

SITE ORIENTATION: CHOOSING THE SITE:

The reason I chose Buffalo, South Dakota is because it is located in the heart of the rural landscape of the United States. Buffalo is a town with a rich history that dates back to the early days of settlement. It is a town that has a strong sense of community and a deep connection to its roots.

MISSION STATEMENT:

The mission of this project is to create a strong "first impression" with gateway experience elements into the town. This "first impression" of the town should be a progression of experiences as you enter the site. The gateway experience should progress into a welcoming and attractive streetscape design. The streetscape should be a reflection of the community and its history.

EMPHASIS:

The emphasis of this project is to create a strong "first impression" with gateway experience elements into the town. This "first impression" of the town should be a progression of experiences as you enter the site. The gateway experience should progress into a welcoming and attractive streetscape design.

PROJECT GOAL:

This project should help the community to have a greater understanding of design. I also hope to spark excitement within the community that would result in the use of the site, or parts of it, in the future. My goal is to help the town's relationship to the surrounding landscape and to create hierarchy of community spaces within the town.

US Highway 85 Corridor - Design Emphasis:

Goal: To improve the visual appearance of the corridor through gateway experience and landscape development. Objectives: To create a strong gateway experience into the town. To create a strong sense of community and a deep connection to its roots.

WHAT IS SMALL TOWN LIFE:

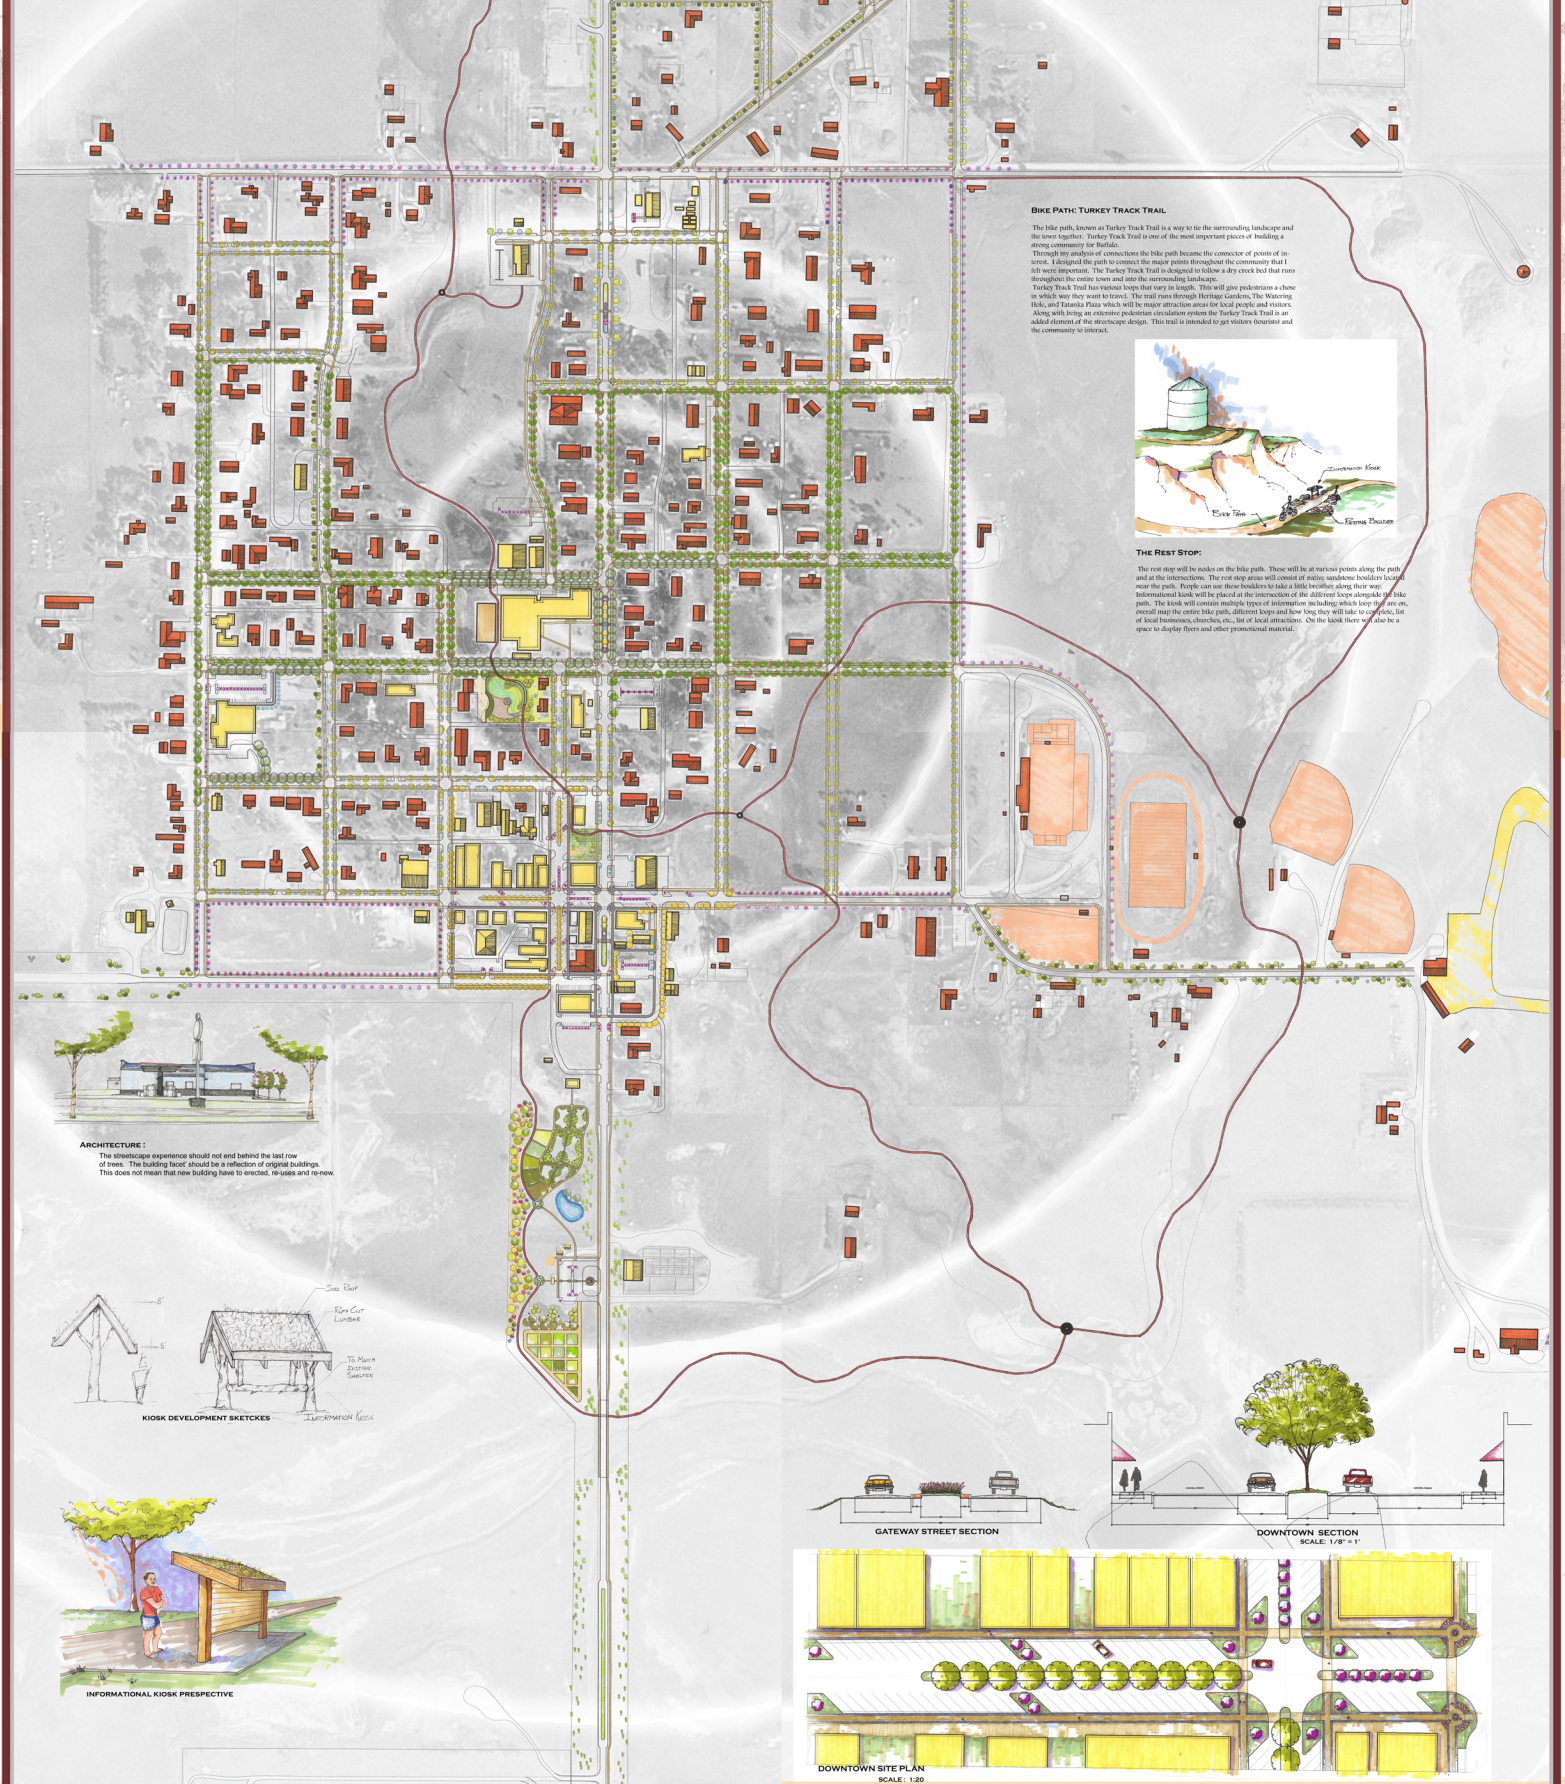

Small town life is a special way of life. It is a way of life that is rooted in a sense of community and a deep connection to its roots. Small town life is a way of life that is rooted in a sense of community and a deep connection to its roots.

HISTORICAL:

The history of Buffalo, South Dakota is a story of resilience and growth. It is a story of a town that has overcome many challenges and emerged as a strong and vibrant community. The history of Buffalo is a story of resilience and growth.

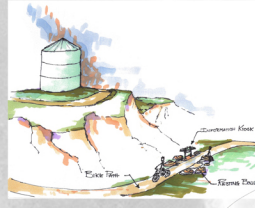

THE RINGS:

The translucent ring that are shining through the aerial photograph are walking rings. They are based upon the assumption that a person can walk two miles in an hour. The center of the rings is located near the front door of the Harding County High School. The largest ring is a fifteen minute walk from the center in any direction.

DICE PATH: TURKEY TRACK TRAIL

This path, known as Turkey Track Trail is a path to the surrounding landscape and the town center. Turkey Track Trail is a path to the surrounding landscape and the town center. Turkey Track Trail is a path to the surrounding landscape and the town center.

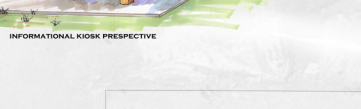

THE REST STOP:

The rest stop will be located on the dice path. It will be a place where people can stop and rest. The rest stop will be a place where people can stop and rest. The rest stop will be a place where people can stop and rest.

ARCHITECTURE:

The architecture should not reflect the town's history. The architecture should be a reflection of the town's future. The architecture should be a reflection of the town's future. The architecture should be a reflection of the town's future.

