not work for another. However, by staying open-minded and actively seeking out new treatment options, we can help our patients live fuller and more fulfilling lives.

Yours truly,

Mrs. Elizabeth Andrews

State President
The pledges to time.

However, will they be encouraged, and worked for the temperance cause. To say she was surprising, it is not, but they were not discouraged. Realizing the urgent need, they were undertaken, and success came to them. On Monday, January 11, she gave a reception to the young men of the city and high school students. In the room which is the W. C. T. U. headquarters, a large meeting place and reading room for young men.

Early in January the store closed, and the students of the school, who have no homes, as well as students attending the High School from other parts of the country, greatly appreciate the thought of the donation afforded. The Senior L. T. "Miss Addie" and theisuave houses, but grown so rapidly and the capacity of any church is not to seat the congregation. Judge Parker took a lead in this. He gave a caustic and deliberate rebuke to anyone who would tone up the sentiment on the question of the propriety of drug store privileges is issued in Lisbon, and two drug stores live with a population of 15,000 people.

Richland Co., Jan. 19th, 1906. Dear White Ribbon Bulletin Readers—Christman Greetings. I am irs as usual. For our dear Richland Co. W. C. T. U. have received correspondence from all our subscribers. We with our friends in the state have not been as flourishing as we have been in the past. But Miss Addie Woodley, is kept very close at the base of her dear sick husband. She has never taken a look of him but the best they can. Fairmount union plan to make great interest in the printed programs next year, the Sunday School has observed an appearance Sundays for the year.

They held a Union Gospel meeting in the town of good results, the meetings have reached an all time high. Recitations, talks from the Pastor and the day being a good meeting. The president of the organization, the collection amounted to $181.80, they also have distributed the Junior literature. It seems the stormy weather has hindered the workers, sev ings to the Quarterly. The Big Union Library, Hankinson, our dear baby Bette, she has already learned to walk and talk. She is one of the most successful children, great success. Their First Church, is in sympathy, I believe Central, a good help. Mrs. Hayworth was a great help to them, greatly appreciate the dear lady, expect also to use the printed programs and talk to everyone. Mrs. E. M. Tyson is their worthy pres sent, the district meeting was planed, as Mrs. Mack is our State Supt. of Education, she has many other things to do likewise. The superintendents of the entire state of Washington who were in our union and urge others to do likewise. This may be one of the most successful experiences in the work, they expect to use the printed programs and also the text books.

Dear Mr. Unruh,

Miss Unruh, in her last letter to the writer, was kind enough to inform me that she will try to find out more about the question of the laws regarding the sale of liquor. She informs me that she has agreed to try to find out more about this question, and I am pleased to know that she will make every effort to obtain the information I requested.

I hope that she will succeed in her efforts, and I look forward to hearing from her soon.

Yours truly,
L. T. L.