PRESIDENT'S LETTER

"O Woman, great is thy faith; be it unto thee even as thou wilt." Matt. 15:28

Dear co-workers,

What a precious promise we have, so we must not let our faith falter or grow dim.

Someone wrote,

Look within and be depressed,
Look without and be distressed,
Look at Christ and be at rest.

This does not mean a rest of doing nothing for there is much we as Christians have to do. But with Christ as Leader, Guide, and Source of Power we need not be depressed or distressed, but go forward in His Power and Might.

So nice to have this message from our capable and energetic Vice President for this issue. Remember to lift her up in prayer that she may continue mighty in service and love for her Lord.

Just a reminder: The dates for YTC Camp are June 25-29. Be much in prayer for the camp objectives, the leaders, counselors, teachers, and youth.

State convention dates have been confirmed: October 8-9-10 way out west at Williston. Remember the State Officers, the Northwest District, and our speaker, Major Mrs. Ralph Spicer, in prayer as plans for North Dakota's 86th Annual Convention continue.

National Convention has been set for September 2-9 at the Glorietta Baptist Bible Conference Center in the Sangre De Christo Mountain Range, Gloriette, New Mexico. If any of you plan to go, please contact me by June 1 for Convention accommodation rates and special transportation needs.

With love,
Marion Bartle

DO WE CARE ENOUGH?

What is our law of Christian Brotherhood? Romans 14:21. "It is good neither to eat flesh, nor to drink wine, nor anything whereby thy brother stumbleth, or is offended, or is made weak."

Our society is slowly realizing the dividends of unconcern. We are beginning to recognize our delinquent action and unchristian selections of voting into office liquor advocates to local, State and National offices. Psa!m 94:20: Shall the throne of iniquity have fellowship with thee, which frameth mischief by a law?

We, the Woman's Christian Temperance Union, have endless concern. We're obligated to work overtime in prayer plus becoming a permanent Prayer Partner for the family, neighbors, friends, and our lawmaking officials throughout our land. How they need our help! God can use every one of us if we but ask Him for the concern, conviction, and desire to do His will. How can we call ourselves Christians of any Faith and still sit back and say: "I'm just too busy trying to be righteous." We refuse to get involved in the problems of the world. Immorality, permissiveness, alcohol, lawlessness, they are all closing in around us, invading every home, school, church, to the halls of justice and government. It is heartbreaking to see our own church members reflect so little concern for their fellowmen. We must open our eyes soon for it is later than we think. "God, grant me the serenity to accept the things I cannot change; the courage to change the things I can; and the wisdom to know the difference." There is so much to be done.

It was my privilege to attend the United Methodist Legislative Concerns Day at our legislature the last week in January. As a guest of my local representative, I thank God for the knowledge I gained; thereby inspiring me to see that we all need to sit in the seats and observe the mechanisms of lawmaking. The lobbyists! the pressures! proved to me that only Christian Representatives could possibly do their duty for the betterment of their country. And at that, he would need the fortitude of a Job to retain his Christianity! "Though he slay me, yet will I trust in him." Job 13:15.

The dishonesty in political careers has placed a blight on our respect and confidence in our lawmakers and patriotism to our country. Let's keep our faith; exhibit it by praying for our lawmakers. Rebuild our patriotism; no country can survive without it.

When you all wrote letters to your congressmen on bill 1410 concerning the nineteen year-old drinking age, your efforts paid off. Our Representatives informed me that it will be brought up again. I've been told by citizens of other states of their admiration for our Governor's veto.

In Minnesota where the legal age for drinking in public places, there is concerned unrest. A recent letter appeared in the Forum stating that raising the drinking age to 19 or even 25 would be a step forward.

Our states should be doing their utmost to protect our students from alcohol and other drugs. Providing honest guidelines would be one step, however small, toward a more orderly and healthy society for our youth. Emphasis was voiced by our lawmakers in Bismarck of the importance of our personal letters and visits showing our concern;

I was invited by our local newspaper at Gwinner, the "Enterprise", to write an editorial on my visit to the Legislature. If we all used the abilities God gave us, great things could be accomplished.

Life is like a journey on a train

With a pair of travelers at each window pane;

I may sit beside you all the journey through

Or I may sit elsewhere, never knowing you.

