
The Wyoming Annual Convention met in secretary little city of Park River and has some important matters. In regard to the present status of the church we are struck by the beauty of the singing and the enthusiasm of the congregation. The church is well attended and long hours of singing and music are enjoyed by both women and young people.

Music was a special feature of the convention. The church had a total of 200 instrumental and vocal students who performed. A choir of 80 voices sang very appropriate pieces at places. The local talent was also ably assisted by Mr. and Mrs. Inez McLeod.

The opening work of the convention took place Tuesday evening, when officers for the ensuing term were elected and dedicated to national work. The convention was a great success. Mrs. Anderson was re-elected president with a landslide vote and will serve her fourth successful term.

Recommendations of the State President.

1. I make the following recommendations:
   a. That we study this year in the spirit and manner of our predecessors.
   b. That we make every endeavor to secure from the state legislature a law to prohibit solicitation from taking private orders for liquor, an anti-cigar law, a law providing for the establishment of a commission, and the submission of a report to the legislature.
   c. That county and district officers plan for a local meeting with each local union.
   d. Every union officer should plan to attend at least one meeting a year with the local officers and the state president, to attend meetings with a view to the organization of a local union.
   e. That every union member should participate in the field work branch of the organization.
   f. That every union should have a special car, or a car that is available from the county, that will be used for the benefit of the organization.
   g. That we urge every member to help in the constitution and pay the dues on the organizing date.

A member of the Sunday evening service at the Park River church was the annual sermon by the State President. In his address to the members of the state presidency, he paid a pleasant and warm attention to the question of the future of the organization.

An interesting subject was discussed at the meeting of the Park River church. A member of the congregation expressed the hope that the state presidency will give the necessary support to the movement for the establishment of the state presidency.

Political Outlook.

A reference to the open expression of the issues of the present campaign can be made. The political situation is such that there is no room for complacency. It is evident that the political situation is such that the issues of the present campaign cannot be taken for granted. thought it in advance of public sentiment. One of the soliciting orders for outside liquor dealers amounts to a crime, as it is seen throughout the state, and if the prohibition is made, perhaps the same system of suppression as in the past will exist, day and day is among the greatest problems of the day, and all those who have ever fought for this cause are not likely to be held to their records. Many drug stores and other places of business will be affected, and these private enmities are not likely to be held to their records. The 37th Judicial District, with 21 counties, has a population of 1,035,000, and is represented in the state legislature by 85 assemblymen and 23 senators. The district includes the great city of Milwaukee, the industrial center of Wisconsin, and is one of the most important in the state. The prohibition law is strictly enforced in all parts of the district, and the sale of liquor is prohibited in all places of public refreshment.

We do not get our paper" was the complaint heard at the convention. Keep on complicating honest work and paper and you will see the editor will gladly send out papers to each and all who miss their regular number.

Those of us who were as fortunate as to be present at the convention in Fargo, N. D., had brought to our attention the need of reporting. Let each do their part and every one will know about it and so help along the cause.

The reports read at the convention were a real treasure. How they could be printed in the papers if so small a per cent of the Union needs any report of any interest of such a character. We are dependent only by letting her know that you do something.

"Into the hands of the men of the nation this Union must be placed, so power to bring the triumph of Christ's gospel 8choor*8avlngs Assistant State Puri^nal, so will be women is well stated in these terms: Men's influence is influence in power and women's influence in influence minus power."—Rev. My dear Co-Workers,

In the 1906 secretary has received only 19 reports from the legislatures this year. This is very unfair of that some of the legislatures are not working as we have been and this report compared with last year's shows a loss of membership between these years and four.

The state and national dues paid this year are 50.00 against 85.80 last year. This is a mistake to let our dues fall be like that. Will not each superintendent and worker be glad if we could pay our dues as 50.00 a year.

I am sure more has been done, but not reported as hard made upon from other unions for the same reason. Will do my best in it is your prayer of your secretary.

My dear Co-workers this year we are to be let into the directory in the state minutes, and therefore I ask you to write to each other and become better acquainted. I am not familiar with as many state minutes as I should like to but I have sent more than I received reports this year of many among the names, you know whose fault it is and perhaps not its happen again. I copy what I hope one to another and to decide to take the course that is mentioned.

I have found that a state minute register can be made for the same price that an individual can. Eight states have made this and I am sure that you will see if it take up this work so that one cry of "No Leader" would cease, we can all do it for the benefit of our home and school.

Respectfully,

Glimmering Advertisements.

To Whom It May Concern:

Through advertising work which I am interested in I am to come to the conclusion of the business colleges. For about two months’ time I found that the school fell far short of its glimmering advertised, so I investigated Aaker’s Business College and found that his advertisement was to sacrifice tuition paid at the school in order to get the age offers of the A. B. After two months’ time I am pleased to say that I have found it. In the material which I have причаled to that work in building, in equipment, the quality of instruction, and in helpful textbooks, the A. B. C. extras of this school seems to carry out every promise.

Respectfully,

A. M. Klein.
