ADMINISTRATIVE HISTORY

In the first North Dakota Agricultural College catalog (May 1892), the Department of Veterinary Science is listed as one of the eleven original departments. The 1893 catalog lists the Department of Physiology and Veterinary Science. By the 1898-99 catalog, it was the Department of Veterinary Science. The Department of Veterinary Science continued through 1994, when it became the Department of Veterinary and Microbiological sciences, although in 1989, the first Department of Veterinary Science/Microbiology annual report was issued. Microbiology first appeared as a separate area of study in the 1988-1990 catalog.

There was also a School of Veterinary Science which began in 1910 and continued through 1923.
