If I answered your question simply by saving that I never use tobacco and alcohol I might be misunderstood in one way or another. You may say that was a personal preference and proved nothing. But I think that the best way to prove that there is no such thing as ba, or even to prove that there is the existence of people that do not use tobacco and alcohol.

Dear Sisters—Collections have not been very much in need I urge all to do their best. Now I will give you a little summary of the year. The president and I were out in the Inter-Rivings 3 hours in Kinsale and took in $135.00, and there are number of days in which we are going to call on again and again. It is not a feat to get the money this P.M. In Portland. Got $27. If I have shown you that it is not the work I desire to do but that I desire to do it and I believe it is duty to ask for. Wishing all a Merry Christmas and a Happy and prosperous New Year,

If your union is up to the "one in four" mark, it is illustrated to a place on the 1907 Honor List of THE UNION SIGNAL.

Write those rules with a pen. If your union is not up to standard, now is the time to begin. Our Union Signal and The T. D. Course of Study for 1907 will be of vital interest to that lucky person who is in the union and informed on current history along reform lines. The course opens on the New Year, with Required Readings and Questions, dealing with the progress in the various work up to the W. O. T. U.

The CRUSADER MONTHLY in addition to its regular L. T. L. features, will give two pages each month of articles by our leaders to help the pupils in their studies. These will be printed on current history along reform lines. The papers will be so interesting that Seniors, Juniors, teachers and pupils will all enjoy them together. Each union should have one copy because there is a limited supply. A subscription to THE UNION SIGNAL, Casselton, N. D.

DOES IT PAY to call ministers to preach on love, charity, hope, the meaning of forgiveness and redemption and license other persons to speak in a trade with express license?

DOES IT PAY to send missionaries to the out-reaching point of salvation, and from the same port and after the same manner and mean and end them "liquid salvation?"

DOES IT PAY to license a tax to support an orphanage and children's home and to aid husbands and fathers? Does it pay to license a traffic which is always in want everywhere known to be the enemy of God? Does it pay to maintain 250 life saving stations in the United States at a cost of a million and a half and out of the same pockets maintain and charge the recovering stations at two billion and a half? Does IT PAY to license and permit falsities and falsehood of passion, prejudice, ignorance, appetite, greed and those things in the name of conscience, when we do not want, suffering, religion and God? If these things do not pay, does it pay to continue to hate the saloon, to curse it from platform and pulpit and through the press and to press its overthrow in secret, and at the family altar and in the prayer-meeting.

At a Methodist Annual conference, a few years ago, a young man came forward, giving an account of his work. In his report he said, "We have four as-balls in our church, and a Bishop interrupted him, and asked, "What do you want the Bishop for?" At a moment's hesitation, the preacher replied, "Yes, Bishop; for, when the children are the most troublesome and they will go,"-H. H. Smith, Kinsla, Va. This incident is given for the price of this cake.

What the King Forgot.

It is related that Cyrus, when a youth, was appointed cup-bearer at the table of the king. His duty was to taste the liquor before it was brought to the king. One day in the course of his duties, the king drew his attention to the omission, and rebuked him. "No, I was afraid to draw your attention to it; but there was poison in the liquor; for, at your last supper, with the master of the feast and the queen, you, as queen, attempted to forget that you were king."-H. H. Smith, Kinsla, Va.

My Dear Legions—I have received several letters from you, which I hope to read to the rest of you so that you may try to do likewise. The thought that you have signed up for the service of our country and their diplomas are coming so that they may be presented, which is so pleasing to me. If a few more of our Senate will try to finish the course this year, which will be an organization in North Dakota. We as a state are not far behind in the number of men who do not wish to be outdone by our eastern or southern Seniors. We are not old enough to get a reduction in the L. T. L. or elsewhere, but when they enter the great world of newspapers or whatever branch they choose, they will not offend our readers in a probable manner. As a rule, punctuality and perseverance should be the things we look for in any men. If we did not consider the suffering and evil they are causing throughout the land

I am pleased to see the mother unions organize, and I will gladly send literature to any who ask for it.

The Northwood legion gives a nice report of what they are doing and for that I will enclose it. Wishing you all a happy and prosperous new year.

Fraternally your's,

L. M. BROWN

From Miss Best

Hunter, N. D. Dec. 30, 1905—My dear Mr. Brown,

By the last news the Christmas is not far away and we will be over and we will be starting on a new year. May this next year be prosperous for you and also a happy one in the work for our Master. Let me tell you that we have a lot of work to do, and must work and pray together, and then I know that we shall succeed.

Miss Alice Mohler, our state Y o g o n t o w n, will be in your school this year, and I hope you will have a good time with us.

I am not so bold to say you will see me, but I am sure you will see me. Now with our organization we have a very large number of members here, and we wish to have the number of the membership increase. It is a great surprise to Mrs. Brown and to some of the other states to see our organization do as we can see that we can do it.

As you yet hope you will get news of your schoolmates. Wish you all a happy New Year in your work, and I think we may borrow it. We have not heard from you, and all are wondering about you. We only take alcoholic liquor for social or lecture, write just what you can of it, and make sure you send a souvenir card I will reply on one. I would like to get a book full of "Y cards." I know you can do it. I think it will be splendid and not take much time either.

I heard that Tower City was getting on the other side of the house. If this so hope they'll send me word on a postal so it will be recorded.

Wishing you a very prosperous New Year in your work, I am,

Yours lovingly,

Eveen Best

A Surgeon Afraid of it

Dr. Loren, the great Australian sur- g en, was present at a certain banquet given recently, and during the course of the evening, he round the table, and many of the guests drank.
