HISTORY

The Program Evaluation Committee was established in response to a request from the North Dakota State Board of Higher Education, apparently in late 1980. The committee evaluated each university academic program under a prescribed format and made recommendations for future resource allocations. The committee, chaired by David Forbes, presented its final report in July 1981 to Vice President for Academic Affairs, H. Ray Hoops

SCOPE AND CONTENT

The records are organized into three series: I. Reports, 1981. II. Departmental program evaluations. and III. Vitae. The records include the final report to Vice President for Academic Affairs, report on each academic program completed by the department which includes its mission statement, data on faculty, non-faculty personnel, department strengths and weaknesses, library holdings & services, facilities, equipment, centrality to University's mission, non-major credit contribution, demand by or number of majors, demand for graduates, locational advantage, impact on the public front, accreditation status, & external support. There are also vitae for all faculty, organized alphabetically. Included also is compilation of plan-of-actions by each college dean in response to the committee's final report.