But if fate should mark me to sit by your side,

Let's be pleasant, helpful travelers, it's so short a ride!

I was so impressed by a statement of one of our guest ministers at State Convention. Rev. E.C. Schumacker of Evangelical Free Church said, "The Woman's Christian Temperance Union is the arm of faith for every Church to use." If only our Churches would cooperate.

We need to concentrate on reaching the youth and their parents by being a Christian friend with love, patience, and willingness to be concerned and involved. Work and pray with and for them. There is such a need for loving understanding. Knowledge is obtained only through involvement.

Intercede with God for those struggling in the drug culture, Domestic upheavals, business crises, the starving, violence, licentious behavior, all victims of society's ills.

Without God as one's life partner people of all ages have a greater inducement to grasp for a crutch. The crutch takes varied forms, alcohol, drugs, tobacco. Our remedy is total abstinence with God and Prayer.

Let us rededicate our understanding with love for them all. Their souls are just as precious as ours! We are God's Fishermen, dedicated Christian women, living and walking in daily challenge, having the courage to be our brother's keeper. Our success and happiness grows best in the field of toil and devotion.

Is anybody happier because you passed his way?

Does anyone remember that you spoke to him today?

Our day is almost over and its toiling time is through!

Is there anyone to utter a kindly word of you?

Can you say tonight in parting with the day that's slipping fast

That you helped a single brother of the many that you passed?

Is a single heart rejoicing over what you did or said;

Does the man whose hopes were fading, now with courage look ahead?

Did you waste the day? Or lose it? Was it well or sorely spent?

Did you leave a trail of kindness or a sea of discontent?

As you close your eyes in slumber, do you think our Father will say,

"You've earned one more tomorrow by the work you did today"?

(This month's Message is the address given by Vice President Violet White at the Ransom-LaMoure District Convention. We thank her for her generous permission to reprint it here. Ed.)

RANSOM-LAMOURE DISTRICT CONVENTION

The Ransom-LaMoure District WCTU met for their seventy-fifth annual meeting at the Holy Trinity Episcopal Church, Lisbon, on April 16, hosted by the West Fairview Union.

President Lucille Nash convened the meeting and led in the singing of "O Master Let Me Walk With Thee" with Mrs. Jones at the organ. Clara Cooper brought a message from 2 John 1 stressing the close relationship between God, the Father and Christ, the Son and the fellowship we may share with them if we will be cleansed and walk in the light of God's presence. Melissa Dick extended a warm welcome, which was contrary to the cool, rainy day. Gelia Stemen gave the thanks for all present. The flag salutes were led by Mabel Hastings.

The reports from the Unions indicated good activity by their members. A time for questions and answers was given to Helen McCleary concerning the White Ribbon Bulletin. Melissa Dick and Violet White reported their experiences at the United Methodist Social Concerns Day with the State Legislature. Marion Bartle announced that the YTC Camp dates are June 25-29; October 8-9-10 have been selected for the State Convention in Williston; and the National Convention at the Glorietta Baptist Bible Camp, Glorietta, New Mexico will be September 2-9. She added that the Dickey Union will observe their 50th year this summer and extended an invitation to help them celebrate.

White roses on an evergreen wreath made by Irene Wiltse was symbolic of the Memorial Hour led by Doris Huether. Lucille Nash sang "Beneath the Cross c' Jesus."

Beverly Maack gave the Noontide Prayer. After a pot luck luncheon, the committees met for their business. Violet White, guest speaker, spoke on the care and concern a Christian should have to promote a healthy society.

The present officers were re-elected for another year as follows: President: Lucille Nash; Vice-President: Gelia Stemen; Secretary: Doris Huether; Treasurer: Mabel Hastings.

Final arrangements were made for observance of YTE Week. All the Unions are co-ordinating the schedule of school and community meetings in five counties where David Forthun will be speaking.

Interspersed throughout the meeting was the singing of "Just as I Am"; "Wind the Ribbon Round the Nations"; "Some Glad Day". The convention adjourned with the singing of "An Evening Prayer" and the Aaronic Benediction in unison.

I HAVE A BOY

I've a wonderful boy, and I say to him, "Son,
Be fair and be square in the race you must run;
Be brave if you lose, and be meek if you win,
Be better and nobler than I've ever been;
Be honest and noble in all that you do,
And honor the name I have given to you."

