ADMINISTRATIVE HISTORY

The origins of the Animal and Range Sciences department are found in the first catalog (May 1892) within the agricultural course of study, “The work of this year is devoted chiefly to livestock and dairy husbandry.” It isn’t until the 1905-1906 catalog that the Department of Animal Husbandry first appears and it becomes the Division of Animal Husbandry as of the 1907-1908 catalog. The name changed back to the Department of Animal Husbandry as of the 1923-1924 catalog. As of the 1965-67 catalog, the department's name was changed to Animal Science. AS of the 1986-1988 catalog the department was Animal and Range Science.
