Dear Colleagues,

Congratulations! Every Tuesday of National Library Week is National Library Workers Day. NLWD provides "an opportunity to recognize all library workers, including librarians, support staff and others who make library service possible every day." As the COVID-19 pandemic proscribes gatherings and celebrations, I would like to take a moment to recognize all NDSU librarians and staff via email, as I am unable to in person. I am impressed by your resourcefulness, collegiality, and positive attitude. I would like to commend you for reinforcing our core values and for making an outstanding contribution in support of the Libraries' mission and vision. Your daily involvement makes NDSU an extraordinary educational and research enterprise that continues to draw local, regional, and national attention. Thank you for your dedicated service!

Today is also a great opportunity to make a nomination for the Dean's Excellence Award by following the link to the form on the Issue Tracker or you can follow this link: <http://helpdesk.lib.ndsu.nodak.edu/portal> (if the link does not work, please email your nomination directly to ndsudeanlibraries@ndsuedu)

Have a happy National Library Workers Day and stay safe!