I have a boy, and I want him to know
We reap in life just about as we sow;
And we get what we earn, be it little or great,
Regardless of lack, and regardless of fate.
I will teach him and show him the best that I can;
That it pays to be honest and upright—a man.

I will make him a pal and a partner of mine,
And show him the things in this world that are fine,
I will show him the things that are wicked and bad—
For I figure this knowledge should come from his dad.

I will walk with him, talk with him, play with him,
too;
And to all of my promises strive to be true.

We will grow up together; I, too, will be a boy,
And share in his trouble and share in his joy.
We'll work out our problems together, and then
We will lay out our plans when we both will be men.
And oh, what a wonderful joy this will be!
No pleasure in life could be greater to me.
—Mutual Moments

ON MOTHER'S DAY

Your love, my dearest Mother, is to me a flame—
Warm and glowing and beautiful, ever before me;
To which I turn in times of grief and worldly stress,
As confident as when a babe I turned to your dear eyes
When my whole world lay therein.
And O Mother Mine! of one thing I am sure—
As sure as of eternity itself—
That this mother light shall never waver,
But through the years to come shall glow,
Constant for me!

IN MEMORIAM

Beautiful hands at the gate-way tonight,
Faces all shining with radiant light;
Eyes looking down from yon heavenly home,
Beautiful hands - they are beckoning me home.

Brightest and best of that glorious throng,
Center of all and theme of their song,
Jesus our Savior, the pierced one, stands,
Lovingly calling with beckoning hands.

THE POINT

Once upon a time, a Mohammedan came to one of his religious leaders called a Kadi, and asked, "If I eat dates, is that against the commands of religion?"

"No," said the Kadi.

"And may I add some water?"

"Certainly."

"And is it wrong to take a little yeast?"

"Oh, no."

"Well," went on the questioner, "date wine consists only of these three ingredients. Why then, is it forbidden by the laws of our religion?"

The Kadi thought for a moment, and then he said, "If I throw a handful of dust on your head, will that cause pain?"

"Not in the least."

"And if I add some water—will it hurt you then?"

"I think not."

"Now, if I mix dust and water together and burn it into a brick and hit you on the head with it, what then?"

THE VICIOUS CIRCLE...

It is estimated by Dr. Chafetz's Institute that up to 9 million Americans abuse alcohol at a cost to the economy of 25 billion dollars a year.

"This society," says Dr. Chafetz, "puts tremendous focus on alcohol as a means of socializing."

"Nowhere is this more evident than in Washington, where per capita consumption of liquor is believed to be among the highest of major cities in the country.

One reason is that liquor costs less in the nation's capitol than it does in most cities.

Congress, which until recently governed the District of Columbia, was always careful not to raise taxes on alcoholic beverages as steeply as other cities have done.

As a result, a fifth of whiskey, for example, costs anywhere from one to four dollars less in Washington than it does in such places as New York, Philadelphia, or Atlanta.

As a Senate staff member says of the 535 members of Congress: "There is always somebody around who wants to buy you a drink—either a lobbyist looking for a favor or a newspaperman looking for a story."

Says Dr. Donald Goodman, a psychiatrist who is director of the addiction research center in Washington University in St. Louis: "God only knows how many decisions have been made by politicians when the alcohol in their blood is at a level at which they would lose their driver's license."

—U.S. NEWS AND WORLD REPORT GOES ON AND ON...

Alcohol problems among adolescents are suddenly permeating every level of society, bringing misery and ruin to thousands of young lives.

According to the National Institute on Alcohol Abuse and Alcoholism, 1.3 million Americans between the ages of 12 and 17 have serious drinking problems. About one-third of our high school students get drunk at least once a month. And arrests of teenagers for drunken driving have tripled since 1960; 60 per cent of the people killed in drunk-driving accidents are in their teens. A recent study of the National Traffic Safety Administration reveals that one-fourth of those high school students who drink say they have driven three or more times when drunk.

What is causing this upsurge of teen-age drinking? A factor is the liquor industry's new interest in the youth market. The whole boom in so-called "pop wines" is aimed in large part at young people. Especially startling are new drinks called Strawberry Fling and Orange Fling, vodka mixes packed to look like soda pop—READER'S DIGEST

NEW YORK—A new report reveals that up to 12 per cent of juniors and seniors in New York City high schools may be alcoholics or "problem drinkers"—and 80 per cent of them drink to some extent.

