"NOT WILLING THAT ANY SHOULD PERISH."

TO THE WISE—A BARGAIN.

By Charlotte Gilman.

The Child in the Market-Place.

By Ethel M. Milles, Sept. 8, T. L. Vermont.

If we have saved the child of today, we have saved a world of tomorrow.

G. Stanley Hall expressed the splendid dominant note of the twentieth century when he said recently that every human institution exists in order to be changed, and that people are therefore the highest maturity of body and soul.

The nearer men have followed the Christian and the scientific education and the church has become a living child, and now the W. C. T. U. and the churches are in and are doing a more constructive work for children than the philantrophic forces of Christendom.

On the other hand the brewer and the saloon-keeper, who is the anti-child, tells us that children are the ruin of the alcohol. He is more concerned with his children in the hope of reaping millions.

From the time you go to school you are going to be a party to the system which is selling you the goods which you are going to need when you go to school.

You cannot avoid the situation, and it is a matter of fact that there is a wild and unscrupulous campaign.

The traffic in girls and boys is like the traffic in coal, a matter of fact, and it is a fact that you are being used in the same fashion.

You are going to be given a chance to make a sale and to get a certain amount of money for what you are going to give away.

The Salesman of the World.

By Dr. Fredrick E. Rowland.

The world is a market. It is a market of sale and purchase. It is a market of commodities and products. It is a market of ideas and of thought. It is a market of action and of reaction.

The market is a place where you go to buy and sell.

You are going to be a buyer and a seller.

You are going to be a buyer of your own product.

You are going to be a seller of your own product.

You are going to be a buyer of your own product.

You are going to be a seller of your own product.

Dear Comrades: This letter has been delayed until the close of the session, for the reason that there may be no time to finish it in the middle of it. I do not know the fate of the bills in which we are interested.

There was a meeting of initiates and referenda measures, but those bills were all defeated. After a hard struggle, the W. C. T. U. druggists' bill, which was endorsed by the State Enforcement League and the National, was passed yesterday afternoon, I gave the provisions of this bill a last look in the White Ribbon Bulletin. However, it was amended in the committee by striking out that part of the bill which the petition must be signed by sixty per cent of the free-holders and fifty per cent of the registered voters in the respective counties. The other provisions in regard to the petition are the same as in the present bill. It is expected that the amendment may be made to the district judge. The hearing is public and the state's attorney will appear. It may appear and offer evidence in rebuttal of that offered by the applicant and the burden of proof is upon the applicant.

When a drug is violating the law a petition may be filed with the judge, provided that the petition is signed by the district judge and the ferry druggist to appear before him at a certain date not less than thirty days after the date of the petition. It is shown that he is violating the law the district judge may order him to cease and desist and if he can readly be seen that under this bill it will be much easier to take a license than the present bill which is to be given who is violating the law than it has been heretofore. The amendment strengthens the bill and makes it easier for a druggist to secure a permit.

The McCarra bill defining intoxicating liquors was passed yesterday. This will greatly assist in the enforcement of the law.

The bill empowering the governor to remove officials for malfeasance in office was defeated. The bill pertaining to the appointment of another assistant attorney general was late last night. The Labor bull bill passed last night is signed by the governor. This strengthens the joint labor under eighteen who may be found smoking, selling or possessing tobacco in the city or in any public place. It seems evident that a bill prohibiting enterprising and possession of tobacco or cigarettes would not pass at this time, so we worked for this as a stepping stone.

The child labor bill passed after a hard fight. A stronger law excluding minors under eighteen from work passed last night. The Labor bill passed which is signed by the governor. This strengthens the joint labor under eighteen. It is passed in the Senate. The Laid bull referring only to the purity of liquor shipped into the state will pass at this time, so we worked for this as a stepping stone.

The education bill which makes the present law more effectual was passed last night by our State Superintendent, Mrs. Frances W. Leiter, has been very anxious for us to see this bill. It was introduced in the Senate. It will be put on the calendar by the steering committee of the Senate. However, we are hearing nothing of Senator Talbot, it was on the calendar and passed.

One of the basic principles of this bill is introduced a number of purity bills which became laws, and of which I may speak in another letter. Several equal suffrage bills were introduced, but failed to carry.