HISTORICAL CONTINUED:

Ray Gilbert, Frank Gilbert, Frank Van Horn, William Fries. This group of men founded the town of Buffalo. They bought 40 acres of land that present day Buffalo is sitting on. The Gilbert Brothers owned the first business in town. Frank Van Horn put up the first hotel and William Fries owned the first store. These individuals should be honored for their contributions to the town of Buffalo.

Tipponary. This is a famous building home that should not be forgotten. Tipponary was owned by Charles Willson, a local farmer. This home is the only one of its kind in Buffalo. The Tipponary and the local model is named after the house.

Three Toes. This was a buffalo herd that killed thousands of dollars worth of livestock. A farmer was killed by the herd and his wife was injured. The herd was eventually killed and the farmer was able to recover. The herd was eventually killed and the farmer was able to recover.

CULTURAL: Ranching. Ranching is not only the way of life for the majority of the residents of the county, but it is the culture. Cattle have been grazing the grasses of the county since the late 1800s. Ranchers have learned to farm the land and raise cattle that is well suited for raising livestock. The cowboy has set new standards and black hats and herd cattle from horse back. To some people it is considered a simpler way of life, I think you are right. This is the development that is the county.

LOCATION: Transportation Linkages. Transportation is an important element to the design theme. Many of the local areas are served by poor roads and even trails. Buffalo has a long history of being a transportation hub. The town is served by US Highway 85 and the railroad. The town is served by US Highway 85 and the railroad.