The study of the drinking habits of New York high school students was conducted last June on a sample of 10,000 students 16 to 19 years old in 91 schools.

Findings of the new study confirmed earlier reports of alcohol abuse among increasingly younger age groups and of serious alcohol problems among youth in general.

The study found a correlation between problem drinking and beginning to drink before the seventh grade. Gilbert M. Shimmel of Hunter College, who participated in the study, said at a news conference that there is a "hard core" of problem drinkers in high schools and the drinking age is going down. He went on to say that problem drinking among young people appeared to be linked to peer pressure, poor rapport with their parents and other adults, and poor self-concept.

To help combat alcoholism and alcohol abuse among young people, the study recommended education programs in elementary grades, increased emphasis on parental involvement with the problem drinker, and school activities that would provide an attractive alternate to drinking.

The liquor industry was also encouraged to relinquish its advertising emphasis on the teen-age market.—Pentecostal Evangel

"I would estimate that 10 per cent of all adolescents and teen-agers admitted to hospitals for other disorders actually have a problem directly related to the abuse of alcohol," said Dr. Vincent Pisani, an alcoholism expert at Rush-Presbyterian St. Luke's Medical Center in Chicago.

Fifty per cent of the youngsters admitted to Rush's adolescent psychiatric unit are there for alcohol-related problems. This, said the physician, represents an astonishing fivefold jump during the last ten years.

The physician added that many youngsters think that drinking is an acceptable way of coping with problems—a lesson they pick up from their parents.—NATIONAL INQUIRER

THERE IS A CHOICE

It is no wonder that chaplains in the Armed Services have so few young men come to them for help. They say that if the folks back home would keep in touch with their young people, their work would be far easier. Mail call is an important time for these fellows away from home. If home-folk don't care, the prostitutes will, and liquor is easy to get. So, keep in touch; give them something better to think about. Tell them "I care."

GOING THE SECOND MILE!*FRUIT JUICE—NON-ALCOHOLIC BEVERAGES
for the Armed Services

April 1 to August 31, 1975

Many of our young men and women are in the Armed Services today and need to be aware of our interest in them. This "second mile" project—raising funds to provide fruit juice or other non-alcoholic beverages will help the many who do not want to drink. As before the USO will distribute these good wholesome drinks.

Proper credit will be given the Woman's Christian Temperance Union.

Care is being taken in the choice of drinks to meet the standards of the WCTU. BE READY to help. Below are suggestions for carrying out the project.

SUGGESTIONS

APPOINT COMMITTEE...Make plans for the dates in the above period given to promote this project. Decide where you will take the cans or banks. Have definite plans before you call on the management of the stores or if on the street, the city government that regulates such street sales.

CONTAINERS...Decide and collect the type container you want to use. Some have used baking powder cans, glass jars with lids, etc. With removal lids, the slot can be cut in the lid and it will be easy to remove the money. We further suggest that the top be taped around the edge for safety.

LABELS...The USO is providing labels to be put on each can which carries the information that this is a WCTU sponsored project for the USO service centers. DECIDE on the number of labels you will need and order from this address:

Evanston, IL 60201

INSTRUCTIONS...Sheets can also be ordered from the above address. We will thank you for including postage with your order.

DISTRIBUTION AND COLLECTION OF CANS...Deliver or be at the business place on the date and at the time you arranged to be there. If you are given space to take the offering, find out where and how much space you have. Keep within the time limit provided. Be sure you are welcome to go back.

COLLECTION...In some places, such as super markets, restaurants, other stores they may prefer you leave the can at the cashier desk. If so, find out how many they will permit...arrange for a definite date to make a pick up of funds and KNOW when you are to pick up the final funds. Where the can is left several days or the full time, someone should be assigned to pick up the funds from the can so the management or the clerks will not have this responsibility. This will also show your own keen interest in the project.

STREET SOLICITATION...As mentioned above, BE SURE to have permission from the proper city authorities. Learn the rules and instruct helpers in any limitations in such solicitation.

SENDING FUNDS...Do not wait until the last day. Send regular remittances through the proper treasurer channels so that all funds have reached your state treasurer.