FIELD NOTES

Wheatland. Dear Editor,—Wheatland reunion is on hand, front, having doubled its membership since convention time. A Frances E. Willard revival is under way. Mrs. P. J. McLaren on Feb. 17. A program is being planned for the occasion, which will be followed by refreshments, rendered the evening a pleasant time. A charge of $5.00 will do the trick, brought in the nice sum of $60. Union Social work comes next. Mrs. C. E. Cooke, President.

Forest River.—On Feb. 17th Forest River Union observed Frances Willard’s birth anniversary with a program under the direction of Dr. W. J. Medland. The program was of the highest order and well rendered. At the close of the meeting, a check was taken for the Willard Memorial Fund and our hostess served refreshments. The program was concluded by the presentation of a picture of Miss Willard as a souvenir. The meeting was one long to be remembered.

Amenia. Feb. 17. Dear Comrades,—As I sit reading this in the Odd Fellows’ hall. Every one in the community was invited, Jan. 33th we gave an oyster supper at the hall at six o’clock, which netted us $21.10. This month we had Miss Pearl Kirk with us. She gave her recital one evening. We found that the young ladies and gentlemen were all engaged,medals were held. This contest training has proved very helpful to the girls and we hope that Miss Kirk again some time to train with them.

The Scandinavian W. C. T. U. of Fargo held a most appropriate program in memory of Frances Willard. A recital in the afternoon at the Swedish Baptist church at which a splendid program was rendered going according to the program made for the purpose of raising funds to send to the citizens of the Scandinavian W. C. T. U. The program was as follows: Vida Johnson, Libby Michelson, Sarah Wallegren; solo, Prof. J. P. Bohlin; address, Rev. B. L. Carlson, pastor; Mrs. G. Westberg, address, Progress of Temperance in the Scandinavian Nation; B. S. Westberg, address, Askar; paper, Life of Miss Willard, Miss Christine Larson, Lutheran seminary. There was a fair number of people who showed their appreciation of the great work which Miss Willard was instrumental in accomplishing.

Englevea, Jan. 27.—West Fairview W. C. T. U. held a meeting with Miss Lorene Howland, President, and well attended. I call it a good meeting when we can start some subject and we can start that subject and carry on a talk about it, the talk being Bible reading. Will hold our next meeting Feb. 20th, at the home of Edith Loomer, our temporary president, and I think our honorary’s as our leader, and we may look for an interesting meeting in two weeks. Miss Willard was presented at $200 and $5 to the Enforcement League. Will hold a meeting in March through the White Ribbon Bulletin her way of reading Bible and literature and oblige, Mrs. Martha Potter, Cor. Sec., West Fairview W. C. T. U., Englevea, N. Dak.

Portal. Dear Editor,—I give here Portal’s work attempted and planned. Our catchup club are working in our Memorial meeting, two dollar offering to the National, and a silver medal class of eight young people for Feb. 25th, the slavery petition and legislative work. All women, club and public gatherings prohited and members received at present with interest, but we were disappointed, but will have the contest and meeting later. Our next meeting is to be held from recent Ladie’s Home Journal, and our meeting’s starting meeting was on suffrage and was well attended. We are also in midst of law and order crusade with victory promised. Have the whole club pledged and they are feeling our kite to keep up interest. We are in receipt of a new edition of the..... catahismation.

RESCUE WORK.

Grand Forks, N. D., Feb. 19. Dear Sisters,—As superintendent of rescue work I think it would be a good plan if we could do this in the winter time, but I had hardly knowed where to begin until I recenctly had an opportunity to see the B. Smith, Burlington, Kansas, enclosed a leaflet on "The White Slave Trade," with a letter from a U. S. district attorney of Chicago referring to a meeting of women in nine girls in this foreign land. There is agitation on this subject, occasionally a chapter will appeal to the fathers and what measures are being taken to redress the wrong. But, I am sure it is going to be a work that must be continued, and I hope I can get a few letters to the effect that we have bought to inform every father and mother in the United States, and perhaps some in other countries. The Fair in Washington this year is causing great activity on both sides and the government is looking for the help of the guardians BEFORE the arrangements are made and the minnow does some good. I am sure this will arouse our women to work in this important matter. I am, yours truly, M. L. Woole, State Supt. of Rescue Work.

Prof. W. A. McKee of the Kansas State Agricultural College will issue during the spring a bulletin on the subject of home training: "Cigarette Smoking and Its Effects Upon the Boy from Taking His First Drink," a significant title and proves that such work is desired, that it is desired by educated re- and educator, alike.
